Politics and Time Michael J. Shapiro, 2016-09-06 Catastrophic events like the bombing of Hiroshima Hurricane Katrina s devastation of New Orleans and drone strikes periodically achieve renewed political significance as subsequent developments summon them back to public awareness But why and how do different conceptions of time inform and challenge these key events and the narratives they create In this book Michael J Shapiro provides an approach to politics and time that unsettles official collective histories by introducing analyses of lived experience articulated in cinematic televisual musical and literary genres His investigation is framed by questions of our responsibility to acknowledge those victims of violence and catastrophe who have failed to rise above the threshold of public recognition Ultimately by focusing on time as an active force shaping our conception of political life we can deepen our understanding of complex political dynamics and improve the theories and methods we rely on to interpret them This bold and original book will be of interest to students and scholars of political theory cultural studies and cinema studies looking for a new perspective on the temporal aspects of political life

Stephens addresses the affective dimensions of being together to open new angles in the study of nationalism and global politics She asks how the nation is felt in everyday life as well as differently experienced and investigates different forms of enacting being together to generate new insights in the study of national identity National Affects draws on academic theories in the study of Politics International Relations and Human Geography as well as stories performance works and novels to establish a new tone of critical enquiry Informed by longstanding critical interrogations of the politics of us and them this book argues that these ideas are not as stable as they are often made to seem Drawing on a combination of artistic and academic interventions this book offers a refreshing approach to conceptualising the politics of nationalism identity and citizenship In its focus on everyday atmospheres it identifies new registers for intervening politically Overall National Affects outlines other ways of imagining and practising being political together beyond the exclusionary politics of nationalism
