Not The Slightest Chance The Defence Of Hong Kong 1941:

Not the Slightest Chance Tony Banham,2003-02-01 More than 10% of Hong Kong s defenders were killed in battle a further 20% died in captivity Those who survived seldom spoke of their experiences Many died young The little primary material surviving written in POW camps or years after the events is contradictory and muddled Yet with just 14 000 defending the Colony it was possible to write from the individual s point of view rather than that of the Big Battalions so favoured by God according to Napoleon and most historians The book assembles a phase by phase day by day hour by hour and death by death account of the battle It considers the individual actions that made up the fighting as well as the strategies and plans and the many controversies that arose Not the Slightest Chance will be of interest to military historians Hong Kong residents and visitors and those in the UK Canada and elsewhere whose family members fought or were interned in Hong Kong during the war years

Reduced to a Symbolical Scale Tony Banham, 2017-08-01 In July 1940 the wives and children of British families in Hong Kong military and civilian were compulsorily evacuated following a plan created by the Hong Kong government in 1939 That plan focused exclusively on the process of evacuation itself but issues concerning how the women and children should settle in the new country communication with abandoned husbands and reuniting families after the war were not considered In practice few would ever be addressed When evacuation came 3 500 people would simply be dumped in Australia The experience of the evacuees can be seen as a three act drama delivery to Australia creates tension five years of war and uncertainty intensify it and resolution comes as war ends However that drama unlike the evacuation plan did not develop in a vacuum but was embedded in a complex historical political and social environment Based on archival research of official documents letters and memoirs and interviews and discussions with more than one hundred evacuees and their families this book studies the evacuation within that entire context Reduced to a Symbolical Scale is an original and interesting addition to the evacuation literature Tony Banham has done a masterly job of integrating archival documents with other forms of communication The stories of individual evacuees and their families are very skilfully woven into the narrative John Welshman Lancaster University author of Churchill s Children The Evacuee Experience in Wartime Britain Roses in December David Stanford,2006-11-01 Illustrated Total of 100 B W pictures The Battle of Hong Kong took place between 8th December and 25th December 1941 This is the tale of the Stanford family and how they were affected by this battle It tells of life in the Army life in the colonies the battle the infamous Lisbon Maru and how the family coped with the war evacuation repatriation and post war Will also be of particular interest to aircraft enthusiasts with 16 of the pictures being of aircraft at the time of the fall of Hong Kong Japanese civilian and allied aircraft are covered The Captain Was a Doctor Jonathon Reid,2020-10-24 A Canadian medical officer and prisoner of war returns from the Second World War a hero and a very different man In August 1941 John Reid a young Canadian doctor volunteered to join the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps with four friends from medical school After five weeks of officer training in Ottawa Reid took an optional two week course in tropical medicine a choice which sealed his fate Assigned to C Force the two Canadian battalions sent to reinforce semi tropical Hong Kong he was among those captured when the calamitous Battle of Hong Kong ended on Christmas Day After a year in Hong Kong prison camps Reid was chosen as the only officer to accompany 663 Canadian POWs sent to Japan to work as slave labourers His efforts over the next two and a half years to lead treat and protect his men were heroic He survived the war but finding a peace of his own took ten tumultuous years with casualties of a different sort He would never be the same Clash of Empires in South China Franco David Macri,2015-06-05 Japan s invasion of China in 1937 saw most major campaigns north of the Yangtze River where Chinese industry was concentrated The southern theater proved a more difficult challenge for Japan because of its enormous size diverse terrain and poor infrastructure but Generalissimo Chiang Kai shek made a formidable stand that produced a veritable quagmire for a superior opponent a stalemate much desired by the Allied nations In the first book to cover this southern theater in detail David Macri closely examines strategic decisions campaigns and operations and shows how they affected Allied grand strategy Drawing on documents of U S and British officials he reveals

