Metatheorizing In Sociology:

Metatheorizing in Sociology George Ritzer, 1991 Explorations in Social Theory George Ritzer, 2001-04-10 George Ritzer is one of the leading social and cultural commentators of the present day In this essential new book he considers some of the main tendencies in contemporary social theory Included here are Ritzer s latest reflections on the uses and misuses of metatheory According to Ritzer sociology is a multiparadigm science The differences and intensities of rivalries between paradigms are often very confusing for students and even for professional sociologists This book seeks to find a way out of the confusion by sketching out the lineaments of a new integrated sociological paradigm and demonstrates how this paradigm can be applied It shows the various ways in which Ritzer has developed rationalization theory to shed light on professional integration the shape of consumer culture hyperrationality and the state of sociology today Metatheorizing George Ritzer, 1992-03-02 Metaheorizing has come of age in sociology and other social science fields forming the backdrop for serious intellectual debates over agency and structure micro and macro level analysis positivism and interpretivism modernist and postmodernist thought These debates are highlighted in this focused collection of essays on metatheory and metatheorizing Contributors to this collection are among the leading figures in sociological theory and represent a wide array of theoretical camps Many of the raging debates in sociological theory are carried forward within the confines of the book Collectively the group points out the importance of building overarching theoretical models and suggests new directions for metatheoretical work Handbook of Sociological Theory Jonathan H. Turner, 2006-05-17 Sociology is experiencing what can only be described as hyperdifferentiation of theories there are now many approaches competing for attention in the intellectual arena From this perspective we should see a weeding out of theories to a small number but this is not likely to occur because each of the many theoretical perspectives has a resource base of adherents As a result theories in sociology do not compete head on with each other as much as they coexist This seminal reference work was brought together with an eye to capturing the diversity of theoretical activity in sociology specifically the forefront of theory Contributors describe what they themselves are doing right now rather than what others have done in the past The goal of this volume is to allow prominent theorists working in a variety of traditions who wouldn t usually come together to review their work The chapters in this volume represent a mix of theoretical orientations and strategies but these these theories are diverse and represent the prominent theoretical discussions in sociology today Some areas included are Section I Theoretical Methodologies and Strategies Section II The Cultural Turn in Sociological Theorizing Section III Theorizing Interaction Processes Section IV Theorizing from the Systemic and Macrolevel Section V New Directions in Evolutionary Theorizing Section VI Theorizing on Power Conflict and Change Section VII Theorizing from Assumptions of Rationality This handbook will be of interest to those wanting a broad spectrum and overview of late 20th early 21st century sociological theory Handbook of Social Theory George Ritzer, Barry Smart, 2003-07-26 The Handbook of Social Theory presents an authoritative and panoramic critical survey of the development achievement and prospects of social theory Agency and Structure (RLE Social Theory) Piotr Sztompka, 2014-08-21 A striking feature of the human condition is its dual contradictory inherently split character on the one hand autonomy and freedom on the other constraint and dependence on social structure This volume addresses this central problem of the linkage between human action and social structure in sociological and social science theory Contributions cover several different approaches to the agency structure problematic and represent the work of a number of leading international sociologists Their efforts point to a reorientation of social theory both on philosophical and methodological levels The Socio-Intellectual Foundations of Malek Bennabi's Approach to Civilization Badrane Benlahcene, 2011-01-01 Since the publication of Samuel Huntington's The Clash of Civilizations concern about civilization has been reintroduced into the debate on the world order Malek Bennabi 1905-1973 prominent Algerian thinker and great Muslim intellectual intently focused on unraveling the causes of Muslim decline and the success of Western civilization and culture The key problem he theorized lay not in the Qur'an or Islamic faith but in Muslims themselves The author investigates Bennabi's approach to civilization and the fundamental principles drawn using metatheorizing methodology In doing so he sheds further light on perhaps one of the more intriguing elements of Bennabi's theory that civilization is governed by internal external and social intellectual factors and that an equation can be generated for civilization itself This equation of Man Soil Time Civilization and of which religion according to Bennabi forms the all important catalyst is explained and its significance in terms of the reversal of Muslim decline evaluated What is clearly apparent is that for Bennabi Man is the central force in any civilizing process and without him the other two elements are of no value With regard to outcomes Bennabi's unerring conviction that unless Muslims changed their spiritual condition they could not affect any far reaching meaningful change in society is echoed in the Qur'anic verse Verily never will Allah change the condition of a people until they change what is in themselves 13:11 The Concise Encyclopedia of Sociology George Ritzer, J. Michael Ryan, 2010-12-03 This concise encyclopedia is the most complete international survey of sociology ever created in one volume Contains over 800 entries from the whole breadth of the discipline Distilled from the highly regarded Blackwell Encyclopedia of Sociology with entries completely revised and updated to provide succinct and up to date coverage of the fundamental topics Global in scope both in terms of topics and contributors Each entry includes references and suggestions for further reading Cross referencing allows easy movement around the volume New Forms of Consumption Mark Gottdiener, 2000 Consumption as a field of cultural studies overlaps with theories of postmodernism the social construction of self commodification in late capitalism and the role of mass media in daily life New forms of consumption such as those facilitated by cyberspace themed environments the commodification of sex and the increasing role of leisure in society all play new and interesting roles in daily life that combine consumerism with the most contemporary social forms This collection of essays examines the recent ways in which consumerism has been approached by cultural studies with special emphasis given to these and other newly emerging topics The book is divided into three parts The first part provides a theoretical overview of consumption studies dealing with classical and more contemporary approaches in light of the debate between advocates and critics of postmodernism In this section there are papers on McDonaldization tourism and cultural studies and the Theory of Shopping The second part emphasizes empirical studies of the commodification process Papers address the transformation of women's bodies and the mass commodification of milk the creation of the toddler as a subject and the commodification of childhood the commodification of sports and the commodification of rock music The third section of the book explores new forms of consumption on a more detailed and concentrated level Papers in this section include the rise of sex tourism as a global industry the commodification of the sacred and the emergence of new consumer spaces in the city An introduction by the editor delineates the advantages of his approach to new forms of consumption based squarely in the emerging issues of cultural studies debates transcending postmodernism and the society of the spectacle
