Methods And Methodology In Composition Research:

Methods and Methodology in Composition Research Gesa Kirsch, Patricia A. Sullivan, 1992 In original essays fourteen nationally known scholars examine the practical philosophical and epistemological implications of a variety of research traditions Included are discussions of historical theoretical and feminist scholarship case study and ethnographic research text and conversation analysis and cognitive experimental and descriptive research Issues that cross methodological boundaries such as the nature of collaborative research and writing methodological pluralism the classification and coding of research data and the politics of composition research are also examined Contributors reflect on their own research practices and so reflect the current state of composition research itself Theories and Methods of Writing Center Studies Jo

Mackiewicz, Rebecca Babcock, 2019-11-01 This collection helps students and researchers understand the foundations of writing center studies in order to make sound decisions about the types of methods and theoretical lenses that will help them formulate and answer their research questions In the collection accomplished writing center researchers discuss the theories and methods that have enabled their work providing readers with a useful and accessible guide to developing research projects that interest them and make a positive contribution It introduces an array of theories including genre theory second language acquisition theory transfer theory and disability theory and guides novice and experienced researchers through the finer points of methods such as ethnography corpus analysis and mixed methods research Ideal for courses on writing center studies and pedagogy it is essential reading for researchers and administrators in writing centers and writing across the curriculum or writing in the disciplines programs Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker, John Vandenbergh, 2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies this new volume traces the evolution of the field's lexicon taking into account the wide variety of theoretical educational professional and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades Contributors address the development transformation and interconnections among thirty six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use exchange and question Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power identity and values Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars Re/Orienting Writing Studies William P. Banks, Matthew B. Cox, Caroline Dadas, 2019-04-15

Re Orienting Writing Studies is an exploration of the intersections among queer theory rhetoric and research methods in writing studies Focusing careful theoretical attention on common research practices this collection demonstrates how queer rhetorics of writing composing textual analysis history assessment and embodiment identity significantly alter both methods and methodologies in writing studies The chapters represent a diverse set of research locations and experiences from which to articulate a new set of innovative research practices While the humanities have engaged queer theory extensively research methods have often been hermeneutic or interpretive At the same time social science approaches in composition research have foregrounded inquiry on human participants but have often struggled to understand where lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer people fit into empirical research projects Re Orienting Writing Studies works at the intersections of humanities and social science methodologies to offer new insight into using queer methods for data collection and queer practices for framing research Contributors Chanon Adsanatham Jean Bessette Nicole I Caswell Michael J Faris Hillery Glasby Deborah Kuzawa Maria Novotny G Patterson Stacey Waite Stephanie West Puckett Writing Center Research Paula Gillespie, Alice Gillam, Lady Falls Brown, Byron Stay, 2001-12 Original essays by writing center researchers directly address current concerns about writing ctr research through detailed accounts of research and use of diversity of research methodologies available to both veteran novice writing ctr professionals Handbook of Writing Research Charles A. Exploring Composition Studies Kelly Ritter,Paul Kei Matsuda,2012-04-30 Kelly Ritter and Paul Kei Matsuda have created an essential introduction to the field of composition studies for graduate students and instructors new to the study of writing The book offers a careful exploration of this diverse field focusing specifically on scholarship of writing and composing Within this territory the authors draw the boundaries broadly to include allied sites of research such as professional and technical writing writing across the curriculum programs writing centers and writing program administration Importantly they represent composition as a dynamic eclectic field influenced by factors both within the academy and without The editors and their sixteen seasoned contributors have created a comprehensive and thoughtful exploration of composition studies as it stands in the early twenty first century Given the rapid growth of this field and the evolution of it research and pedagogical agendas over even the last ten years this multi vocal introduction is long overdue Theories of Creative Writing

Studies Ge Hongbing,2025-08-15 This book provides a groundbreaking approach to creative writing theory offering a comprehensive exploration of its core principles and methodologies Focusing on creative writing as an ontological practice it redefines the essence of literature and writing while integrating new perspectives on AI assisted writing creative industries and writing pedagogy This work combines Chinese and global views to address the pressing need for a systematic theoretical framework in the field of creative writing It is intended for graduate students researchers and educators in creative writing literary studies and cultural industries The book offers valuable insights into the evolving landscape of creative writing theory and its application in education industry and culture Key features include its original theoretical framework an interdisciplinary approach that connects theory and practice and the exploration of AI s impact on creative writing This book is a must have resource for advancing both academic and practical understanding of creative writing Contemporary Composition Studies Edith Babin,Kimberly Harrison,1999-12-30 Composition studies is a rapidly growing and constantly changing field At present however graduate students new to the field and writing teachers who want to make new connections between theory and practice have little choice of current reference works that define key terms in composition studies and provide information about the scholars and researchers who have shaped and are shaping the discipline This book supplies this information in an easily accessible format and places both scholars and terms in the context of the field's development. Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 108 individuals who have developed the field and 128 terms central to the discipline. The first part of the book provides entries for leaders in composition studies. Each entry identifies the areas in which the scholar has contributed most influentially to the field and provides both a chronological overview of the person's contributions and a bibliography of representative works. The second part includes entries for terms that are problematic both for newcomers and for those already familiar with the discipline. The entries for the terms show how the disciplinary context has shaped the ways in which they have been used. The entries also indicate how established thinkers in composition studies and other disciplines have explained or defined the terms, provide examples of the terms in context, and list scholars often associated with them. An appendix includes entries for scholars from other disciplines who have contributed to the field.

Contrastive Rhetoric Ulla Connor, 1996-01-26 Shows how a person's first language and culture influence writing in a second language.

Institutional Ethnography Michelle LaFrance, 2019-06-15 A form of critical ethnography introduced to the social sciences in the late 1990s, institutional ethnography uncovers how things happen within institutional sites, providing a new and flexible tool for the study of how work is co-constituted within sites of writing and writing instruction. The study of work and work processes reveals how institutional discourse, social relations, and norms of professional practice coordinate what people do across time and sites of writing. Adoption of IE offers finely grained understandings of how our participation in the work of writing, writing instruction, and sites of writing gives material face to the institutions that govern the social world. In this book, Michelle LaFrance introduces the theories, rhetorical frames, and methods that ground and animate institutional ethnography. Three case studies illustrate key aspects of the methodology in action: tracing the work of writing assignment design in a linked gateway course, the ways annual reviews coordinate the work of faculty and writing center administrators and staff, and how the key term information literacy socially organizes teaching in a first-year English program. Through these explorations of the practice of ethnography within sites of writing and writing instruction, LaFrance shows that IE is a methodology keenly attuned to the material relations and conditions of work in twenty-first-century writing studies contexts, ideal for both practiced and novice ethnographers who seek to understand the actualities of social organization and lived experience in the sites they study. Institutional Ethnography expands the field's repertoire of research methodologies and offers the grounding necessary for work with the IE framework. It will be invaluable to writing researchers and students and scholars of writing studies across the spectrum, composition and rhetoric, literacy studies, and education, as well as those working in fields such as sociology and cultural studies.
