Palliative Care For People With Aids:

A Guide to Primary Care of People with HIV/AIDS, 2004 Palliative Care for People with AIDS Ruth Sims, Veronica Moss, 1994-12 The President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief, 2004 A Clinical Guide to Supportive and Palliative Care for HIV/AIDS U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources and Services Administration, Joseph F. O'Neill, 2012-09-10

The Health Resources and Services Administration HRSA of the United States Department of Health and Human Services has as its mission the improvement of access to health care and services for underserved and vulnerable populations HRSA accomplishes this mission by partnering with community based organizations in the delivery of health and social services with academic health centers in the education of health professionals and with State and local health departments in the areas of prevention public health promotion and health care delivery Improved quality of care and quality of life are the goals of the programs and initiatives of HRSA To that end HRSA's HIV AIDS Bureau has embarked on the publication of A Clinical Guide to Supportive and Palliative Care for HIV AIDS Through the work of visionaries in the fields of HIV AIDS and palliative care we conclude that excellent HIV care can be provided by integrating the principles and framework of palliative care into the delivery of care and services to people living with HIV AIDS throughout the continuum of illness This integration of services holds the promise of patient and family centered care that is proactive in addressing the multitude of issues with which patients are challenged With this volume we seek to expand the definition of palliative care and to realize palliative care's full potential to improve the quality of care and the quality of life of those living with HIV AIDS The HIV AIDS Bureau through its Working Group on Palliative Care in HIV has set forth the following working definition Palliative care is patient and family centered care It optimizes quality of life by active anticipation prevention and treatment of suffering It emphasizes use of an interdisciplinary team approach throughout the continuum of illness placing critical importance on the building of respectful and trusting relationships Palliative care addresses physical intellectual emotional social and spiritual needs It facilitates patient autonomy access to information and choice Palliative care is complementary care not alternative care and therefore should not be provided only when disease directed therapy fails or is unavailable It is a mistake to adopt a palliative perspective and approach only at the last stages of illness One need only reflect on the pain associated with receiving a first HIV diagnosis or upon the psychological and spiritual suffering that are the substrates of substance abuse and other behaviors exposing individuals to HIV to realize the importance of using palliative care principles at all points along the course of this illness Providers should focus their attention on comfort relief of suffering and quality of life throughout the course of HIV disease The central role of medication adherence is not to be underestimated in stabilizing the course of disease but other factors can be equally important in optimizing clinical outcomes These factors include a wide range of hard to control socioeconomic as well as personal characteristics an understanding of the disease process empowerment in relation to personal health a safe place to live freedom from pain and distressing symptoms adequate nutrition treatment for substance abuse depression and other mental illness hope adequate help of friends family and other caregivers especially when functional status is diminished and disease progression is ongoing These challenges can be met successfully by using a palliative care framework to approach the patient providers caregivers family loved ones and the health care system This manual is organized to address the many aspects of palliative care that are key in caring for the person living with HIV and AIDS A wealth of expertise and experience in the areas of HIV and palliative care has provided a unique document that expands the realms of both disciplines

HIV and Aging M. Brennan-Ing,R.F. DeMarco,2016-11-22 Despite decades of attention on building a global HIV research and programming agenda HIV in older populations has generally been neglected until recently This new book focuses on HIV and aging in the context of ageism with regard to prevention treatment guidelines funding and the engagement of communities and health and social service organizations The lack of perceived HIV risk in late adulthood among older people themselves as well on the part of providers and society in general has led to a lack of investment in education testing and programmatic responses Ageism perpetuates the invisibility of older adults and in turn renders current medical and social service systems unprepared to respond to patients needs While ageism may lead to some advantages discounts for services for example it is the negative aspects that must be addressed when determining the appropriate community level response to the epidemic

