Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context from beyond the Cyclades Marisa Marthari, Colin Renfrew, Michael J. Boyd, 2019-12-31 This second volume on Early Cycladic and Cycladicising sculptures found in the Aegean examines finds from mainland Greece along with the rarer items from the north and east Aegean with the exception of those discovered in the Cyclades covered in the preceding volume and of those found in Crete The significance of these finds is that these are the principal testimonies of the influence of the Early Bronze Age Cycladic cultures in the wider Aegean This influence is shown both by the export of sculptures produced in the Cyclades and made of Cycladic marble and of their imitations produced elsewhere in the Aegean usually of local marble They hold the key therefore to the cultural interactions developing at this time the so called international spirit manifest particularly during the Aegean Early Bronze II period This was the time when the foundations of early Aegean civilisation were being laid and the material documented is thus of considerable significance

The volume is divided into sections wherein contributions examine finds and their archaeological social and economic contexts from specific regions It concludes with an overview of the significance and role of these objects in Early Bronze Age societies of the Aegean and eastern Mediterranean region This will be the first time that this material has been systematically gathered together Highly illustrated it follows and builds on the successful preceding volume Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context Oxbow 2016

Greek Art and Aesthetics in the Fourth Century B.C. William A. P. Childs, 2018-04-10 Greek Art and Aesthetics in the Fourth Century B C analyzes the broad character of art produced during this period providing in depth analysis of and commentary on many of its most notable examples of sculpture and painting Taking into consideration developments in style and subject matter and elucidating political religious and intellectual context William A P Childs argues that Greek art in this era was a natural outgrowth of the high classical period and focused on developing the rudiments of individual expression that became the hallmark of the classical in the fifth century As Childs shows in many respects the art of this period corresponds with the philosophical inquiry by Plato and his contemporaries into the nature of art and speaks to the contemporaneous sense of insecurity and renewed religious devotion Delving into formal and iconographic developments in sculpture and painting Childs examines how the sensitive expressive quality of these works seamlessly links the classical and Hellenistic periods with no appreciable rupture in the continuous exploration of the human condition Another overarching theme concerns the nature of style as a concept of expression an issue that becomes more important given the increasingly multiple styles and functions of fourth century Greek art Childs also shows how the color and form of works suggested the unseen and revealed the profound character of individuals and the physical world
