Not Guilty Twelve Black Men Speak Out On Law Justice And Life:

Not Guilty Jabari Asim, 2013-11-12 Patrick Dorismond Abner Louima and Amadou Diallo hear what a jury of prominent African Americans has to say about the black man's struggle for justice in America Prompted by the killing of Amadou Diallo and the acquittal of the four New York City police officers who mistook him for an armed criminal this collection of essays by prominent black male writers offers twelve unique and startling perspectives on what it's like for a black man living in an inherently racist society Coming from a broad spectrum of economic and social backgrounds the poets journalists lawyers writers and academics that make up this jury write forcefully and eloquently about growing up and raising sons identifying with others and yearning to be set apart attempting reasonable discourse and succumbing to unspeakable anger Together these essays deconstruct the monolithic myths that shroud our nation's black men and offer small rays of hope that on the streets at school and work and in the courtroom justice will be served Black Outlaws Carlyle Van Thompson, 2010 In this provocative and original exploration of Black males and the legal establishment Carlyle Van Thompson illuminates the critical issues defining Black male subjectivity Since the days of Black people's enslavement and the days of Jim Crow segregation Black males have been at odds with the legal and extra legal restrictions that would maintain white supremacy and white male privilege Grounded in the voices of Frederick Douglass and David Walker who challenged hegemonic systems designed to socio economically disenfranchise Black people Black Outlaws examines legal aspects with regard to Black males during the period of segregation By critically looking at Richard Wright's The Outsider Chester Bomar Himes The Third Generation Walter Mosley's Devil in a Blue Dress and Ernest J Gaines A Lesson Before Dying all of which examine Black males during the Jim Crow period Thompson investigates the challenges that Black males confront and surmount in their journeys to establish their individual and collective agency Black Outlaws helps decipher critical legal and racial issues in the works of four of the most important Black male writers and is suitable for readers in literary studies cultural studies and history

Ebony, 2002-02 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine We Can't Breathe Jabari Asim, 2018-10-16 A Finalist for the PEN Diamonstein Spielvogel Award for the Art of the Essay Insightful and searing essays that celebrate the vibrancy and strength of black history and culture in America by critically acclaimed writer Jabari Asim A fantastic essay collection Blending personal reflection with historical analysis and cultural and literary criticism these essays are a sharp illuminating response to the nation's continuing racial conflicts Ron Charles The Washington Post In We Can't Breathe Jabari Asim disrupts what Toni Morrison has exposed as the Master Narrative and replaces it with a story of black survival and persistence through art and community in the face of centuries of racism In eight wide ranging and penetrating essays he explores such topics as the twisted legacy of jokes and falsehoods in black life the importance of black fathers and community the significance of black writers and stories and the beauty and pain of the black body What emerges is a rich portrait of a community and culture that has resisted survived and flourished despite centuries of racism violence and trauma These thought provoking essays present a different side of American history one that doesn't depend on a narrative steeped in oppression but rather reveals black voices telling their own stories

Artists, Performers, and Black Masculinity in the Haitian Diaspora Jana Evans Braziel, 2008-06-27 Jana Evans Braziel examines how Haitian diaspora writers performance artists and musicians address black masculinity through the Haitian Creole concept of gwo n g s or big men She focuses on six artists and their work writer Dany Laferrière director Raoul Peck rap artist Wyclef Jean artist Jean Michel Basquiat drag queen performer and poet Assotto Saint and queer drag king performer Dr d a k a Mildr d Gerestant For Braziel these individuals confront the gendered sexualized and racialized boundaries of America's diaspora communities and openly resist domestic imperialism that targets immigrants minorities women gays and queers This is a groundbreaking study at the intersections of gender and sexuality with race ethnicity nationality and diaspora

Masculinities and the Law Frank Rudy Cooper, Ann C. McGinley, 2012-08-27 According to masculinities theory masculinity is not a biological imperative but a social construction Men engage in a constant struggle with other men to prove their masculinity Masculinities and the Law develops a multidimensional approach It sees categories of identity including various forms of raced classed and sex oriented masculinities as operating simultaneously and creating different effects in different contexts By applying multidimensional masculinities theory to law this cutting edge collection both expands the field of masculinities and develops new thinking about important issues in feminist and critical race theories The topics covered include how norms of masculinity influence the behavior of policemen firefighters and international soldiers on television and in the real world employment discrimination against masculine cocktail waitresses and all transgendered employees the legal treatment of fathers in the U S and the ways unauthorized migrant fathers use the dangers of border crossing to boost their masculine esteem how Title IX fails to curtail the masculinity of sport the racist assumptions behind the prison rape debate the surprising roots of homophobia in Jamaican dancehall music and the contradictions of the legal debate over women veiling in Turkey Ultimately the book argues that multidimensional masculinities theory can change how law is interpreted and applied

Taking Sex Differences Seriously Steven E. Rhoads, 2010-05 Most discussions of sexuality today assume that differences between men and women are insubstantial and that the boundary between the masculine and the feminine is highly porous To reflect the idea that male and female roles have been socially constructed they speak of gender instead of sex and ridicule the double standard of studs and sluts Because men and women are virtually interchangeable it is argued men should do an equal share of domestic work so that women can compete equally with men outside the home This vision of androgyny has compelling aspects But Dr Steven Rhoads finds one problem whatever we might like to believe sex distinctions remain a deeply rooted part of human nature In Taking Sex Differences Seriously he assembles a wealth of scientific evidence showing that these differences are hardwired into our biology They range from the subtle women instinctively carry babies on their left side near the maternal heartbeat to the profound women with higher testosterone levels are more promiscuous more competitive and more conflicted about having children Rhoads explores male female disparities in aggression and dominance in sexuality and nurturing He shows how denial of these differences has affected phenomena such as the sexual revolution and fatherless families and policies such as Title IX and the call for universal day care But he also says that society is improved by discouraging some natural tendencies like men s temptation toward predatory sex and encouraging others like women s greater interest and talent in caring for babies Steven Rhoads dispels social clichs and spotlights biological realities in this provocative book Meticulously researched and elegantly written Taking Sex Differences Seriously is a groundbreaking look at the way we are

Acting White? Devon W. Carbado, Mitu Gulati, 2013-02-19 What does it mean to act black or act white Is race merely a matter of phenotype or does it come from the inflection of a person s speech the clothes in her closet how she chooses to spend her time and with whom she chooses to spend it What does it mean to be really black and who gets to make that judgment In Acting White leading scholars of race and the law Devon Carbado and Mitu Gulati argue that in spite of decades of racial progress and the pervasiveness of multicultural rhetoric racial judgments are often based not just on skin color but on how a person conforms to behavior stereotypically associated with a certain race Specifically racial minorities are judged on how they perform their race This performance pervades every aspect of their daily life whether it s the clothes they wear the way they style their hair the institutions with which they affiliate their racial politics the people they befriend date or marry where they live how they speak and their outward mannerisms and demeanor Employing these cues decision makers decide not simply whether a person is black but the degree to which she or he is so Relying on numerous examples from the workplace higher education and police interactions the authors demonstrate that for African Americans the costs of acting black are high and so are the pressures to act white But as the authors point out acting white has costs as well Provocative yet never doctrinaire Acting White will boldly challenge your assumptions and make you think about racial prejudice from a fresh vantage point
