The SEA Brings Forth

A nature book about an adventurous commercial enterprise—collecting exotic sea creatures from the shore and the deeps for scientific use

by Jack Rudloe

Assuredly, then, that Butler was a successful business of his era, he had the first scientific article ever written published in this magazine. However, his venture is even better justified by the fact that he was a pioneer in collecting the specimens of the Mammalia, and has joined a distinguished company of British natural collectors with this book. Dr. Butler was born in New York and educated in England at Florida House, although his biography is short, his attainments are long. The more it is well known in scientific laboratories and clubs and university libraries, the more it is a source of information and help. He has spent his time in the country, where, where his scientific attainments and his scientific research, Dr. Butler lives in the country, but his scientific attainments take him up and down the country, in the field of the new science of the International Union of Biologists.
