Nomadic Ethics in Contemporary Women's Writing in German Emily Jeremiah, 2012 Explores nationality gender and postmodern subjectivity in the work of five German speaking women writers who embody a nomadic ethics How can postmodern subjectivity be ethically conceived What can literature contribute to this project What role do gender and nation play in the construction of contemporary identities Nomadic Ethics broaches these questions exploring the work of five women writers who live outside of the German speaking countries or thematize a move away from them Birgit Vanderbeke Dorothea Gr nzwieg Antje R vic Strubel Anna Mitgutsch and Barbara Honigmann It draws on work by Rosi Braidotti Sara Ahmed and Judith Butler to develop a nomadic ethics and examines how the writers under discussion conceptualize contemporary German and Austrian identities especially but not only gender identities in instructive ways The book engages with a number of critical issues in contemporary German studies globalization green thought questions of gender and sexuality East and West German identities Austrianness the postmemory of the Holocaust and Jewishness In this way Nomadic Ethics offers a valuable contribution to debates about the nature of German studies itself as well as insightful readings of the individual authors and texts concerned Emily Jeremiah is Lecturer in German Royal Holloway University of London

Feminist Ecologies Lara Stevens, Peta Tait, Denise Varney, 2017-12-05 This edited volume critically engages with ecofeminist scholarship It tracks the ongoing dialogue between women's issues and environmental change by republishing the work of pioneering scholars and activists in the field Together with new essays by contemporary ecofeminist scholars the book uncovers the dialectical relationship between environmental and feminist causes the relational identities of feminists and ecofeminists and the concept of ecofeminism as a rallying point for environmental feminism The volume defines ecofeminism as a multidisciplinary project and will appeal to readers working within the field of Environmental Humanities

Feminist Poetics of the Sacred Frances Devlin-Glass, Lyn McCredde, 2001-06-28 This book is an interdisciplinary and multicultural study of ancient and contemporary texts that encode women's spirituality. The contributors using modern critical methods such as feminist theory, poststructuralism and the new historicisms examine how the ideas in these texts are being reworked in different religious traditions. The volume encompasses both contemporary and historical contexts tracing the roles, actions, writings and beliefs of women in pre-Christian, Christian, Islamic, indigenous and neo-pagan contexts. The book builds on three decades of feminist research into such areas as goddess worship, indigenous spiritualities, eco-feminism, biblical hermeneutics, Christian and Islamic mysticism, subversive poetics and mythological systems inside and outside the mainstream.

The German Historical Novel since the Eighteenth Century Daniela Richter, 2016-12-14 The historical novel is a genre which has enjoyed widespread popularity in Germany from its beginnings in the eighteenth century. At that time increased literacy among the middle and lower classes had resulted in a greater demand for reading material aimed at a general audience. Because of its educational and entertaining characteristics the historical novel quickly became a dominant genre among other forms of popular literature. To this day it constitutes a major sector on the German book market and is together with popular TV series, documentaries and museum exhibits an important part of German Geschichtskultur. This collection of essays looks at aesthetic and thematic continuities as well as changes in the development of the genre in Germany from the late eighteenth century to the present and gives insights into the novel's political and socio-cultural implications. The articles investigate historical novels from writers such as Benedikte Naubert, the mother of German historical fiction, nineteenth-century popular writers Georg Ebers and Hermann Sudermann, modern writers such as Alfred Döblin, Hermann Hesse and Hermann Broch, post-Wende works such as those by Thomas Brussig, Christa Wolf and Ingo Schulze and contemporary historical fiction by Sabine Weigand, Eveline Hasler and Petra Durst Benning.

Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Germany Derek Lewis, Ulrike Zitzlsperger, 2016-10-18 This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Germany provides a comprehensive overview of most aspects of life and institutions in contemporary Germany. It also introduces the reader to the historical development of both East and West Germany between 1949 and 1990 and addresses the various issues arising from reunification. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Germany contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 500 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion and culture. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Germany.

