McMillen, 1997 Although the Civil War reconfigured Dixie in the half century since the end of World War II the American South has been massively changed again It is still an improbable mix of tradition and transition but the stereotype of a region with one party politics one crop agriculture white supremacy cultural insularity grinding poverty somnolent cotton towns and languorous rural landscapes has largely passed into history Possum Trot and Tobacco Road have been suburbanized and how have Walmarts As the regions s boosters insist the nations s number one economic problem has joined the great booming sunbelt For good or for ill a new sense has been visited upon nearly every southern place What elements caused such striking change to the face of Dixie In this volume nine widely known specialists in the history and literature of the American South search for the origins of this sweeping regional transformation in the period of the Second

World War These original essays address a cluster of related problems of enduring fascination for all those who wish to understand the ever changing ever abiding South Offering new answers to important questions they address the Second World War as a major watershed in southern history Did it drive old Dixie down Did it set in motion forces that ultimately shaped a Newer South Did it further Americanize the South by eroding traditional patterns of thought and deed that once were fiercely defended by white southerners as our way of life Was the postwar South less different less peculiar and distinctive The Freedmen's Bureau Schools of Natchitoches Parish, Louisiana, 1865-1868 Susan E. Dollar,1998

Tebbs, Photographer to Architects* Richard Anthony Lewis,2011-12-05 One of the finest architectural photographers in America Robert W Tebbs produced the first photographic survey of Louisiana s plantations in 1926 From those images now housed in the Louisiana State Museum and not widely available until now 119 plates showcasing fifty two homes are featured here Richard Anthony Lewis explores Tebbs s life and career situating his work along the line of plantation imagery from nineteenth century woodcuts and paintings to later twentieth century photographs by John Clarence Laughlin among others Providing the family lineage and construction history of each home Lewis discusses photographic techniques Tebbs used in his alternating panoramic and detail views A precise documentarian Tebbs also reveals a poetic sensibility in the plantation photos His frequent emphasis on aspects of decay neglect incompleteness and loss lends a wistful aura to many of the images an effect compounded by the fact that many of the homes no longer exist This noticeable vacillation between objectivity and sentiment Lewis shows suggests unfamiliarity and even discomfort with the legacy of slavery Poised on the brink of social and political reforms Louisiana in the mid 1920s had made significant strides away from the slave based agricultural economy that the plantation house often symbolized Tebbs s Louisiana plantation photographs capture a literal and cultural past reflecting a burgeoning national awareness of historic preservation and presenting plantations to us anew Select plantations included Ashland Belle Helene Avery Island

Belle Chasse Belmont Butler Greenwood L Hermitage Oak Alley Parlange Ren Beauregard House Rosedown Seven Oaks Shadows on the Teche The Shades and Waverly Basket Diplomacy Denise E. Bates, 2020-02-01 Before the Coushatta Tribe of Louisiana became one of the state's top private employers with its vast landholdings and economic enterprises they lived well below the poverty line and lacked any clear legal status After settling in the Bayou Blue in 1884 they forged friendships with their neighbors sparked local tourism and struck strategic alliances with civic and business leaders aid groups legislators and other tribes Coushattas also engaged the public with stories about the tribe's culture history and economic interests that intersected with the larger community all while battling legal marginalization exacerbated by inconsistent government reports regarding their citizenship treaty status and eligibility for federal Indian services Well into the twentieth century the tribe had to overcome several major hurdles including lobbying the Louisiana legislature to pass the state's first tribal recognition resolution 1972 convincing the Department of the Interior to formally acknowledge the Coushatta Tribe through administrative channels 1973 and engaging in an effort to acquire land and build infrastructure Basket Diplomacy demonstrates how the Coushatta community worked together each generation laying a foundation for the next and how they leveraged opportunities so that existing and newly acquired knowledge timing and skill worked in tandem
