My Country Of The Pelican Dreaming:

My Country of the Pelican Dreaming Grant Ngabidj, Bruce Shaw, 1981 Narrative account of Ngabidj's life including large amounts of information on traditional law and social organisation relationship to land location and relationships between Gadjerong Miriwong Wunambal Gidja Ngarinman Djaru Murinbata Yilngali Garamau Wadjagidj Malak tribal groups naming totems conception kinship marriage initiation station life and stock work violent conflicts with whites Forrest River massacre relations with police food hunting shelters didgeridoo legends cosmology magic sorcery poisoning medicine ceremonies cults tribal law executions fights and social control revival of traditional law introduction by Shaw with historical notes comments on the narrative and on Aboriginal English glossary Aboriginal Australia Colin Bourke, Eleanor Bourke, William Howell Edwards, 1998 With an analysis of the traditional colonial and contemporary experiences of indigenous Australians this study examines various facets of the lives of Aboriginal Australians and shows how their struggles enrich the Australian community as a whole Insightful and engaging this reference presents an investigation on the continual struggle facing Aboriginals to maintain a strong identity and heritage while actively participating in and contributing to the modern world The Archaeology of Difference Anne Clarke, Robin Torrence, 2003-09-02 The Archaeology of Difference presents a new and radically different perspective on the archaeology of cross cultural contact and engagement The authors move away from acculturation or domination and resistance and concentrate on interaction and negotiation by using a wide variety of case studies which take a crucially indigenous rather than colonial standpoint Time, Religion and History William Gallois, 2014-06-11 What is time How does our sense of time lead us to approach the world How did the peoples of the past view time This book answers these questions through an investigation of the cultures of time in Christianity Islam Buddhism Judaism and the Australian Dreamtime It argues that our contemporary world is blind as to the significance and complexity of time preferring to believe that time is natural and unchanging This is of critical importance to historians since the base matter of their study is time yet there is almost no theoretical literature on time in history This book offers the first detailed historiographical study of the centrality of time to human cultures It sets out the complex ways in which ideas of time developed in the major world religions and the manner in which such conceptions led people both to live in ways very different to our contemporary world and to make very different kinds of histories It goes on to argue that modern scientific descriptions of time such as Einsteins Theory of Relativity lie much closer to the complex understandings of time in religions such as Christianity than they do to our common sense notions of time which are centred on progress through a past present and future White Politics and Black Australians Scott Bennett, 2020-09-02 Today whichever party is in power Aboriginal issues are very much part of the national agenda No account of the nature of Australian politics or discussion of the future of Australian society can be complete without consideration of the Aboriginal interest Citizens whatever their political preferences are learning that the Aboriginal demand for a full role in society has a profound impact on public life In

White Politics and Black Australians Scott Bennett coolly and dispassionately describes how the aspirations of Aboriginal Australians are expressed through a political system designed first and foremost for the white majority Mabo Wik Native Title Stolen Generation these are just some of the issues discussed here In a field so often characterised by rhetoric rather than analysis here is an account which acknowledges the day to day reality of political contest Hidden Histories Deborah Bird Rose,1991 Filled with stories of massacres and murders of working life on cattle stations of friendships and foes of bureaucratic machinations and the individual struggles of Aboriginal Australians this book unleashes the concealed and hidden past Life Lived Like a Story Julie Cruikshank,1992 There is pure gold here for those who want to understand the rules of the old ways The book has a convincing sureness an intensity which cannot be denied a strong sense of family Candidly and often with sly humour the three women discuss early white Indian relations the Klondike gold rush the epidemics the starvation the healthy and wealthy times and building of the Alaska Highway Integrity is here and wisdom There is no doubting the authenticity of the voices As women they had power and they used it wisely and through their words and Cruikshank s skills you will change your mind if you think the anthropological approach to oral history can only be dull Barry Broadfoot Toronto Globe and Mail The Meat Question Josh Berson,2019-10-22 A provocative argument that eating meat is not what made humans human and that the future is not necessarily carnivorous Humans are eating more meat than ever Despite ubiquitous Sweetgreen franchises and the example set by celebrity vegans demand for meat is projected to grow at twice the rate of demand for plant based foods over the next thirty years Between 1960 and 2010 per capita meat consumption in the developing world more than doubled in China meat consumption grew ninefold It has even been claimed that meat made us human that our disproportionately large human brains evolved because our early human ancestors ate meat In The Meat Question Josh Berson argues that not only did meat not make us human but the contemporary increase in demand for meat is driven as much by economic insecurity as by affluence Considering the full sweep of meat s history Berson concludes provocatively that the future is not necessarily carnivorous Berson an anthropologist and historian argues that we have the relationship between biology and capitalism backward We may associate meat eating with wealth but in fact meat eating is a sign of poverty cheap meat hunger killing easy to prepare eaten on the go enables a capitalism defined by inequality To answer the meat question says Berson we need to think about meat eating in a way that goes beyond Paleo diets and PETA protests to address the deeply entwined economic and political lives of humans and animals past present and future Social Anthropology and Australian Aboriginal Studies Robert Tonks,Ronald Berndt,1988-11 This volume summaries major developments in the social anthropology of Aboriginal studies in the 1960s 80s It is valuable as an overview of five important and interrelated topics economy kinship gender religion and law It also contains stimulating comment and criticism and raised important issues for future research as well as current debate in Aboriginal studies Governing Savages Andrew Markus,2020-07-31 In 1928 after a white man was killed a punitive party mounted a series of attacks on Aborigines northwest of Alice Springs The party's leader admitted that 31 Aborigines were killed One missionary in the area put the toll at 70 another at as many as 100 Since 1911 the administration of the Northern Territory had been the direct responsibility of the Commonwealth In placing this event and others within the context of policies pursued by the national government Governing Savages reveals how policies of brutality and calculated neglect bequeathed a bitter legacy to subsequent generations Circulating Cultures Amanda Harris,2014-12-18

