DREAM INTERPRETATION ASSIGNMENT

Sigmund Freud's Dream Interpretation Analysis

In the "old days," people thought dreams were manifestations of higher powers such as demons and spiritual beings. With the rise of education and rational thought, dreams are now interpreted as the production of our own psyche. (Depends on your state of mind and behavior.)

According to Sigmund Freud, there are three ways to interpret our dreams. The first one is unconscious desires or thoughts that reveal or come out at night. Our minds have the ability to bring things into our reality through analytical observation.

Freud's second observation is dreams may represent the past day's events. Our minds process our recent experiences, state of mind, and thoughts we have encountered.

Freud's last observation is dreams are very short and can be activated by unimportant events that happened to us recently.

INSTRUCTIONS

In this "dream interpretation" assignment, you will analyze your subconscious or the part of your mind you were unaware of by thinking about one dream you had in the past. #### STEP 1 - ANALYSIS OF YOUR DREAM
