Entranced by Story Hugh Crago, 2014-04-24 We live in a world of stories yet few of us pause to ask what stories actually are why we consume them so avidly and what they do for story makers and their audiences This book focuses on the experiences that good stories generate feelings of purposeful involvement elevation temporary loss of self vicarious emotion and relief of tension The author examines what drives writers to create stories and why readers fall under their spell why some children grow up to be writers and how the capacity for creating and comprehending stories develops from infancy right through into old age Entranced by Story applies recent research on brain function to literary examples ranging from the

Iliad and Wuthering Heights to Harold and the Purple Crayon providing a groundbreaking exploration of the biological and neurological basis of the literary experience Blending research theory and biographical anecdote the author shows how it is the unique structure of the human brain with its layering of sophisticated cognitive capacities upon archaic emotion driven functions which best explains the mystery of story Georgia Women Kathleen Ann Clark, Ann Short Chirhart, 2014-07-15

Women were leading actors in twentieth century developments in Georgia yet most histories minimize their contributions The essays in the second volume of Georgia Women edited by Ann Short Chirhart and Kathleen Ann Clark vividly portray a wide array of Georgia women who played an important role in the state s history from little known Progressive Era activists to famous present day figures such as Pulitzer Prize winning author Alice Walker and former First Lady Rosalynn Carter Georgia women were instrumental to state and national politics even before they achieved suffrage and as essays on Lillian Smith Frances Pauley Coretta Scott King and others demonstrate they played a key role in twentieth century struggles over civil rights gender equality and the proper size and reach of government Georgia women s contributions have been wide ranging in the arena of arts and culture and include the works of renowned blues singer Gertrude Ma Rainey and such nationally prominent literary figures as Margaret Mitchell Carson McCullers and Flannery O Connor as well as Walker While many of the volume s essays take a fresh look at relatively well known figures readers will also have the opportunity to discover women who were vital to Georgia s history yet remain relatively obscure today such as Atlanta educator and activist Lugenia Burns Hope World War II aviator Hazel Raines entrepreneur and carpet manufacturer Catherine Evans Whitener and rural activist and author Vara A Majette Collectively the life stories portrayed in this volume deepen our understanding of the multifaceted history of not only Georgia women but also the state itself Disarming the Nation Elizabeth Young, 1999-12-15

In a study that will radically shift our understanding of Civil War literature Elizabeth Young shows that American women writers have been profoundly influenced by the Civil War and that in turn their works have contributed powerfully to conceptions of the war and its aftermath Offering fascinating reassessments of works by white writers such as Harriet Beecher Stowe Louisa May Alcott and Margaret Mitchell and African American writers including Elizabeth Keckley Frances Harper and Margaret Walker Young also highlights crucial but lesser known texts such as the memoirs of women who masqueraded as soldiers In each case she explores the interdependence of gender with issues of race sexuality region and nation Combining literary analysis cultural history and feminist theory Disarming the Nation argues that the Civil War functioned in women s writings to connect female bodies with the body politic Women writers used the idea of civil war as a metaphor to represent struggles between and within women including struggles against the cultural prescriptions of civility At the same time these writers also reimagined the nation itself foregrounding women in their visions of America at war and in peace In a substantial afterword Young shows how contemporary black and white women including those who crossdress in Civil War reenactments continue to reshape the meanings of the war in ways startlingly similar to their nineteenth century counterparts Learned witty and accessible Disarming the Nation provides fresh and compelling perspectives on the Civil War women s writing and the many unresolved civil wars within American culture today

Irish Catholic Writers and the Invention of the American South Bryan Giemza, 2013-07-08 In this expansive study Bryan Giemza recovers a neglected subculture and retrieves a missing chapter of Irish Catholic heritage by canvassing the literature of American Irish writers from the U S South Giemza offers a defining new view of Irish American authors and their interrelationships within both transatlantic and ethnic regional contexts From the first Irish American novel published in Winchester Virginia in 1817 Giemza investigates a cast of nineteenth century writers contending with the turbulence of their time writers influenced by both American and Irish revolutions Additionally he considers dramatists and propagandists of the Civil War and Lost Cause memoirists who emerged in its wake Some familiar names reemerge in an Irish context including Joel Chandler Harris Lafcadio Hearn and Kate O Flaherty Chopin Giemza also examines the works of twentieth century southern Irish writers such as Margaret Mitchell John Kennedy Toole Flannery O Connor Pat Conroy Anne Rice Valerie Sayers and Cormac McCarthy For each author Giemza traces the influences of Catholicism as it shaped both faith and ethnic identity pointing to shared sensibilities and contradictions Flannery O Connor for example resisted identification as an Irish American while Cormac McCarthy described by some as anti Catholic continues a dialogue with the Church from which he distanced himself Giemza draws on many never before seen documents including authorized material from the correspondence of Cormac McCarthy interviews from the Irish community of Flannery O Connor s native Savannah Georgia and Giemza s own correspondence with writers such as Valerie Sayers and Anne Rice This lively literary history prompts a new understanding of how the Irish in the region helped invent a regional mythos an enduring literature and a national image