Circulating Cultures is an edited book about the transformation of cultural materials through the Australian landscape The book explores cultural circulation exchange and transit through events such as the geographical movement of song series across the Kimberley and Arnhem Land the transformation of Australian Aboriginal dance in the hands of an American choreographer and the indigenisation of symbolic meanings in heavy metal music Circulating Cultures crosses disciplinary boundaries with contributions from historians musicologists linguists and dance historians to depict shifts of cultural materials through time place and interventions from people It looks at the way Indigenous and non Indigenous performing arts have changed through intercultural influence and collaboration Dislocating the Frontier Deborah Bird Rose,Richard Davis,2006-03-01 The frontier is one of the most pervasive concepts underlying the production of national identity in Australia Recently it has become a highly contested domain in which visions of nationhood are argued out through analysis of frontier conflict DISLOCATING THE FRONTIER departs from this contestation and takes a critical approach to the frontier imagination in Australia The authors of this book work with frontier theory in comparative and unsettling modes The essays reveal diverse aspects of frontier images and dreams as manifested in performance decolonising domains language and cross cultural encounters Indigenous Biography and Autobiography Peter Read,Frances Peters-Little,Anna Haebich,2008-12-01

In this absorbing collection of papers Aboriginal Maori Dalit and western scholars discuss and analyse the difficulties they have faced in writing Indigenous biographies and autobiographies The issues range from balancing the demands of western and non western scholarship through writing about a family that refuses to acknowledge its identity to considering a community demand not to write anything at all The collection also presents some state of the art issues in teaching Indigenous Studies based on auto biography in Austria Spain and Italy A Companion to the Works of Kim Scott Belinda Wheeler,2016 Notes on the Contributors Index Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly,2013-12-04 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Our Heart Is the Land Bruce Shaw,1995-11 This collection of Aboriginal life histories provides a glimpse of a world about which little has been published previously Focusing on themes such as religious life living off the land Dreamings and missions and using the voices of men and women living in and around the Lake Eyre Basin today Shaw recorded a history of oppression and deprivation disease and exploitation but also celebrates the survival of a rich culture and the growth of political awareness and community self management 'Every Mother's Son is Guilty' Chris Owen,2016 This is a marvellous contribution by Chris Owen to the understanding of the role the Western Australian police force played in the colonial expansion into the Kimberley district of Western Australia Senator Patrick Dodson Yawuru Elder Chris Owen provides a compelling account of policing in the Kimberley district from 1882 when police were established in the district until 1905 when Dr Walter Roth s controversial Royal Commission into the treatment of Aboriginal people was released Owen s achievement is to take elements of all the pre existing historiography and test them against a rigorous archival investigation In doing so a fuller understanding of the complex social economic and political changes occurring in Western Australia during the period are exposed The policing of Aboriginal people changed from one of protection under law to one of punishment and control The subsequent violence of colonial settlement and the associated policing and criminal justice system that developed often of questionable legality was what Royal Commissioner Roth termed a brutal and outrageous state of affairs Every Mother s Son is Guilty is a significant contribution to Australian and colonial criminal justice history Subject History Aboriginal Studies Criminal Justice policing

Entangled Subjects Michèle Grossman,2013 Indigenous Australian cultures were long known to the world mainly from the writing of anthropologists ethnographers historians missionaries and others Indigenous Australians themselves have worked across a range of genres to challenge and reconfigure this textual legacy so that they are now strongly represented through their own life narratives of identity history politics and culture Even as Indigenous authored texts have opened up new horizons of engagement with Aboriginal knowledge and representation however the textual politics of some of these narratives particularly when cross culturally produced or edited can remain haunted by colonially grounded assumptions about orality and literacy Through an examination of key moments in the theorizing of orality and literacy and key texts in cross culturally produced Indigenous life writing Entangled Subjects explores how some of these works can sustain rather than trouble the frontier zone established by modernity in relation to talk and text Yet contemporary Indigenous vernaculars offer radical new approaches to how we might move beyond the orality literacy frontier and how modernity and the a modern are Productively entangled in the process The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby,2000-08-21 An indispensable reference for the study of Australian literature
