Casey, 1979 The Submariner's Dictionary Or Submariner's Compendium of Terms & Tar's Handbook of Naval Verbiage and Retired Guy's Re-familiarization Manual Ron Martini, 2005 Submariners are a tight knit group of men bound together by training and experience and with a language all their own That language is perhaps a little vulgar but never intentionally demeaning and a little irreverent but still worldly This work is an attempt to preserve and explain some of these curious guys who so proudly wear a shiny metal pin that looks like a strange pair of fish on their left breast This process of accumulating this new language begins in Boot Camp and is added to with every change of duty station the sailor undergoes It is heard aboard the boats and unknowingly by family members who can't understand terms like head deck and overhead and who think SOS is a distress signal

Seapower States Andrew Lambert, 2018-11-27 A fascinating geopolitical chronicle A superb survey of the perennial opportunities and risks in what Herman Melville called the watery part of the world The Wall Street Journal In this volume one of the most eminent historians of our age investigates the extraordinary success of five small maritime states Andrew Lambert author of The Challenge Britain Against America in the Naval War of 1812 winner of the prestigious Anderson Medal turns his attention to Athens Carthage Venice the Dutch Republic and Britain examining how their identities as seapowers informed their actions and enabled them to achieve success disproportionate to their size Lambert demonstrates how creating maritime identities made these states more dynamic open and inclusive than their lumbering continental rivals Only when they forgot this aspect of their identity did these nations begin to decline Recognizing that the United States and China are modern naval powers rather than seapowers is essential to understanding current affairs as well as the long term trends in world history This volume is a highly original big think analysis of five states whose success and eventual failure is a subject of enduring interest by a scholar at the top of his game An intriguing series of stories of communities thinking seriously about how to stand their own ground when outpowered how to do so in ways that are consistent with their values and sometimes how to negotiate the descent from being a great power when the cards just aren't in their favor any more These are timely questions Times Higher Education Supplement Lambert is without a doubt the most insightful naval historian writing today The Times
