Study Miscellaneous projects include downtown parking and transit issues the Seattle Art Museum and the waterfront streetcar The Forging of a Black Community Quintard Taylor,1994 Asians rather than blacks were Seattle s largest racial minority until World War II Their presence limited African American employment and housing opportunities by drawing blacks into intense competition with the city s Chinese Japanese and Filipino populations Yet the virulent racism of the 1890 1940 era usually directed against blacks in urban communities was diffused among Seattle s four nonwhite groups Consequently Asians and blacks admittedly uneasy neighbors became partners in coalitions challenging racial restrictions while remaining competitors for housing and jobs Taylor explores the intersection of race and class in a city with a decidedly liberal and at times radical political culture He finds that while local blacks operated in a racial environment that allowed relatively open social interaction at the same time they were subject to restricted employment opportunities preventing rapid growth of the African American population A Century of Seattle's Business James R.
