Meta Talk:

Socializing Intelligence Through Academic Talk and Dialogue Lauren Resnick, Christa Asterhan, Sherice Clarke, 2015-04-19 Socializing Intelligence Through Academic Talk and Dialogue focuses on a fast growing topic in education research Over the course of 34 chapters the contributors discuss theories and case studies that shed light on the effects of dialogic participation in and outside the classroom This rich interdisciplinary endeavor will appeal to scholars and researchers in education and many related disciplines including learning and cognitive sciences educational psychology instructional science and linguistics as well as to teachers curriculum designers and educational policy makers Meta-talk

Gerard I. Nierenberg, Henry H. Calero, 1981 Speaking of Crime Patricia E. O'Connor, 2000-01-01 Speaking of Crime explores how inmates speak of their lives and in particular how they speak of crime What is the power of speech for prisoners What do their uses of pronouns and choices of verbs reveal about them their experiences of violence their relationships with other prisoners and their likelihood for change In this fascinating book Patricia E O Connor probes beneath the surface of prison speech by examining over one hundred taped accounts of narratives of violence made by African American inmates of a U S maximum security prison The inmates manner of speaking about their lives and acts of violence not just what they talk about but how they talk about it supplies important clues to their senses of identity and feelings of agency The use of second person pronouns when speaking about themselves and a reliance on distinctive verbal devices such as irony and constructed dialogue provide important insights into the way prisoners see their world and help condition how they interact with it

Metadiscourse Ken Hyland, 2018-10-18 First released in 2005 Ken Hyland s Metadiscourse has become a canonical account of how language is used in written communication Metadiscourse is defined as the ways that writers reflect on their texts to refer to themselves their readers or the text itself It is a key resource in language as it allows the writer to engage with readers in familiar and expected ways and as such it is an important tool for students of academic writing in both the L1 and L2 context This book achieves for main goals to provide an accessible introduction to metadiscourse discussing its role and importance in written communication and reviewing current thinking on the topic to explore examples of metadiscourse in a range of texts from business academic journalistic and student writing to offer a new theory of metadiscourse to show the relevance of this theory to students academics and language teachers The book shows how writers use the devices of metadiscourse to adjust the level of personality in their texts to offer a representation of themselves and their arguments It shows how these tools help the reader organise interpret and evaluate the information presented in the text Knowing how to identify metadiscourse as a reader is a key skill to be learnt by students of discourse analysis and this book makes this a central goal

Emotion in Dialogic Interaction Edda Weigand, 2004-01-01 This volume contains a selection of papers given at the European Science Foundation Exploratory Workshop on Emotion in Dialogic Interaction at the University of Münster in October 2002 In the literature the complex network of emotion in dialogic interaction is mostly addressed by reducing the complex and separating emotions or defining them by means of simple artificial units The innovative claim of the workshop was to analyse emotion as an integrated component of human behaviour in dialogic interaction as demonstrated by recent findings in neurology and to develop a linguistic model which is able to deal with the complex integrated whole Specific emphasis was laid on communicative means for expressing emotions and on emotional principles in dialogue Furthermore the issue of specific European principles for dealing with emotions was highlighted

Input for Instructed L2 Learners Anna Nizgorodcew, 2007-01-01 Attempts to apply relevance theory to verbal input for instructed foreign language learners This book intended for L2 teacher educators L2 teachers and teacher trainees focuses on L2 classroom discourse analysis in the light of Relevance Theory

Artificial Companion for Second Language Conversation Sviatlana Höhn, 2019-06-21 The research described in this book shows that conversation analysis can effectively model dialogue Specifically this work shows that the multidisciplinary field of communicative ICALL may greatly benefit from including Conversation Analysis As a consequence this research makes several contributions to the related research disciplines such as conversation analysis second language acquisition computer mediated communication artificial intelligence and dialogue systems The book will be of value for researchers and engineers in the areas of computational linguistics intelligent assistants and conversational interfaces