HIV Psychiatry James A. Bourgeois,Mary Ann Adler Cohen,Getrude Makurumidze,2021-11-18 This book is a practical guide in understanding how to prevent HIV transmission to recognize risk behaviors and to add something else to their repertoires It aims to empower clinicians and provide a sense of security and competence with the recognition and understanding of some of the psychiatric illnesses that complicate and perpetuate the HIV pandemic that continue to persist throughout every area of the world despite the magnitude of the progress that has transformed the illness from a rapidly fatal to chronic illness that is no longer life limiting Missing in most of the literature on HIV is the subtle and sometimes not so subtle contribution of psychiatric symptoms psychiatric illness and risk behaviors that drive the pandemic and serve as catalysts for new infections This practical guide provides state of the art understanding of not only prevention but also a way to recognize risk behaviors psychiatric symptoms and psychiatric illnesses that will demystify and decode the sometimes enigmatic and frustrating reasons for nonadherence with diagnostic procedures and life saving treatments and care All behaviors and pathology are covered as well as the resources and treatments available The goal of this text is to refresh knowledge on the current state of psychiatric illness management among people living with HIV to provide a concise volume on the psychiatric aspects of HIV prevention and treatment that substantially impact the overall care of the patient and to help understand the psychiatric catalysts of the pandemic Written by experts in the field HIV Psychiatry A Practical Guide for Clinicians provides enduring guidance to medical and other professionals caring for complicated clinical patients as they face ongoing challenges in working with persons with HIV and AIDS Medicine and Care of the Dying Milton James Lewis, 2007 This book is for palliative care practitioners and all health care professionals with an interest in end of life care Health Care Needs Assessment Ian Higginson, 2018-04-19 This volume focusing on palliative and terminal care is part of a survey of health care needs for specific conditions published on behalf of the Department of Health This study overall considers questions such as the population's needs the services available or unavailable to them the effectiveness of these services and other perspectives in disease and service areas This is the second series of needs assessment reviews Health Care Needs Assessment Andrew Stevens, James Raftery, 1997 This is a survey of health care needs for specific conditions published on behalf of the Department of Health This study considers questions such as the population's needs the services available or unavailable to them the effectiveness of these services and other perspectives in disease and service areas This is the second series of needs assessment reviews Gcse Health and Social Care Aqa - Student Book Elizabeth Haworth, Carol Forshaw, 2002-11-06 This textbook meets all the assessment requirements of the AQA specification It includes differentiated activities case studies based on real care and exam board specific assessment sections to provide guidance and preparation

Palliative Care for Chronic Cancer Patients in the Community Michael Silberman, 2020-10-29 The new global cancer data suggests that the global burden has risen to 18.1 million new cases per year and 9.6 million cancer deaths per year A number of factors appear to be driving this increase in particular a growing and aging global population and an increase of exposure to cancer risk factors linked to social and economic development For rapidly growing economies the data suggests a shift from poverty or infection related cancers to those associated with lifestyles more typical in industrialized countries There is still large geographical diversity in cancer occurrence and variations in the magnitude and profile of the disease between and within world regions There are specific types of cancer that dominate globally lung female breast and colorectal cancer and the regional variations in common cancer types signal the extent to which societal economic and lifestyle changes interplay to differentially impact on the profile of this most complex group of diseases Unfortunately despite advances in cancer care a significant proportion of patients at home experience sub optimal outcomes Barriers to successful treatment outcomes include but are not limited to access to oncologists in the primary health centers non adherence lack of experienced oncology and palliative care nurses in the community inadequate monitoring and the lack of training of family and pediatric physicians Telemedicine approaches including telephone triage education telemonitoring teleconsultation and status tracking through mobile applications have shown promise in further improving outcomes in particular for chronic cancer patients following their hospitalization Lessons can be learned from existing hospices in North America the United Kingdom Australia Centers of Excellence in African Uganda and modern community services in India Kerala An important goal of this book is to describe and encourage professionals to develop new community programs in palliative care which include training and empowering physicians and nurses in the community on the principles of palliative care The Middle East Cancer Consortium MECC together with the American Society of Clinical Oncology ASCO and the American Oncology Nursing Society ONS have conducted multiple courses ranging from basic palliative care to more specialized training in palliative care for multiple nationalities in Europe Asia and Africa Our experience clearly indicates that to promote such activities one needs strong leadership and confirmed political will to support the endeavor The new book will emphasize the importance of having a core of multiple stakeholders including community leaders government NGOs and media to be actively involved in advocating for the cause and generating public awareness This text will provide the reader with a comprehensive understanding of the outside of the hospital treatment of cancer patients by medical paramedical and volunteer personnel In doing so this text will encourage the creation of new palliative care services improving upon the existing ones and stimulate further research in this field Part 1 of the text will begin with an overview of the current state of affairs of services provided to cancer patients while being cared for by primary health centers It will also review the current literature regarding medical and psychological based therapy options in the community for cancer patients at different stages of their disease Part 2 will address the unique role of the community nurse within the framework of the multidisciplinary team treating the patient in the attempt to provide optimal evaluation and care in very challenging situations such as with terminal patients Part 3 will provide insightful models of this new discipline and serve as a valuable resource for physicians nurses social workers and others involved in the care of cancer patients The book will take a multidisciplinary approach integrating clinical and environmental data for practical management to enhance the efficacy of treatment while relieving suffering Part 4 will also discuss the application of modern technological approaches to track symptoms quality of life diet mobility duration of sleep and medication use including pain killers in chronic cancer patients in the community Part 5 of the book will also be devoted to modes of developing a collaborative program between governmental and non governmental organization sectors This includes volunteer workers in close collaboration with medical professionals for providing emotional and spiritual support nursing care nutritional support and empowering family caregivers Such a model makes palliative care in the community a people s movement thus transferring part of the responsibility and ownership to the community
