Not on My Watch Joshua M. Peters, Josh R. Fansler, 2004-12 Our story takes you on a journey from our lives before the war to the mountainous terrains of Afghanistan and the barren deserts of Iraq It is our desire to bring to life what it is like for the American Soldier fighting in the war on terror overseas Not just from a Soldier s perspective but from the Combat Medic s perspective We want you to learn about the heartaches the fear the excitement and the terror of combat today These stories are not intended to bring glory upon ourselves They are written to show the courage and bravery of every American Soldier with whom we served While this book is written from our first person view the I and we are inclusive of all the Medics that have served Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom Every medic deployed in support of these operations have similar stories to tell The title Not On My Watch The 21st Century Combat Medic expresses the fervor with which we serve First our motto Not On My Watch This speaks not only of the personal pride and sacrifice that we as Combat Medics have in our assignment but also of our willingness to sacrifice in order to save a fellow Soldier s life We are saying As long as I am there I am going to sacrifice everything I have to give the wounded Soldier a second chance at life The latter part of the title stresses how combat and combat medicine has evolved to our generation from the generation of the heroes who served from the very first shot of the Revolutionary War until now We have met the men and women of past wars at welcome home ceremonies the local VFW s and through everyday interactions Every story is different yet every story is exactly the same The same courage bravery honor and dedication to fellow Soldiers on the battlefield We remember the look of pride in the eyes of every Vietnam Korean and WWII veteran as they shook our hands at the airport upon our arrival back to the United States It is that look that lets us know that although we never stormed a beach on that Day in June of 1944 or never took that hill in the jungle with certain death on the ascent to the top we did serve a cause that blankets our great country with Freedom We are Americans fighting and defending the rights of every American We are Americans dedicated to bringing peace and democracy to every citizen of the globe Our cause is just and this is our story United States Naval Institute Proceedings ,2003 Art of War H. Avery Chenoweth, 2002 Great world conflicts have produced not only great military heroes but also great artists who have documented the heroism and the bloody battles Spanning wars that have involved U S troops this gallery of outstanding works of art ranges from majestic land sea and aircapes portraying all the branches of the armed services to closeups of hand to hand combat The paintings are more expressive than photographs because they compress many experiences into a single view Charts and maps clarify particular scenes and first hand testimonies of the men and women who participated in the battles add an extra dimension The many oversize reproductions highlight some of the most moving paintings and illustrations ever created in the field of combat art most made available to the public for the first time A Selection of the Military Book Club Variety Who's who in Show Business ,1985 Variety Who's who in Show Business Mike Kaplan, 1985 Congressional Record United States.
