Notes For A Lateblooming Martyr:

Notes for a Late-blooming Martyr Marlys West, 1999 In Notes for a Late Blooming Martyr Marlys West takes a coolly amused look at what we create of ourselves our habits of home and mind the prosthetics and courtesies the small timid gestures and screaming leaps that make up our lives and deaths Influenced by such diverse things as summer vacations the plight of Satan and the saints and a love of American speech these poems suggest a loose narrative within a stream of wry images and wayward mythologies Father smokes mother rolls her eyes the devil goes for a swim all in a world of odd rituals dangerous waters lucky charms and the spasmodic braveries of the everyday From the desertion of the past comes recitation of longings gratified or unheard an accompaniment to the martyrdom and beauty of each life Tragedy never rises to the level of transcendence but neither is it the only truth Marlys West dismantles old answers religion love family the comfort and security of objects and offers them again as skewed solutions the wary possibilities of transformation in a book that ends as we all do with the ceremonies of dying and the frightened hope of another life

Notes for a late-blooming martyr Marlys West, 1997 Requiem for the Orchard Oliver De la Paz, 2010 These are vivid visceral poems about coming of age in a place where the Ferris Wheel was the tallest thing in the valley where a boy would learn to fire a shotgun at nine and wring a chicken's neck with one hand by twirling the bird and whipping it straight like a towel In spite of such hardscrabble cruelties or because of them there is also a real tenderness in these poems the revelations of bliss driving along an empty highway like opening a heavy book letting the pages feather themselves and finding a dried flower The poet has a gift for rendering his world in cinematic images In short these poems are the stuff of life itself ugly and beautiful wherever or whenever we happen to live it Martin Espada The Best American Poetry 2005 David Lehman, Paul Muldoon, 2007-11-01 This eagerly awaited volume in the celebrated Best American Poetry series reflects the latest developments and represents the last word in poetry today Paul Muldoon the distinguished poet and international literary eminence has selected from a pool of several thousand published candidates the top seventy five poems of the year The all consuming interests of American poetry are the all consuming interests of poetry all over writes Muldoon in his incisive introduction to the volume The Best American Poetry 2005 features a superb company of artists ranging from established masters of the craft such as John Ashbery Adrienne Rich and Charles Wright to rising stars like Kay Ryan Tony Hoagland and Beth Ann Fennelly With insightful comments from the poets elucidating their work and series editor David Lehman s perspicacious foreword addressing the state of the art The Best American Poetry 2005 is indispensable for every poetry enthusiast

Other Latitudes Brian Brodeur, 2008 Attempting to repair the fissures of everyday life Brian Brodeur negotiates the psychological distances between desire and disgust humor and catastrophe banality and dream The poems of Other Latitudes begin in the realm of personal experience and expand into larger territories of cultural narcissism and political blindness These poems meditate on the tenuous relationship between artist and subject the curiosities of self inflicted wounds and the presence of hope in a landscape that is intrinsically scarred Brodeur s debut illustrates the conflict between inner lives and their outward appearances with an eye turned to the unforgiving natural world

Annual Report National Endowment for the Arts, Reports for 1980 19 also include the Annual report of the National Council on the Arts

The Alcalde, 1999-11 As the magazine of the Texas Exes The Alcalde has united alumni and friends of The University of Texas at Austin for nearly 100 years The Alcalde serves as an intellectual crossroads where UT s luminaries artists engineers executives musicians attorneys journalists lawmakers and professors among them meet bimonthly to exchange ideas Its pages also offer a place for Texas Exes to swap stories and share memories of Austin and their alma mater The magazine s unique name is Spanish for mayor or chief magistrate the nickname of the governor who signed UT into existence was The Old Alcalde

Pieces of Me Keren Taylor, 2004 Poetry Fiction Cultural Writing Original poetry essays stories scenes and lyrics of teen girls and women writers on love family identity community and society Chapters include My Self My Family My Rage My Heart and My Alternate Universe This is the third anthology from WriteGirl and was a finalist in the 2005 Independent Publisher of the Year Awards Anthology Category

The Zones of Paradise Lynn Powell, 2003 Lynn Powell s earlier work has deservedly brought her prestigious prizes and a loyal following Now in The Zones of Paradise Powell extends her range and raises her language to a new intensity These poems travel from Australia to New Mexico from the Garden of Eden to her own back yard in Ohio and everywhere they tremble with the restless exploration of desire thwarted or fulfilled my heart another Magellan of memory and want The Zones of Paradise may offer a vision of what it is like to live in the fallout of The Fall but Powell s lines dazzle with their sensuous intelligence and vivid wit introducing an undaunted Eve who can announce I want to take April as my personal savior In poems that embrace both the risks and pleasures of experience Lynn Powell celebrates the only world we know

