Fiction as Survival Strategy J. Bakker, 2022-06-13 A Search for Meaning in Victorian Religion Jeffrey D. He devoted his life to solving the metaphysical mysteries of existence leading him into the world of religious philosophy that placed him in the middle of a crossroads between Victorian science, religion, and philosophy. Beginning his journey as a Spiritualist, Massey continued on a course that brought him into the Theosophical Society, eventually becoming the founding president of its British branch, going through the ranks of the Society of Psychical Research and ultimately into his final role as a Christian mystic. Engaging Crystallization in Qualitative Research Laura L. Ellingson, 2009. This is the best book I have read in quite some time. Professor Ellingson writes clearly yet artfully and in a scholarly voice that is accessible to students and faculty alike. The weaving between description and illustrative case studies takes readers through the step by step journey of crystallization as experienced and offered by Ellingson. The book is clearly grounded in philosophies of knowing and methods yet it offers practical strategies, questions, and choices for researchers. Lynn M. Harter, Ohio University.

Engaging Crystallization in Qualitative Research the first how to book to both explain and demonstrate crystallization methodology offers a framework for blending grounded theory and other social scientific analyses with creative representations of data such as narratives, poetry, and film. Author Laura L. Ellingson explores relevant epistemological questions that arise when crossing methodological boundaries, provides detailed steps for design and planning, offers guidelines for improving both social scientific and creative artistic writing, and suggests strategies for targeting publication outlets for multigenre representations. Features: Articulates the principles of crystallization and how it enables researchers to both represent multiple perspectives on a phenomenon and highlight the partial nature of all claims of truth. Breaks down the qualitative research barriers between the grounded theorists and those who favor artistic, interpretive, and creative approaches, exemplifying the possibilities for all. Demonstrates the rich possibilities for blending social scientific, creative artistic, and critical approaches to research. Provides hands on strategies that help practitioners and students collect, analyze, and represent qualitative data through crystallization. Explores ethical challenges, the political nature of research findings, and the need for social justice activism among researchers. Illustrates concepts with exemplars featuring cutting edge research in social sciences, education, and allied health. Suitable for experienced practitioners and advanced students of qualitative methods.

Publisher description When Elizabeth Marshall Thomas first arrived in Africa to live among the Kalahari San or bushmen it was 1950 she was nineteen years old and these last surviving hunter gatherers were living as humans had lived for 15 000 centuries Thomas wound up writing about their world in a seminal work The Harmless People 1959 It has never gone out of print Back then this was uncharted territory and little was known about our human origins Today our beginnings are better understood And after a lifetime of interest in the bushmen Thomas has come to see that their lifestyle reveals great hidden truths about human evolution As she displayed in her bestseller The Hidden Life of Dogs Thomas has a rare gift for giving voice to the voices we don't usually listen to and helps us see the path that we have taken in our human journey In The Old Way she shows how the skills and customs of the hunter gatherer share much in common with the survival tactics of our animal predecessors And since it is knowledge not objects that endure over time Thomas vividly brings us to see how linked we are to our origins in the animal kingdom

The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction Areti Dragas, 2014-08-31 Focusing on the figure of the storyteller this study breaks new ground in the approach to reading contemporary literature by identifying a growing interest in storytelling For the last thirty years contemporary fiction has been influenced by theoretical discourses textuality and writing Only since the rise of postcolonialism have academic critics been more overtly interested in stories where high theory frameworks are less applicable However as we move through various contemporary contexts engaging with postcolonial identities and hybridity to narratives of disability and evolutionary accounts of group and individual survival a common feature of all is the centrality of story which posits both the idea of survival and the passing on of traditions The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction closely examines this preoccupation with story and storytelling through a close reading of six contemporary international novelists that are either about actual storytellers or engage with the figure of the storyteller revealing how death of the author has given birth to the storyteller

African Philosophy in the Postmodern Era Jonathan O. Chimakonam, Edwin E. Etieyibo, 2018-05-15 This collection is about composing thought at the level of modernism and decomposing it at the postmodern level where many cocks might crow with African philosophy as a focal point It has two parts part one is titled The Journey of Reason in African Philosophy and part two is titled African Philosophy and Postmodern Thinking There are seven chapters in both parts Five of the essays are reprinted here as important selections while nine are completely new essays commissioned for this book As their titles suggest in part one African philosophy is unfolded in the manifestation of reason as embedded in modern thought while in part two it draws the effect of reason as implicated in the postmodern orientation While part one strikes at what V Y Mudimbe calls the colonising structure or the Greco European logo phallo euro centricism in thought part two bashes the excesses of modernism and partly valorises postmodernism In some chapters modernism is presented as an intellectual version of communalism characterised by the cliché our people say Our thinking is that the voice of reason is not the voice of the people but the voice of an individual The idea of this book is to open new vistas for the discipline of African philosophy African philosophy is thus presented as a disagreement discourse Without rivalry of thoughts Africa will settle for far less This gives postmodernism an important place perhaps deservedly more important than history of philosophy allocates to it It is that philosophical moment that says philosophers must cease speaking like gods in their hegemonic cultural shrines and begin to converse across borders with one another In this conversation the goal for African philosophers must not be to find final answers but to sustain the conversation which alone can extend human reason to its furthest reaches
