On the Grid Michael Warner,Seymour H Knox Professor of English Michael Warner,2025-10-24 On the Grid raises critical questions about the utopia of green energy that currently guides so many responses to climate change Environmental thought increasingly centers on infrastructure and in particular the goal of a decarbonized electrical grid Electrify everything is the new mantra The aim is unlimited energy use but without greenhouse gas emissions What kind of citizen consumer is imagined when climate action takes the form of a green grid What is the relation between means and ends How does infrastructural shift matter for the way we think about environmental ethics and politics What happens for example to the older ethical mantra of reduce re use recycle What other features of the environmentalist tradition now need revision By what process and with what kind of agency is the environmental future being built around and within us How might conversations about the environment recognize the new reality On the Grid seeks to generate such questionings in part by reviewing the cultural and political history that has made grid infrastructure a central but usually unrecognized dimension of government as well as a structuring framework of the modern Provided by publisher

French Encounters with the American Counterculture 1960-1980 Caroline Maniaque-Benton, 2016-12-05 French American interrelationships in the areas of design and creative thinking have been under acknowledged It is normally asserted that French architects looked to North America for technical lessons in the development of modern architecture in the 1960s but that the French cultural environment was generally hostile to American ideas This book includes interviews with French architects who visited the United States in the 1960s 1970s and then assumed influential positions in the press and education in France Some of these architects found in non mainstream America and its radical groups of architectural drop outs a liberating force free of the taint of American capitalism and the high investment technology Often living in alternative student communities they saw highly innovative low cost technical and structural systems placed in the service of collective forms of living which represented a critique not only of professional architectural practice but also of bourgeois forms of living Many of them also studied in American schools of architecture and came in contact with an intellectual and interdisciplinary style of architectural education unavailable in France at that time Nature, Technology, and Society Victor Ferkiss,1994-11 Traces cultural attitudes toward the environment and technology across the span of human civilization While all human societies have enlisted technologies to control nature the last hundred years have witnessed the technological exploitation and destruction of natural resources on an unprecedented scale As environmental groups and the scientific community sound the alarm about deforestation global warming and ozone depletion the obvious question arises how did we get where we are today In Nature Technology and Society Victor Ferkiss sets out to answer this central question arguing that we cannot escape from our present environmental predicament unless we understand the ideas which have created it Ferkiss asks the basic questions concerning humans and their relationship to the environment He traces cultural attitudes towards the environment from early mankind to the present day This fascinating book is distinctive both in its comprehensiveness and in its attempt to place side by side influential thinkers and movements with varied views on these issues The Maze of Ingenuity, second edition Arnold Pacey,1992-01-23 From cathedrals to star wars Arnold Pacey looks at the interaction of technologies and society over the last thousand years and uses that survey to argue for a more humane form of future technological development The second edition of The Maze of Ingenuity concentrates on Europe and North America and incorporates recent insights from the history and sociology of technology A new series of chapters extends Pacey s discussion of the role of ideas and ideals in technology in the period since the industrial revolution Contents The Cathedral Builders European Technical Achievement between 1100 and 1280 A Century of Invention 1250 1350 Mathematics and the Arts 1450 1600 The Practical Arts and the Scientific Revolution Social Ideals in Technical Change German Miners and English Puritans 1450 1650 The State and Technical Progress 1660 1770 Technology in the Industrial Revolution Conflicting Ideals in Engineering America and Britain 1790 1870 Institutionalizing Technical Ideals 1820 1920 Idealistic Trends in Twentieth Century Technology Convergence ,1980 Rethinking Gandhi and Nonviolent Relationality Debjani Ganguly,John Docker,2008-03-25 This book presents a rethinking of the world legacy of Mahatma Gandhi in this era of unspeakable global violence Through interdisciplinary research key Gandhian concepts are revisited by tracing their genealogies in multiple histories of world contact and by foregrounding their relevance to contemporary struggles to regain the humane in the midst of global conflict The relevance of Gandhian notions of ahimsa and satyagraha is assessed in the context of contemporary events when religious fundamentalisms of various kinds are competing with the arrogance and unilateralism of imperial capital to reduce the world to a state of international lawlessness Covering a wide and comprehensive range of topics such as Gandhi s vegetarianism and medical practice his successes and failures as a litigator in South Africa his experiments with communal living and his concepts of non violence and satyagraha The book combines historical philosophical and textual readings of different aspects of the leader s life and works Rethinking Gandhi in a New World Order will be of interest to students and academics interested in peace and conflict studies South Asian history world history postcolonial studies and studies on Gandhi Environmental Action ,1981 Beyond Schools Horace B.