for the first time how the Sino Japanese War served as a proxy war for the Allies by keeping Japan's military resources focused on southern China they hoped to keep the enemy bogged down in a war of attrition that would prevent them from breaching British and Soviet territory While the most immediate concern was preserving Siberia and its vast resources from invasion Macri identifies Hong Kong as the keystone in that proxy war vital in sustaining Chinese resistance against Japan as it provided the logistical interface between the outside world and battles in Hunan and Kwangtung provinces a situation that emerged because of its vital rail connection to the city of Changsha He describes the development of Anglo Japanese low intensity conflict at Hong Kong he then explains the geopolitical significance of Hong Kong and southern China for the period following the German invasion of the Soviet Union Opening a new window on this rarely studied theater Macri underscores China's symbolic importance for the Allies depicting them as unequal partners who fought the Japanese for entirely different reasons China for restoration of its national sovereignty the Allies to keep the Japanese preoccupied And by aiding China's wartime efforts the Allies further hoped to undermine Japanese propaganda designed to expel Western powers from its Greater East Asia Co Prosperity Sphere As Macri shows Hong Kong was not just a sleepy British Colonial outpost on the fringes of the empire but an essential logistical component of the war and to fully understand broader events Hong Kong must be viewed together with southern China as a single military zone His account of that forgotten fight is a pioneering work that provides new insight into the origins of the Pacific War

Hong Kong Internment, 1942-1945 Geoffrey Charles Emerson, 2008-03-01 Hong Kong Internment 1942 1945 Life in the Japanese Civilian Camp at Stanley tells the story of the more than three thousand non Chinese civilians British American Dutch and others who were trapped in the British colony and interned behind barbed wire in Stanley Internment Camp from 1942 to 1945 From 1970 to 1972 while researching for his MA thesis the author interviewed twenty three former Stanley internees During these meetings the internees talked about their lives in the Stanley Camp during the Japanese occupation Long regarded as an invaluable reference and frequently consulted as a primary source on Stanley since its completion in 1973 the study is now republished with a new introduction and fresh discussions that recognize later work and information released since the original thesis was written Additional illustrations including a new map and photographs as well as an up to date bibliography have also been included in the book

Gander Robyn Walker, 2009-09-14 Sergeant Gander is a fascinating account of the Royal Rifles of Canada's canine mascot and his devotion to duty demonstrated during the Battle of Hong Kong in the Second World War. Armed only with his formidable size, an intimidating set of teeth, and a protective instinct, Gander fought alongside his fellow Canadian soldiers. As the Royal Rifles' position became more precarious, the men were forced to retreat into the hills of Hong Kong, and it was here that a group of wounded Canadians, threatened by a live grenade, came to fully appreciate the loyalty of Gander. For his service in battle, Sergeant Gander was awarded the Dickin Medal, the animal equivalent to the Victoria Cross for humans. This honour is dedicated to animals displaying gallantry and devotion to duty while under any control of the armed forces. Sergeant Gander is the nineteenth dog to receive this medal and the first Canadian canine to do so. Strong to Save:

Maritime Mission in Hong Kong from Whampoa Reach to the Mariners' Club Stephen Davies, 2017-07-19 Tracing its origins back to 1822, the Mariners' Club in Hong Kong was established to meet a specific need for an Anglo-Chinese society defined by that most dubious of activities, seafaring. Its creation was anything but straightforward, and in this can be seen the mutable and often tortuous relations between the various religious bodies, the local population, the transient sailors, the emerging captains of industry, and the growing regulatory reach of the colonial government. The club evolved through many embodiments and witnessed the growth of Hong Kong from a collection of mat sheds on the foreshore through colony to its current status. Throughout its turbulent past, it has been occasionally marginalized but has always served as an important base for the key actors in the main commercial activity in Hong Kong: seafarers. This is a history of one of the most enduring institutions of Hong Kong and the first of its kind. Using the Club's own records as well as a wide range of sources both from within Hong Kong and from the seafaring world at large, this is a comprehensive account of the life of the Mission, the tenancy of the different chaplains, managers, and stewards, the changes in seafaring practices and shipping, and the transformation of Hong Kong itself. Japan at War Louis G.