Dancing with Disaster Kate Rigby, 2015-03-06 The calamitous impacts of climate change that are beginning to be felt around the world today expose the inextricability of human and natural histories. Arguing for a more complex account of such calamities, Kate Rigby examines a variety of past disasters from the Black Death of the Middle Ages to the mega-hurricanes of the twenty-first century, revealing the dynamic interaction of diverse human and nonhuman factors in their causation unfolding and aftermath Focusing on the link between the ways disasters are framed by the stories told about them and how people tend to respond to them in practice Rigby also shows how works of narrative fiction invite ethical reflection on human relations with one another with our often unruly earthly environs and with other species in the face of eco catastrophe In its investigation of an array of authors from the Romantic period to the present including Heinrich von Kleist Mary Shelley Theodor Storm Colin Thiele and Alexis Wright Dancing with Disaster demonstrates the importance of the environmental humanities in the development of more creative compassionate ecologically oriented and socially just responses to the perils and possibilities of the Anthropocene Under the Sign of Nature Explorations in Ecocriticism Handbook of Workplace Spirituality and Organizational Performance Robert A. Giacalone, Carole L. Jurkiewicz, 2003 A comprehensive research based interdisciplinary and action oriented approach to spirituality in organizational life It defines workplace spirituality as all aspects of the workplace that promote individual feelings of satisfaction through a sense of connection to a larger force Pop Culture Germany! Catherine C. Fraser, Dierk O. Hoffman, 2006-09-25 From the reality TV show Superstar to Formula One ace Michael Schumacher Pop Culture Germany explores the exciting world of contemporary German popular culture Like no other volume of its kind Pop Culture Germany captures the breadth and vitality of popular culture in modern Germany exploring both familiar and lesser known aspects of German art entertainment television music and film Written by expert contributors who are rooted in German language and culture the book focuses on German popular culture since 1945 providing an indispensable guide for anyone planning a trip to Germany for business or pleasure or for those who wish to have a deeper understanding of the German nation This book offers a concise in depth overview of the evolution and impact of German media arts lifestyles and recreation written with a historical perspective Criticism of Heaven Roland Boer, 2007 Why do some of the major Marxists of the twentieth century engage extensively with theology What is the influence on their other work This book explores the intersections between Marxism and theology in the work of Ernst Bloch Walter Benjamin Louis Althusser Henri Lefebvre Antonio Gramsci Terry Eagleton Slavoj Žižek and Theodor Adorno Utopia: Social Theory and the Future Keith Tester, Michael Hviid Jacobsen, 2016-02-17 In the light of globalization's failure provide the universal panacea expected by some of its more enthusiastic proponents and the current status of neo liberalism in Europe a search has begun for alternative visions of the future alternatives to the free market and to rampant capitalism Indeed although these alternatives may not be conceived of in terms of being a perfect order there does appear to be a trend towards utopian thinking as people including scholars and intellectuals search for inspiration and visions of better futures If as this search continues it transpires that politics has little to offer then what might social theory have to contribute to the imagination of these futures Does social theory matter at all What resources can it offer this project of rethinking the future Without being tied to any single political platform Utopia Social Theory and the Future explores some of these questions offering a timely and sustained attempt to make social theory relevant through explorations of its resources and possibilities for utopian imaginations. It is often claimed that utopian thought has no legitimate place whatsoever in sociological thinking yet utopianism has remained part and parcel of social theory for centuries. As such, in addition to considering the role of social theory in the imagination of alternative futures, this volume reflects on how social theory may assist us in understanding and appreciating utopia or utopianism as a special topic of interest, a special subject matter, a special analytical focus or a special normative dimension of sociological thinking. Bringing together the latest work from a leading team of social theorists, this volume will be of interest to sociologists, social and political theorists, anthropologists and philosophers.

Gendering Modern German History Karen Hagemann, Jean H. Quataert, 2008-08 To provide a critical overview in a comparative German American perspective is the main aim of this volume which brings together experts from both sides of the Atlantic. Through case studies it demonstrates the extraordinary power of the gender perspective to challenge existing interpretations and rewrite mainstream arguments.

Material Spirit Manuel Asensi, Carl Good, 2013-12-02 The essays in this collection examine philosophical, religious and literary or artistic texts using methodologies and insights that have grown out of reflection on literature and art. In them, the phrase material spirit becomes a point of departure for considering the continuing spectral effects of religious texts and concerns in ways that do not simply call for or assume new or renewed forms of religiosity. The writers in this collection seek to examine religion beyond traditional notions of transcendence. Their topics range from early Christian religious practices to global climate change. Some of the essays explore religious themes or tones in literary texts for example works by Wordsworth, Hopkins, Proust, Woolf and Teresa of Avila. Others approach in a literary-critical mood philosophical or para-philosophical writers such as Bataille, Husserl, Derrida and Benjamin. Still others treat writers of a more explicitly religious orientation such as Augustine, Rosenzweig or Bernard of Clairvaux.

Global Gender Research Christine Bose, Minjeong Kim, 2013-01-11 Readers of Global Gender Research will learn to compare and contrast feminist concerns globally, gain familiarity with the breadth of gender research and understand the national contexts that produced it. This volume provides an in-depth comparative picture of the current state of feminist sociological gender and women's studies research in four regions of the world: Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Caribbean and Europe, as represented by many countries. The introductory essay to each region explains how social science research on women and gender issues has been shaped by economics, politics and culture and by trends that are simultaneously local, regional and global. It familiarizes readers with the wide range of salient issues, research methods, writing styles and leading authors from around the globe. Each regional section includes several chapters on gender research in specific countries that represent the region's diversity and cover the major theoretical and empirical trends that have emerged over time as well as the relationship of key research questions to feminist activism and women's or gender studies. Next, the editors illustrate this new wave of gender scholarship with translated, reprinted samples of research articles from additional countries in the region that cover a wide range of important global topics such as work sexuality masculinities childcare and family issues religion violence law and gender policies Finally this volume provides scholars with extensive bibliographies and a listing of web sites for women s and gender research centers in 85 countries Trinitarian Theology and Power Relations M.

Minister,2014-11-06 This text crafts a trinitarian theology that reorients theology from presumptions about the immateriality of the Trinity toward the places where the Trinity matters material bodies in historical contexts and the intersecting ways political and theological power structures normalize and marginalize bodies on the basis of material difference The Missionary, the Catechist and the Hunter Christina Petterson,2014-05-08 The Missionary the Catechist and the Hunter examines the role of Protestantism in the Danish colonization of Greenland and shows how the process of colonization entails a process of subjectification where the identity of indigenous population is transformed The figure of the hunter commonly regarded as quintessential Inuit figure is traced back to the efforts of the Greenlandic intelligentsia to distance themselves from the hunting lifestyle by producing an abstract hunter identity in Greenlandic literature German in the World

Benedict Schofield,James R. Hodkinson,2020 Weighs the value of Germanophone culture and its study in an age of globalization transnationalism and academic change Language of the Heart Eva Desiree van den Berg,2013-02-27 This book seeks to examine how Sufi thought might provide critical understanding of contemporary life and a pathway towards the recovery of a more meaningful existence Rumi s mystical teachings are of great value at a time of rampant materialism and indiscriminate consumerism and have the potential to illuminate the precarious state of the world as well as revitalize contemporary social critique eco philosophy and bio semiotics in what is increasingly being regarded as a post secular age
