Das Archiv des Silwa-Tessup Diana Stein, Gernot Wilhelm, 1993 Gordion Seals and Sealings Elspeth Dusinberre, 2005-11-21 Accompanying CD ROM contains additional figures accompanying the volume disc label The Archaeomusicology of the Ancient Near East Richard J. Dumbrill, 2005 This volume is a massive leap forward over any previous synthesis of the subject and includes at the very minimum so much information that its academic and scientific value is self evident The freshness and profundity of Dumbrill's approach to the subject exceeds anything attempted before The mythology of ancient Mesopotamia proves readable as tonal allegory when its numerology is decoded as tuning theory By the third millennium BC both pentatonic and heptatonic tunings were quantified throughout the entire 12 tone gamut Richard Dumbrill has documented the massive empirical experience with strings and pipes that makes this early musicalization of the universe believable The volume consists in 4 parts with foreword by Prof Ernest McClain The first is about the decipherment translation and interpretation of the few theoretical cuneiform texts dating from the Old Babylonian period about 2000 BC to Neo Assyrian up to the mid first millennium BC Dumbrill undertakes comparative analyses and criticism of various interpretations having preceded his own and introduces new material The second part is about the Hurrian hymns the earliest music ever written circa 1400 BC and are produced in their integrality Attempts to the interpretation of Hymn H 6 are compared and followed by Dumbrill's methodology and interpretation Each fragment of the collection is analyzed separately The part concludes with statistical analyses attempting at the reconstruction of some Hurrian rules of composition The third part consists in the organology with relevant philology and is the largest collection of the Mesopotamian instrumentarium The last part is a unique lexicon of all known Mesopotamian terminology with quotation of texts in which the philology appears The book had been previously published under the title of The Musicology and Organology of the Ancient Near East and now appears under its new title The Royal City of Susa Musée du Louvre, 1992 A rich production followed of objects for daily use ritual and luxury living finely carved in various materials or fashioned of clay Monumental sculpture was made in stone or bronze and dramatic friezes were composed of brilliantly glazed bricks Among the discoveries are tiny intricately carved cylinder seals and splendid jewelry Clay balls marked with symbols offer fascinating testimony to the very beginnings of writing clay tablets from later periods bearing inscriptions in cuneiform record political history literature business transactions and mathematical calculations A very important group of finds from Susa is made up of objects brought back as booty from conquests in Mesopotamia These works many of them the royal monuments of Akkadian and Babylonian monarchs for instance the great stele of Naram Sin are among the best known of all objects from the ancient Near East The Storm-god in the Ancient Near East Alberto Ravinell Whitney Green, 2003 Green traces these motifs through the Mesopotamian Anatolian Syrian and Levantine regions he argues that in the end Yahweh of the Bible can be identified as a storm god though certain unique characteristics came to be associated with him he was the creator of all that is created and the self existing god who needs no other

Money and the Early Greek Mind Richard Seaford, 2004-03-11 How were the Greeks of the sixth century BC able to invent philosophy and tragedy In this book Richard Seaford argues that a large part of the answer can be found in another momentous development the invention and rapid spread of coinage which produced the first ever thoroughly monetised society By transforming social relations monetisation contributed to the ideas of the universe as an impersonal system fundamental to Presocratic philosophy and of the individual alienated from his own kin and from the gods as found in tragedy

Royal Statuary of Early Dynastic Mesopotamia Gianni Marchesi, Nicolò Marchetti, 2011-06-30 The corpus of Early Dynastic figurative monuments from ancient Mesopotamia is substantial For many years establishing the chronological sequence and development of these artifacts has been a complicated and problematic task In this volume first published in Italian in 2006 and here translated revised and updated Gianni Marchesi and Nicol Marchetti provide a complete relative chronology for these remarkable objects Having established the chronological sequence through an examination of the archaeological contexts of the excavated pieces and the analysis of their inscriptions the authors then consider the significance of the changes over time in the subject matter of figurative arts noting a gradual shift from a stage in which the entire officialdom of early polities was celebrated to a stage in which the figure of the king alone becomes the main and then almost the only object of celebration Near the end of the Early Dynastic period which was a time of continual political upheaval new iconographic details were introduced in order to characterize the royal figure and a distinctive royal iconography began to be developed Starting from these observations the authors proceed to investigate the ideology of early polities in Mesopotamia and the role and functions of the king Along with a new chronology of Early Dynastic rulers and an outline of Early Dynastic history discussions of significant monuments and inscriptions are offered In addition all known inscriptions on royal statues are edited and provided with detailed commentaries First published in 2006 as La statuaria regale nella Mesopotamia Protodinastica Rome Bardi Editore Revolution and Evolution in Private Law Sarah Worthington, Andrew Robertson, Graham Virgo, 2018-01-11 The development of private law across the common law world is typically portrayed as a series of incremental steps each one delivered as a result of judges dealing with marginally different factual circumstances presented to them for determination This is said to be the common law method According to this process change might be assumed to be gradual almost imperceptible If this were true however then even Darwinian style evolution which is subject to major change inducing pressures such as the death of the dinosaurs would seem unlikely in the law and radical and revolutionary paradigms shifts perhaps impossible And yet the history of the common law is to the contrary The legal landscape is littered with quite remarkable revolutionary and evolutionary changes in the shape of the common law The essays in this volume explore some of the highlights in this fascinating revolutionary and evolutionary development of private law The contributors expose the nature of the changes undergone and their significance for the future direction of travel They identify the circumstances and the contexts which might have provided an impetus for these significant changes The essays range across all areas of private law including contract tort unjust enrichment and property No area has been immune from development That fact itself is unsurprising but an extended examination of the particular circumstances and contexts which delivered some of private law s most important developments has its own special significance for what it might indicate about the shape and the shaping of private law regimes in the future Magical Motifs in the Book of Revelation Rodney Lawrence Thomas, 2010-06-06 Rodney Thomas considers whether Revelation was written as an anti magical polemic and explores the concept and definition of magic from both modern and first century standpoints Ancient Near Eastern Cylinder Seals from the Marcopoli Collection Beatrice Teissier, 2023-11-15 The

Marcopoli Collection of ancient Near Eastern cylinder and stamp seals offers a remarkable window into the art and history of Syria and surrounding regions Established in the late 19th century by the Marcopoli family hereditary Italian consuls in Aleppo this collection is a testament to their fascination with archaeology and commitment to preserving relics of the past Under Paolo Marcopoli s stewardship the collection expanded significantly and stands today as a treasure trove of artifacts particularly rich in Syrian seals from the third and early second millennia These seals are invaluable for enhancing our understanding of Syrian glyptic art adding new layers of iconographical data and exceptional artistry to the historical record This catalogue focuses primarily on the collection s cylinder seals providing detailed descriptions and insights into their styles and iconography and classifies the seals based on established conventions The seals broad geographic origins from Syria to southern and northern Mesopotamia and potentially Iran further enrich the collection s diversity This work is essential for scholars and enthusiasts of ancient Near Eastern history and art offering a glimpse into the region s cultural heritage complete with meticulous documentation and cross references to other significant collections A forthcoming catalogue will explore the equally fascinating stamp seals of this collection This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1984
