Delgado, Stephen M. Hart, Randal Johnson, 2017-03-14 A Companion to Latin American Cinema offers a wide ranging collection of newly commissioned essays and interviews that explore the ways in which Latin American cinema has established itself on the international film scene in the twenty first century Features contributions from international critics historians and scholars along with interviews with acclaimed Latin American film directors Includes essays on the Latin American film industry as well as the interactions between TV and documentary production with feature film culture Covers several up and coming regions of film activity such as nations in Central America Offers novel insights into Latin American cinema based on new methodologies such as the quantitative approach and essays contributed by practitioners as well as theorists The Sacred and the Cinema Sheila J. Nayar, 2012-03-29 For more than half a century now scholars have debated over what comprises a genuinely religious film one that evinces an authentic manifestation of the sacred Often these scholars do so by pitting the successful films against those which propagate an inauthentic spiritual experience with the biblical spectacular serving as their most notorious candidate This book argues that what makes a filmic manifestation of the sacred true or authentic may say more about a spectator or critic s particular way of knowing as influenced by alphabetic literacy than it does about the aesthetic or philosophical and sometimes even faith based dimensions of the sacred onscreen Engaging with everything from Hollywood religious spectacles Hindu mythologicals and an international array of films revered for their transcendental style The Sacred and the Cinema unveils the epistemic pressures at the heart of engaging with the sacred onscreen The book also provides a valuable summation of the history of the sacred as a field of study particularly as that field intersects with film European Art Cinema John White, 2016-10-14 European art cinema includes some of the most famous films in cinema history It is elite filmmaking that stands in direct opposition to popular cinema and yet it also has an intimate relationship with Hollywood This guidebook sketches successive phases of art cinema in Europe from its early beginnings of putting Shakespeare s plays on the screen through movements such as Expressionism and Surrealism to the New Waves of the 1960s and more recent incarnations like Dogme 95 Using film examples John White examines basic critical approaches to art cinema such as semiotics and auteur theory as well as addressing recurring themes and ideas such as existentialism and Christian belief The different levels of political commitment and social criticism which appear in many of these films are also discussed The book includes case studies of eight representative films The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Wiene 1920 Earth

Medievalism Louise D'Arcens, 2014 The role of laughter and humour in the postmedieval citation interpretation or recreation of the middle ages has hitherto received little attention a gap in scholarship which this book aims to fill Examining a wide range of comic texts and practices across several centuries from Don Quixote and early Chaucerian modernisation through to Victorian theatre the Monty Python films television and the experience of visiting sites of heritage tourism such as the Jorvik Viking Museum at York it identifies what has been perceived as uniquely funny about the Middle Ages in different times and places and how this has influenced ideas not just about the medieval but also about modernity Tracing the development and permutations of its various registers including satire parody irony camp wit jokes and farce the author offers fresh and amusing insight into comic medievalism as a vehicle for critical commentary on the present as well as the past and shows that for as long as there has been medievalism people have laughed at and with the middle ages Louise D Arcens is Associate Professor in English Literatures at the University of Wollongong The Eisenstein Universe Ian Christie, Julia Vassilieva, 2021-04-22 Over the decades since he was first hailed by critics and filmmakers around the world Sergei Eisenstein has assumed many identities Originally cast as a prophet of revolution and the maestro of montage and later seen as both a victim of and apologist for Stalin's tyranny the scale and impact of Eisenstein's legacy has continued to grow If early research on Eisenstein focused on his directorial work from the legendary Battleship Potemkin and October to the still controversial Ivan the Terrible with time scholars have discovered many other aspects of his multifarious output In recent years multimedia exhibitions access to his vast archive of drawings and publication of his previously censored theoretical writings have cast Eisenstein in a new light Deeply engaged with some of the leading thinkers and artists of his own time Eisenstein remains a focus for many of their successors contested as well as revered Over half a century since his death in 1948 an ambitious treatise that he hoped would be his major legacy Method has finally been published Eisenstein's lifelong search for an underlying unity that would link archaic art with film's modernity individuals with their historic communities and humans as a species with the universe may have more appeal than ever today And among his many thwarted film projects those set in Mexico and what were once the Soviet Central Asian republics reveal complex and still intriguing realms of speculation In this ground breaking collection sixteen international scholars explore Eisenstein's prescient engagement with aesthetics anthropology and psychology his roots in diverse philosophical traditions and his gender politics What emerges has surprising relevance to contemporary media archaeology intermediality cognitive science eco criticism and queer studies as well as confirming Eisenstein's prestige within present day film and audiovisual media

Reel Spirituality Robert K. Johnston, 2006-12 A comprehensive study of theology and film that explores how the Christian faith is portrayed in film throughout history
