Doughty, 2016-08-17 This collection of essays explores a wealth of topics in children's and young adult literature and culture Contributions about picture books include analyses of variants of the folktale The Little Red Hen and bullying Race and gender are explored in essays about picture books featuring children as consumable objects about books focused on African American female athletes and about young adult dystopian fiction Gender itself is further explored in articles about Monster High Joyce Carol Oates's Beasts and The Hunger Games and Divergent Essays about fantasy literature include an exploration of environmentalism in Rick Riordan's The Heroes of Olympus a discussion of Severus Snape as a Judas figure an explication of Chapter 5 of The Hobbit and an analysis of ghosts and nationalism in Eva Ibbotson's The Haunting of Granite Falls An essay about Horrible Histories explores television genre and the way history is coded Other contributions explore how teaching literature to reluctant readers can be effective through multimodal texts and how Harry Potter has played a role in the popularity of young adult literature for adult readers Charlotte Perkins Gilman's the Yellow Wall-paper and the History of Its Publication and Reception Julie Bates Dock, 2010-11-01 Narratology beyond the Human David Herman, 2018-03-01 To what extent and in what manner do storytelling practices accommodate nonhuman subjects and their modalities of experience and how can contemporary narrative study shed light on interspecies interactions and entanglements In Narratology beyond the Human David Herman addresses these questions through a cross disciplinary approach to post Darwinian narratives concerned with animals and human animal relationships Herman considers the enabling and constraining effects of different narrative media examining a range of fictional and nonfictional texts disseminated in print comics and graphic novels and film In focusing on techniques such as the use of animal narrators alternation between human and nonhuman perspectives the embedding of stories within stories and others the book explores how specific strategies for portraying nonhuman agents both emerge from and contribute to broader attitudes toward animal life Herman argues that existing frameworks for narrative inquiry must be modified to take into account how stories are interwoven with cultural ontologies or understandings of what sorts of beings populate the world and how they relate to humans Showing how questions of narrative bear on ideas of species difference and assumptions about animal minds Narratology beyond the Human underscores our inextricable interconnectedness with other forms of creatural life and suggests that stories can be used to resituate imaginaries of human action in a more than human world Thomas Hardy's Short Stories Juliette Berning Schaefer, Siobhan Craft Brownson, 2016-11-18 Thomas Hardy penned nearly fifty short stories but in spite of this impressive number his contributions to the genre have been relatively understudied Bringing together an international group of scholars this is the first edited collection devoted solely to Hardy's works of short fiction The contributors take up topics related to their publication in periodicals gender and community relationships and narrative techniques Taken together the essays show that Hardy's short stories are important not only for what they tell us about Hardy as a writer who straddles the divide between the traditionalist and the modernist but also for how they reflect and inform the period in which he wrote The Geographies of African American Short Fiction Kenton Rambsy, 2022-03-25 Perhaps the brevity of short fiction accounts for the relatively scant attention devoted to it by scholars who have historically concentrated on longer prose narratives The Geographies of African American Short Fiction seeks to fill this gap by analyzing the ways African American short story writers plotted a diverse range of characters across multiple locations small towns a famous metropolis city sidewalks a rural wooded area apartment buildings a pond a general store a prison and more In the process these writers highlighted the extents to which places and spaces shaped or situated racial representations Presenting African American short story writers as cultural cartographers author Kenton Rambsy documents the variety of geographical references within their short stories to show how these authors make cultural spaces integral to their artwork and inscribe their stories with layered and resonant social histories The history of these short stories also documents the circulation of compositions across dozens of literary collections for nearly a century Anthology editors solidified the significance of a core group of short story authors including James Baldwin Toni Cade Bambara Charles Chesnutt Ralph Ellison Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright Using quantitative information and an extensive literary dataset The Geographies of African American Short Fiction explores how editorial practices shaped the canon of African American short fiction Paperbound Books in Print, 1991 Bibliographic Guide to Gabriel García Márquez, 1992-2002 Nelly S. de Gonzalez, 2003-08-30 With this latest installment Nelly Sfeir v de Gonzalez has completed her trilogy of bibliographies on Gabriel Garcia Marquez Born in Colombia in 1927 Garcia Marquez has become one of the most outstanding and influential novelists of the 20th century He has received numerous awards including the 1982 Nobel Prize for Literature His work has generated an enormous amount of scholarship and his writings are part of the curricula taught in most American colleges and universities This third volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of books articles and non print materials by and about Garcia Marquez published between 1992 and 2002 The first part consists of primary sources by Garcia