The Book of Accident Beckian Fritz Goldberg, 2006 In her latest collection of poems The Book of Accident Beckian Fritz Goldberg invites the reader into a shadowy atmosphere where her language prowls among strange images hummingbirds become a fistful of violet amphetamines and desire gnaws away like a live rat sewed up inside us Reading The Book of Accident is like entering a graphic novel with missing panels a noir world of queasy glints and feral adolescents a world where no one has to love you Characters go by odd names Torture Boy Skin Girl Lala Petite Wolf Boy his body pale as the plucked end of light They are punk kids fending for themselves in an expressionistic version of those old stories that began Let's take the children out to the woods and leave them And on every page there's Goldberg's hard edged wit with the speed and flash of a video game These poems show mercy but give no ground They make you feel heartbroken and frightened and exhilarated at the same time Hiram Poetry Review, 2008

Nothing Held Back Keren Taylor, 2005 Fiction Poetry Cultural Writing A literary adventure like no other This is the fourth anthology published by WriteGirl a creative writing and mentoring program matching teen girls with mentors from the ranks of Los Angeles most respected professional women writers Dramatic in range and full of startling perspectives these writers truly hold nothing back in this compelling collection of poems lyrical essays bold fiction and more Proceeds from sales benefit WriteGirl's creative writing and mentoring program for high school girls

Pale Bird, Spouting Fire Susan Yuzna, 2000 Susan Yuzna's new collection of poetry builds on the success of her 1995 Akron Poetry Prize winner Her Slender Dress which also won the Poetry Society of America's Norma Farber First Book Award The new poems speak in a voice recognizably Yuzna's though now deepened and darkened with a quickening twist of mordant humor Feisty or contemplative in Eden or on the mean streets these poems look at the long tradition of women struggling towards fulfillment Using figures mythical and real from Venus to Billie Holiday Yuzna explores the links that exist between the physical transformations unique to female experience and their spiritual and emotional epiphanies Encompassing these themes is the paradox of poetry though a small thing a pale bird it is also a source of passion and power spouting fire strong enough to lift us beyond the commonplace to change daily experience into moments when we recognize the presence of the extraordinary

Life of William McKinley, Our Martyred President Samuel Fallows, 1901 A Letter to Serafin John Minczeski, 2009 A Letter from Serafin is a multi layered archeological dig into the author's past Poland's past by way of his great grandfather Serafin the mythological past of Medieval paintings the historical past of Auschwitz through the concentration camps and the personal pasts that confront him with his own stinging failures and invisibilities made visible

Frozen Falls Barry Seiler, 2001 Frozen Falls Barry Seiler's fourth full length collection of poems extends the range of his themes and poetic strategies Readers of his earlier work will recognize Seiler's concern with family loss popular music and film Jewish experience and the intensities and disappointments inherent in the act of writing But they will also find a series of brief inventive poems on the inner life of domestic objects such as armchairs and vases the best poems of this kind since Francis Ponge and two long poems that anchor the book American Misfortune and Turns American Misfortune a narrative sequence meditates on the fragility of the lives we construct the stories we tell to explain ourselves to ourselves Turns a journal of the seasons uses lyrical fragments to chart the mind's daily negotiations between the inner and the outer world seeking the peace offered by the quiet rituals of rural life during the changing course of the year Sustaining the collection are motifs of falls and falling from autumn to waterfalls from stumbles to Eden By turns hopeful and skeptical the book considers the consolations of art and its limits the wish that a life of writing will justify that life and the fear that it may not And holding everything together is a distinctive voice that brings to each new topic an attitude and manner of speaking that is Seiler's alone We hear a wised up wit softened by a sympathetic understanding of failure a balance between the struggle to live meaningfully and the grace to accept the simple pleasures of living in the moment In these poems Barry Seiler has perfect pitch and he sounds like nobody else      Never be the Horse Beckian Fritz Goldberg, 1999 Never Be the Horse depicts the world of a postmodern Dark Dorothy whose attempts to return home are foiled when she falls into the Garden of Eden into the underworld with Walt Whitman into mysterious versions of her own childhood The poems evoke this night time within the self haunted by mythic and shadow paradises of home homeland the original garden where every story made is made to hide the others Still it remains recognizably this world The parent lies to the child about death and the child lies to the parent about death In the journey between these lies as in the journey taken by the horse of the title language becomes the place of refuge      American Book Publishing Record ,2000      Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1999-08
