Notes From An Italian Garden:

Notes from an Italian Garden Joan Marble, 2001 I fell in love with Etruria one chilly evening in January They were having a New Year s Eve festival in a little town near Campagnano and a group of local boys dressed in Renaissance costumes were marching in a torchlight parade down the main street As I stood there in the cold watching the flames lurching to the sky I realized that I felt very much at home in this ancient place Thirty years ago Joan Marble and her sculptor husband bought a piece of unpromising land in Lazio the area north of Rome that was home to the ancient Etruscans They built a house and grew a wonderful garden This the story of their life there of the unexpected friends who helped them and of their conquest of an intransigent landscape

Notes from an Italian Garden Joan Marble, Corinna Sargood, 2002 Thirty years ago Joan Marble and her husband Robert Cook bought an unpromising piece of land near the little hamlet of Canale in an area north of Rome Here they built a house and more importantly grew a wonderful garden Why do you want to have a garden here the local inhabitants asked There s no water the ground is like cement it s too cold in winter and too hot in summer But Joan and Robert s enthusiasm their ignorance of the obstacles that faced them their downright obstinacy and the unexpected friends who helped them all served to conquer the terrain

The Italian Garden John Dixon Hunt, 1996-11-28 Italian gardens vary widely according to their historical date and geographic location This collection approaches Italian gardens of all periods from the middle ages to modern times and it ranges widely throughout the peninsula from Genoa to Sicily the Veneto to Liguria and Ferrara to Florence The authors are a distinguished group of Italian American English and German scholars with different backgrounds in art history literature architecture planning and cultural history The explorations of the subject from these different perspectives illuminate not only their own disciplines but are concerned to make many fresh connections between garden art and the politics of nationalism between the art of gardens and urban infrastructure between cultural movements like freemasonry and site planning between design and planting materials The book offers therefore a narrative of the garden by selecting ten high points of its history which are introduced with a consideration by the volume editor of the fresh challenges to contemporary Italian garden history

Notes from a Roman Terrace Joan Marble, 2003 Joan Marble has lived in a 16th century Roman Palazzo apartment for 30 years A lifetime of integrating with the Romans and gardening on her beloved terrace above the rooftops has resulted in this memoir Highly personal and containing anecdote history and insight Joan s experience of Rome and Romans is infected by her contagious fascination for plants a hobby she shares every week with The Women s Gardening Club of Rome
