large The Event of Death: a Phenomenological Enquiry I. Leman-Stefanovic, 2012-12-06 Building upon the preliminary conception of Phenomenology introduced by Heidegger in section II of the Introduction to Sein und zeit I one may say that a phenomenology of death would mean to let death as that which shows itself be seen from itself in the very way in which it shows itself from itself Does this mean then that a properly phenomenological description of death may reveal to us what death as a factual event is like in the very way in which it shows itself from itself Although I cannot experience my death in order to describe it may some kind of phenomenological inference or extrapolation² be the condition for a unique and privileged revelation of what it is like to be dead There is an important element of phenomenological description which renders such an extrapolation implausible and it involves what Husserl originally called the reduction to significance or meaning It can never be true for the phenomenologist 1 Heidegger Sein und zeit p 34 e t page 58 2 Henry W Johnstone Jr thinks that while one cannot extrapolate from the experience of sleep to the experience of death it may be possible to extrapolate from the phenomenology of sleep to the phenomenology of death Cf H W Johnstone Jr Toward a Phenomenology of Death in Philosophy and Phenomenological Research Vol XXXV No 3 1975 pages 396-7 Cf

Self-Reference S.J. Bartlett, P. Suber, 2012-12-06 Self reference although a topic studied by some philosophers and known to a number of other disciplines has received comparatively little explicit attention For the most part the focus of studies of self reference has been on its logical and linguistic aspects with perhaps disproportionate emphasis placed on the reflexive paradoxes The eight volume Macmillan Encyclopedia of Philosophy for example does not contain a single entry in its index under self reference and in connection with reflexivity mentions only relations classes and sets Yet in this volume the introductory essay identifies some 75 varieties and occurrences of self reference in a wide range of disciplines and the bibliography contains more than 1 200 citations to English language works about reflexivity The contributed papers investigate a number of forms and applications of self reference and examine some of the challenges posed by its difficult temperament The editors hope that readers of this volume will gain a richer sense of the still largely unexplored frontiers of reflexivity and of the indispensability of reflexive concepts and methods to foundational inquiries in philosophy logic language and into the freedom personality and intelligence of persons An Ontology of Consciousness R. Ellis, 2013-03-09 The object of this study is to find a coherent theoretical approach to three problems which appear to interrelate in complex ways 1 What is the ontological status of consciousness 2 How can there be unconscious prereflective or self alienated consciousness And 3 Is there a self or ego formed by means of the interrelation of more elementary states of consciousness The motivation for combining such a diversity of difficult questions is that we often learn more by looking at interrelations of problems than we could by viewing them only in isolation The three questions posed here have emerged as especially problematic in the context of twentieth century philosophy 1 The question of the ontological status of consciousness The question What is consciousness is one of the most perplexing in philosophy so perplexing that many have been motivated to proceed as though consciousness did not exist If William James was speaking rhetorically when he said Consciousness does not exist 1 many behaviorists of the recent past were not 2 James meant only to imply that consciousness is not an independently existing soul substance along side physical substances He did not mean that we do not really have consciousness and he did not provide final resolution for the problem of the causal interrelations between consciousness and the physical realm e g our bodies Many recent philosophers and psychologists however try to proceed as though these problems did not exist A Course in Miracles Helen Schucman,2019-03-20 Overcoming fear and guilt is the focus of this acclaimed spiritual guide The three part approach encompasses an explanation of the course s theory exercises and a manual in a question and answer format The Shorter Catechism Robert Steel,1885 Methodism and Literature Francis A. Balthasar and Prayer Travis LaCouter,2021-12-02 This study renders an original and constructive Catholic theology of prayer drawing on the work of Hans Urs von Balthasar 1905 1988 Travis LaCouter explores the trinitarian Christological ecclesial anthropological and eschatological dimensions of prayer in Balthasar s theology and shows how these combine to give a powerful account of prayer s proper theological scope and purpose There is also a critical dimension of prayer which is arguably underdeveloped in some of Balthasar s key texts but which LaCouter shows to have significant dialogical potential with contemporary accounts of parrhesia since Foucault This approach demonstrates the centrality of prayer to Balthasar s entire theological system and does so in a way which itself constitutes an exercise in Catholic systematics This study is also distinctive for establishing a method of proceeding through Balthasar s sprawling oeuvre and the similarly vast secondary literature by arguing for three categories of texts in Balthasar s writings and separately three waves of Balthasar readers Thus this study is a resource not just for those interested in prayer but for anyone interested in reading Balthasar today
