Merchants Of Drink Transnational Control Of World Beverages:

Merchants of Drink Frederick Clairmonte, John Cavanagh, 1988      The Trans-Oceanic Marketing Channel Erdener Kaynak, 2014-05-01 If you feel you have a disjointed or unbalanced view of the global system of demand and supply you are probably correct Most studies leave out a very important part of the system the marketing channel That is why Laurens van der Laan developed and wrote this book The Trans Oceanic Marketing Channel To help you understand what happens to export crops such as cocoa coffee cotton groundnuts tea and tobacco between their country of origin and consumer markets this book analyzes the roles of different actors in trans oceanic trade inherent differences between world markets export diversification policies and the commercial and institutional forces at play The Trans Oceanic Marketing Channel will give you a strong background in marketing channel concepts and because of its focus on the exporter rather than on the government it will provide you with an excellent model for microanalysis As you read about the special features of trans oceanic trade you will also learn about trade associations and their role in shaping world markets for trans oceanic crops the uneasy relationship between exporters and shipping companies the selling conduct of agricultural exporters in Africa the tendency of actors in Africa to accelerate the trans oceanic product flow the effectiveness of export marketing boards as channel leaders private enterprise the chief agent of development the theory of exporter preference The Trans Oceanic Marketing Channel invites policymakers international businessmen professors and students to examine the opportunities problems and policies that confront the various players in trans oceanic trade especially the exporters As the book discusses the divergent institutional arrangements in the world markets for agricultural products and their differential effect on African exports you will become keenly aware of how vertical marketing systems differ from conventional marketing channels No other book brings together the three fundamental sections of export agriculture the country of production the channel through which the products flow and the country of destination to provide you with a complete understanding of trans oceanic marketing      Coca-Globalization R. Foster, 2008-02-04 This book explores globalization through a historical and anthropological study of how familiar soft drinks such as Coke and Pepsi became valued as more than mere commodities Foster discusses the transnational operations of soft drink companies and in particular the marketing of soft drinks in Papua New Guinea a country only recently opened up to the flow of brand name consumer goods Based on field observations and interviews as well as archival and library research this book is of interest to anyone concerned about the cultural consequences and political prospects of globalization including new forms of consumer citizenship and corporate social responsibility      Global Brands Teresa da Silva Lopes, 2007-09-24 In a world focused on science and new technology brands help to explain why several of the world s multinational corporations have little to do with either Rather they are old firms with little critical investment in patents or copyrights For these firms the critical intellectual property is trademarks Global Brands first published in 2007 explains how the world s largest multinationals in alcoholic beverages achieved global leadership considers the predominant corporate governance structures for such firms and looks at why these firms form alliances with direct competitors Brands also determine the waves of mergers and acquisitions in the beverage industry Global Brands contrasts with existing studies by providing a new dimension to the literature on the growth of multinationals through the focus on brands using an institutional and evolutionary approach based on original and published sources about the industry and the firms

For God, Country, and Coca-Cola Mark Pendergrast, 2000-03-17 An illustrated history of the Coca Cola soft drink company

A Thirst for Empire Erika Rappaport, 2017-08-28 How the global tea industry influenced the international economy and the rise of mass consumerism Tea has been one of the most popular commodities in the world Over centuries profits from its growth and sales funded wars and fueled colonization and its cultivation brought about massive changes in land use labor systems market practices and social hierarchies the effects of which are with us even today A Thirst for Empire takes a vast and in depth historical look at how men and women through the tea industry in Europe Asia North America and Africa transformed global tastes and habits and in the process created our modern consumer society As Erika Rappaport shows between the seventeenth and twentieth centuries the boundaries of the tea industry and the British Empire overlapped but were never identical and she highlights the economic political and cultural forces that enabled the British Empire to dominate but never entirely control the worldwide production trade and consumption of tea Rappaport delves into how Europeans adopted appropriated and altered Chinese tea culture to build a widespread demand for tea in Britain and other global markets and a plantation based economy in South Asia and Africa Tea was among the earliest colonial industries in which merchants planters promoters and retailers used imperial resources to pay for global advertising and political lobbying The commercial model that tea inspired still exists and is vital for understanding how politics and publicity influence the international economy An expansive and original global history of imperial tea A Thirst for Empire demonstrates the ways that this fluid and powerful enterprise helped shape the contemporary world