Discourse Markers Deborah Schiffrin, 1987 Discourse markers the particles oh well now then you know and I mean and the connectives so because and but and or perform important functions in conversation Dr Schiffrin's approach is firmly interdisciplinary within linguistics and sociology and her rigorous analysis clearly demonstrates that neither the markers nor the discourse within which they function can be understood from one point of view alone but only as an integration of structural semantic pragmatic and social factors The core of the book is a comparative analysis of markers within conversational discourse collected by Dr Schiffrin during sociolinguistic fieldwork The study concludes that markers provide contextual coordinates which aid in the production and interpretation of coherent conversation at both local and global levels of organization It raises a wide range of theoretical and methodological issues important to discourse analysis including the relationship between meaning and use the role of qualitative and quantitative analyses and the insights it offers will be of particular value to readers confronting the very substantial problems presented by the search for a model of discourse which is based on what people actually say mean and do with words in everyday social interaction

Assessing Listening for Chinese English Learners Pan Zhixin, 2016-12-08 This book reports in detail the newly developed Communicative Listening Comprehension Test CLCT for the National College

English Test CET of China Following the principles of communicative testing in general and test construction approach proposed by Bachman and Palmer 1996 in particular the project develops CLCT for CET 4 and CET 6 The research begins with the construction of frameworks of listening task characteristics and communicative listening ability Subsequently based on a survey of Chinese college students English listening needs and an analysis of listening tasks in influential English listening course books and public tests CLCT 4 and CLCT 6 test specifications are developed Finally sample papers are produced and a series of posteriori studies are conducted to examine the difficulty and usefulness of the newly developed notes completion task type in two CLCT tests As an example of successful integration of communicative testing theories and test construction practice this research provides valuable insights into listening test development for other large scale tests

Models of Communication Mats Bergman, Kęstas Kirtiklis, Johan Siebers, 2019-10-16 Models of Communication offers a timely reassessment of the significance of modelling in media and communication studies From a rich variety of different perspectives the collected essays explore the past present and future uses of communication models in ordinary discourses concerning communication as well as in academic research This book challenges received views of communication models and opens up new paths of inquiry for communication research By zooming in on the manifestations and purposes of modelling in ordinary discourses on communication as well as in theoretical expositions the essays collected in this volume cast new light on the problems and prospects of models crafted for the benefit of communication inquiry Complementing earlier studies of models of communication the volume digs deep into fundamental epistemological and ontological questions concerning modelling in the communication disciplines but it also presents several novel models that promise to be of practical use in empirical studies of media and communication The book is intended for communication scholars and students of media and will also be of interest for related disciplines in the humanities and the social sciences

The Polyphony of English Studies Alexander Onysko, Eva-Maria Graf, Werner Delanoy, Nikola Dobric, Günther Sigott, 2017-09-18 This volume in honor of Allan James collects a range of articles from different domains of English studies as a token of Allan James s academic interests and his integrative approach to the field The contributions in linguistics encompass a spectrum of topics including world Englishes professional discourse language acquisition collocation translation and multilingualism Cultural aspects in language teaching and in literary analysis enrich the reading and hint at Allan James Welsh and Celtic roots while also going beyond that

Talking to Learn Pauline Jones,Jennifer Hammond,2018-10-09 This book examines the place of talk in learning and the role of such talk in literacy education It builds on a strong tradition of research into the role of talk in constructing curriculum knowledge the relationship between talking and thinking and the significance of extended in depth dialogic interaction in classroom talk However it differs from tradition with its emphasis on the need to make the role of language in learning more visible and more explicit This book places particular emphasis on the relationship between dialogic pedagogy and language based approaches to learning Contributions range from discussions on educational linguistics and dialogic pedagogy as complementary perspectives to needs of students for whom English is an additional language or dialect This volume was originally published as a special issue of Research Papers in Education

The Carousel of Indignation and Outrage Arist von Schlippe,2024-07-15 Conflicts have accompanied mankind since time immemorial and for almost as long people have been trying to limit and deal with them whether as those affected by them or as professionals with more or less success For once a system of conflict has developed once negative expectation structures and with them negative self evident truths and inherent laws have developed it becomes increasingly difficult for those involved to escape them The complexity of our social world in which it is not easy for communication to find its way remains unseen A violated sense of justice misunderstandings and unfortunate attempts to correct them alternate One begins to attribute the causes of the conflict to the person It s you It s your fault and to attribute negative motives to the conflict partner You re only doing this because who in turn does the same just like a carousel that slowly gets going A number of well studied but little known psychological processes occur within us when we are in conflict Outrage at the other person grows usually unfortunately on both sides Slowly the carousel of outrage and indignation begins to spin faster and faster until The book places the various psychological mechanisms in the context of a systemic understanding of conflict and explains ways to slow down the carousel
