Written by leading prison scholars from the Nordic countries as well as selected researchers from the English speaking world looking in this book explores and discusses the Nordic jurisdictions as contexts for the specific penal policies and practices that may or may not be described as the exception from the rule The 1984 Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services: Air Force American Council on Education,1984 Global Migration, Gender, and Health Professional Credentials Margaret Walton-Roberts,2022-03-01 Bringing together diverse approaches and case studies of international health worker migration Global Migration Gender and Health Professional Credentials critically reimagines how we conceptualize the transfer of value embodied in internationally educated health professionals IEHPs This volume provides key insights into the economic and feminist concepts of global value transmission the complexity of health worker migration and the gendered and intersectional intricacies involved in the workplace integration of immigrant health care workers The contributions to this edited collection uncover the multitude of actors who play a role in creating transmitting transforming and utilizing the value embedded in international health migrants Naval Training Bulletin ,1944

Immigrant Students Can Succeed Bertelsmann Stiftung,2010-07-30 International migration is a permanent fixture of life in the 21st century Fostering the integration of diverse populations has become a crucial policy challenge because integration greatly impacts social cohesion Schools are the keystone in building robust integration strategies As in so many countries around the globe Germany's population is growing steadily more diverse At the same time its institutions especially schools have not systematically developed the tools they need to harness the potential of this diversity Whereas some education policies and programs are fine tuned to meet the needs of diverse student populations others have categorically disadvantaged certain segments As the Pisa studies have shown students of immigrant origin are at particular risk of attaining academic achievement below their potential The 2008 Carl Bertelsmann Prize has sought out innovative approaches to education in select OECD countries which promote the integration of children and youth of immigrant origin The publication also includes perspectives and strategies that could improve education policies especially in countries like Germany Labor Law and Practice in Norway United States. Bureau of Labor Statistics,1972 General study of Norway with particular reference to work matters and designed as a guide for u s Businessmen who may be employing local workers in the country covers geographical aspects economic implications and political aspects cultural factors employment policy labour administration labour relations social security the wage payment system working conditions hours of work etc and comments on labour legislation ILO mentioned Bibliography and statistical tables Assessment theory, policy, and practice in higher education Stefanie Hillen,Peter Wolcott,Connie Schaffer,Aleksandra Lazareva,Robert Gray,2022 Most faculty and administrators and even students in higher education feel that they have heard enough already about assessment As the editors of this collection however we do not think so Rather we believe that most professionals in higher education have not approached learning about assessment in the right way This anthology addresses tools theoretical perspectives and methods related to assessment in higher education across a variety of contexts such as teacher education vocational education and other disciplines at European universities with particular attention paid to assessment as feedback and how that influences student learning We offer the reader this opportunity to learn from the contributors research experiences and reflections regarding assessment as an educational tool

Hiking in European Mountains Pablo Vidal-González, 2020-07-20 Nature sports in general and hiking in particular have become in our urban and post industrial societies a growing phenomenon practiced by millions of citizens The motivations and interests of this large group are varied but they have a common element to disconnect from stressful modern life and reconnect with nature National parks and other protected areas are the preferred destinations but they present an challenging contrast for land management conservation versus tourist use While once considered a romantic practice of escape and discovery hiking is now a consumer product and a tourist experience It promises experiences of disconnection quiet and health yet natural spaces are increasingly scarce and more often than not they are crowded by other recreationalists This book presents a multidisciplinary perspective on the latest trends and developments in hiking In particular the authors work from a European perspective with various outdoor recreation models represented and different conservation initiatives explored in the contexts of Spain Norway Poland Germany and Lebanon Collectively the authors attend to hiking as a social phenomenon and economic opportunity which has the potential to sustainably revitalize rural destinations if managed properly