Rise and Demise of Commodity Agreements Marcelo Raffaelli, 1995-01-01 A detailed examination is provided of the circumstances which led to the negotiation of each of the international commodity agreements with economic provision included since the end of World War II How such agreements operated and the causes for difficulties in their implementation and the reasons for their failure is also discussed It concentrates on four specific agreements cocoa coffee sugar and tin and as a contrast to these commodities a chapter is dedicated to OPEC Written by an insider who was actually present at the creation a first hand view is given of how commodity agreements are actually arrived at during the course of negotiation and implementation

Global Dreams Richard J. Barnett, John Cavanagh, 1995-03 On globalization and world economy

Global Capital and Peripheral Labour Ravi Raman, 2010-01-21 This book presents a historical account of plantations in India in the context of the modern world economy It brings history up to the present thereby showing how history can assist in explaining contemporary conditions and trends The author focuses on labour and economic development problems and uses the World

Systems theory so as to demonstrate the practical utility of the theory and its limitations as a guide to historical research Based on extensive archival research the book interprets the dynamics of plantation capitalism by focusing on the work life and struggle of the dalits on plantations in colonial and post colonial South India as they evolved from the mid 19th century It argues that these elements of the plantation life world were fashioned by the specific characteristics of the workers location within the capitalist world economy the then prevailing local social structure and the scheme of disciplining to which the workers were subjected to Treating the relations among various social forces the planting communities the oppressed communities dalits in India the regional and national state and the Imperial regime this book fills a gap in academic literature on capitalism economic development and globalization Materializing the Nation Robert J. Foster,2002-10-24 Foster shows us how seemingly banal activities like making a phone call chewing betel nut watching a Coke commercial may give important insights into the ways in which the nation is constructed materialized or contested Orvar L fgren author of On Holiday A History of Vacationing Why in the current era of globalization does nationality remain an important dimension of personal and collective identities In Materializing the Nation Robert J Foster argues that the contested process of nation making in Papua New Guinea unfolds not only through organized politics but also through mundane engagements with commodities and mass media He offers a thoughtful critique of recent approaches to nationalism and consumption and an ethnographic perspective on constructs of the nation found in official policy documents letters to the editor school textbooks song lyrics advertisements and other materials This volume will appeal to readers interested in the links among nationalism consumption and media in Melanesia and elsewhere Exploring Post-Development Aram Ziai,2007-05-07 Post development has been a major debate in the field of north south relations at the beginning of the twenty first century here contributors explore the limitations of this theory and practice using empirical studies of movements and communities globally Citizen Coke Bartow J. Elmore,2014-10-13 Citizen Coke demonstrate s a complete lack of understanding about the Coca Cola system past and present Ted Ryan the Coca Cola Company By examining the real thing ingredient by ingredient this brilliant history shows how Coke used a strategy of outsourcing and leveraged free public resources market muscle and lobbying power to build a global empire on the sale of sugary water Coke became a giant in a world of abundance but is now embattled in a world of scarcity its products straining global resources and fueling crises in public health

Industrialization & Developmen Ray Kiely,2005-06-23 First published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Adding Value (RLE Marketing) Geoffrey G. Jones,Nicholas J. Morgan,2014-09-19 An international group of scholars drawn from the United States Europe and Australia and from a number of academic disciplines explores the history of marketing in the food and drink industries focusing on the meaning of brands the ways in which they add value and the surrounding business strategies Food-processing Machinery, Including Packaging Techniques United Nations. Economic Commission for Europe,1991 Transnational Companies, 19th-20th Centuries

Hubert Bonin, European Business History Association, 2002 Transnational Companies 19th 20th centuries gathers texts which were presented during the fourth convention of the European Business History Association in Bordeaux in September 2000 Most of them come from matured and well known business historians or business schools specialists but a bunch of texts were provided too by junior researchers who found thus a way to promote their brand new inquiries Most branches are studied here either heavy industries or agrobusiness and textile but specific areas are well approached luxury firms wine and beverages companies for instance The focus of Transnational Companies is to scrutinize the emergence of international policies among enterprises whether through exports strategies or through direct investments in foreign countries along branches ways of development entrepreneurial undertakings or competition s incentives The book assesses too the move from internationalisation to transnationalisation in the interwar and mostly since the 1960s owing to several case studies here presented business schools and economic historians will be able to foster tuitions and seminars with fresh material Lest several papers are earmarked to the argument about globalisation that is the restructuring of firms organisation towards internationalised internal divisions since the 1970s 1980s as the book does cover the very last years of the 20th century
