Not Angels But Agencies Michael Hugh Taylor, 1995      The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2002

A Historical Guide to NGOs in Britain M. Hilton, N. Crowson, J. Mouhot, J. McKay, 2012-07-20 Aiming to furnish the reader with the historical data to engage with the debates surrounding the Cameron government's Big Society and civil society this book gives the reader a greater and more informed historical consciousness of how the NGO sector has grown and influenced

International Mission Bibliography Norman E. Thomas, 2003-10-16 This massive reference is the key to finding the most important works on missiology published from 1960-2000. Representing the research of more than 30 sub-editors in mission-related disciplines including history, theology, social aspects, education, evangelism, spirituality, and political life, and includes sections on Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe, and Oceania. Complete publication details and ISBNs are given for each entry.

Index to Book Reviews in Religion, 1999      Dictionary of the Ecumenical Movement Nicolas Lossky, 2002 The 700 entries in this dictionary have been written by leading figures in the ecumenical movement from all parts of the world. Entries are fully cross-referenced and many of the articles are enhanced by short bibliographies. Entries cover faith and order, dialogue, mission, and evangelism, communication, church and society, theological education, institutional histories, and relations of Orthodox, Protestants, and Roman Catholics within the ecumenical movement. Biographical sketches outline the contributions of some of the individuals who have furthered the cause of ecumenism in the 20th century. Cross-references direct the reader to more detailed information or to matters of related interest.

Seeing Children, Seeing God Pamela D. Couture, 2000 In Seeing Children Seeing God Pamela Couture explores the actual and potential relation of the church and the theological school to economically and socially relationally poor children. She argues that the solution to the problem of child poverty requires the shared responsibility of individuals, families, neighborhoods, congregations, governments, businesses, and international organizations because children develop within these multiple systems. With their unique access to these multiple systems, churches and theological schools are in a wonderful position to transform the social ecology within which children develop and to assist in children's flourishing. Concretely, what would it mean for the caring ministries of the church and those who teach and learn about them in seminary to make the issue of children and poverty central to what we do? How would this change the way we live? Pamela Couture argues from a Wesleyan perspective that caring for poor children is a means of grace, a grace that deepens our experience as the adopted children of God. She draws explicitly on recent writings that have updated the Wesleyan theological tradition. Seeing Children Seeing God will be of particular interest to everyone who is concerned about children and poverty, especially from a Wesleyan perspective.

Key Features: Brief and accessible. Offers a constructive, theologically sound response to the problem of children and poverty. Recognizes and shares responsibility for solutions across society but especially with the church and the seminary. Key Benefits: Readers will understand the dynamics and extent of the problem of children living in poverty today. Readers will understand ways in which theology has undergirded efforts to deal with this problem in the past Readers will understand and identify with the specifically Christian imperative to respond to this problem Readers will understand how various groups can contributed to a concerted effort to deal with the problem Readers will understand how the church has failed to deal with this problem in the past
