Historical Dictionary of the Financial System in China Lawrence R. Sullivan, Nancy Liu-Sullivan, 2024-10-21 Major themes in the history of finance in China reflect the persistent tension between a powerful state guiding the economy versus vibrant market forces operating according to basic commercial principles. Included is the continuity and discontinuity of financial developments in imperial and modern history, creation of a modern banking system beginning in the late nineteenth century and emergence of complex and sophisticated financial institutions and products since the introduction of economic reforms in the People's Republic of China in 1978-1979. The Historical Dictionary of the Financial System in China contains a chronology, an introduction and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has more than 300 cross-referenced entries on important financiers, entrepreneurs and government officials involved in finance, large state-owned banks, SOBs, state-owned enterprises, SOEs, hedge funds, exchange-traded funds and asset management companies. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Chinese financial system.

Manager Empowerment in China Ray Yep, 2003-12-08 Institutional changes in rural China caused by the economic reforms of the post-Mao era have led to a new pattern of state-society interaction in the rural polity. Central to this is the spectacular rise of a group of managerial elites. Contrary to economic predictors, this has been accompanied by the development of an interdependence between these managers and the state. This book provides an analysis of the new state-society relationship and demonstrates the complexity and fluidity involved in institutional development and market transformation.
