Seaside Weymouth:

Weymouth's Seaside Heritage Allan Brodie, Colin Ellis, David Stuart, Gary Winter, 2015-04-01 With Weymouth and Portland hosting the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games sailing events the profile of the area will be raised considerably in the years leading up to the Games Weymouth's seaside history and heritage will be a focus of attention and will contribute significantly to the regeneration of the town in the coming years Weymouth has been a popular seaside resort for over 250 years Likened to Montpelier and Naples for its natural beauty and healthy climate it received the endorsement of King George III His presence helped the town to expand rapidly in the late 18th and early 19th centuries resulting in a stunning legacy of seafront terraces that continue to provide accommodation for thousands of holidaymakers each year Weymouth boasts an eclectic mix of medieval town planning harbour side industry and former military sites that have had an impact on the town's development as a seaside resort Many of the buildings associated with declining brewing and maritime industries have now been redeveloped and serve as amenities and accommodation for residents and visitors An English Heritage opinion poll in 2007 found that seventy five per cent of respondents felt that the historic character of seaside towns is what makes them beautiful and enjoyable This book describes the colourful story of Weymouth's seaside history and the buildings and open spaces that survive to tell this story It also demonstrates how the historic environment can play an important part in the future development of the town

part of the existing literature By no means were all migrants forced to leave their country by circumstances many looked forward to a better life abroad They were largely opportunists rather than victims whether financed by the state or by landlords or philanthropists or as was the case for the majority by themselves or their families This was a huge movement of people that formed part of a European exodus to the New World In placing British and Irish migration alongside each other there is recognition of the commonalities among both sets of emigrants that will surprise many readers The poor condition of labourers in 1840s Dorset and Wiltshire were akin to those found in County Cork during the Famine years British and Irish emigrants were commonly found on the same ships en route to the Americas and Australasia both settling in predominantly English speaking countries With case studies by a variety of contributors set within the broader context of current scholarship this compilation features new research on a popular subject which still resonates today It will prove particularly useful for family historians
