Paper Palaces The Rise Of The Renaissance Architectural Treatise:

Paper Palaces Vaughan Hart, Peter Hicks, 1998-01-01 A collection of essays examining early editions of Vitruvius writings and all the major Renaissance architectural treatises by authors such as Alberti Di Giorgio Colonna Serlio and Palladio The authors look at the significance of the treaty in the Renaissance and trace its decline in the late 17th century Visual Theology of the Huguenots Randal Carter Working, 2017-02-23 The role of architecture within the French Reformed tradition has been of recent scholarly interest seen in the work of Helene Guicharnaud Catharine Randall Andrew Spicer and others Few however have investigated in depth the relationship between Reformed theology and architectural forms In The Visual Theology of the Huguenots Randal Carter Working explores the roots of Reformed aesthetics set against the background of late medieval church architecture Indicating how demonstrably important the work of Serlio is in the spreading of the ideas of Vitruvius Working explains the influence of classical Roman building on French Reformed architecture He follows this with an examination of five important Huguenot architects Philibert de l'Orme Bernard Palissy Jacques Androuet du Cerceau Salomon de Brosse and Jacques Perret The distinct language of Huguenot architecture is revealed by his comparative analysis of three churches St Pierre in Geneva a medieval church overhauled by the Reformers St Gervais St Protais a Parisian Catholic church whose facade was completed by the French Reformed architect Salomon de Brosse and the temple at Charenton a structure also designed and built by de Brosse These three buildings demonstrate how the contribution of Huguenot architecture gave expression to Reformed theological ideas and helped bring about the renewal of classicism in France Pieter Bruegel the Elder Todd M. Richardson, 2017-07-05 Pieter Bruegel the Elder Art Discourse in the Sixteenth Century Netherlands examines the later images by Bruegel in the context of two contemporary discourses art theoretical and convivial The first concerns the purely visual interactions between artists and artistic practices that unfold in pictures which often transgress the categorical boundaries modern scholars place on their work such as sacred and profane antique and modern and Italian and Northern In this context the images themselves those of Bruegel his contemporaries and predecessors make up the primary source material from which the author argues The second deals with the dialogue that occurred between viewers in front of pictures and the way in which pictorial strategies facilitated their visual experience and challenged their analytical capabilities In this regard the author expands his base of primary sources to include convivial texts dialogues and correspondences and texts by rhetoricians and Northern humanists addressing art theoretical issues Challenging the conventional wisdom that the artist eschewed Italianate influences this study demonstrates how Bruegel's later peasant paintings reveal a complicated artistic dialogue in which visual concepts and pictorial motifs from Italian and classical ideas are employed for a subject that was increasingly recognized in the sixteenth century as a specifically Northern phenomenon Similar to the Dutch rhetorician societies and French Pléiade poets who cultivated the vernacular language using classical Latin the function of this inter pictorial discourse the author argues was not simply to imitate international trends a common practice during the period but to use it to cultivate his own visual vernacular language Although the focus is primarily on Bruegel's later work the author's conclusions are applied to sketch a broader understanding of both the artist himself and the vibrant artistic dialogue occurring in the Netherl

Architecture, Liberty and Civic Order Carroll William Westfall, 2016-03-09 This book brings to light central topics that are neglected in current histories and theories of architecture and urbanism These include the role of imitation in earlier centuries and its potential role in present practice the necessary relationship between architecture urbanism and the rural districts and their counterpart in the civil order that builds and uses what is built The narrative traces two models for the practice of architecture One follows the ancient model in which the architect renders his service to serve the interests of others it survives and is dominant in modernism The other first formulated in the fifteenth century by Leon Battista Alberti has the architect use his talent in coordination with others to contribute to the common good of a republican civil order that seeks to protect its own liberty and that of its citizens Palladio practiced this way and so did Thomas Jefferson when he founded a uniquely American architecture the counterpart to the nation's founding This narrative gives particular emphasis to the contrasting developments in architecture on the opposite sides of the English Channel The book presents the value for clients and architects today and in the future of drawing on history and tradition It stresses the importance indeed the urgency of restoring traditional practices so that we can build just beautiful and sustainable cities and rural districts that will once again assist citizens in living not only abundantly but also well as they pursue their happiness

The Eloquent Body Jennifer Nevile, 2004-11-12 This book adds an entirely new dimension to the consideration of Humanism and Italian culture It will make a welcome addition to the field of cultural studies by broadening the subject to consider an important source of information that has been previously overlooked Timothy McGee The Eloquent Body offers a history and analysis of court dancing during the Renaissance within the context of Italian Humanism Each chapter addresses different philosophical social or intellectual aspects of dance during the 15th century Some topics include issues of economic class education and power relating dance treatises to the ideals of Humanism and the meaning of the arts ideas of the body as they relate to elegance nobility and ethics the intellectual history of dance based on contemporaneous readings of Pythagoras and Plato and a comparison of geometric dance structures to geometric order in Humanist architecture

Architecture and the Language Debate Nicholas Temple, 2020-01-28 This book examines the creative exchanges between architects artists and intellectuals from the Early Renaissance to the beginning of the Enlightenment in the forging of relationships between architecture and emerging concepts of language in early modern Italy The study extends across the spectrum of linguistic disputes during this time among members of the clergy humanists philosophers and polymaths on issues of grammar rhetoric philology etymology and epigraphy and how these disputes paralleled and informed important developments in architectural thinking and practice Drawing upon a wealth of primary source material such as humanist tracts philosophical works architectural antiquarian treatises epigraphic philological studies religious sermons and grammaticae the book traces key periods when the emerging field of linguistics in early modern Italy impacted on the theory design and symbolism of buildings

Construction as Depicted in Western Art Michael Tutton, 2021-01-30 The Art of Building has captured the interest of artists from the Roman period to today The process of construction appears in western art in all its details trades and operations Michael Tutton investigates the representation of building processes and materials through an examination of paintings illuminated manuscripts watercolours prints drawings and sculpture Technical terms are explained and detailed interpretations of each work are provided with insights into the artists inspiration and themes Even paintings not wholly or principally devoted to construction sites may give tantalising glimpses of building activity How do these images convey meaning How much is imagined how much is authentic Fully referenced endnotes bibliography and glossary complement the text and captions informing not only the architectural and construction historian but also those simply interested in art

Artistic Practices and Cultural Transfer in Early Modern Italy Allison Sherman, 2017-07-05 For too long the centre of the Renaissance has been considered to be Rome and the art produced in or inspired by it This collection of essays dedicated to Deborah Howard brings together an impressive group of internationally recognised scholars of art and architecture to showcase both the diversity within and the porosity between the centre and periphery in Renaissance art Without abandoning Rome but together with other centres of art production the essays both shift their focus away from conventional categories and bring together recent trends in Renaissance studies notably a focus on cultural contact material culture and historiography They explore the material mechanisms for the transmission and evolution of ideas artistic training and networks as well as the dynamics of collaboration and exchange between artists theorists and patrons The chapters each with a wealth of groundbreaking research and previously unpublished documentary evidence as well as innovative methodologies reinterpret Italian art relating to canonical sites and artists such as Michelangelo Titian Tintoretto Veronese and Sebastiano del Piombo in addition to showcasing the work of several hitherto neglected architects painters and an inimitable engineer inventor

Women, Art, and Architecture in Northern Italy, 1520-1580 Katherine A.

McIver, 2017-09-29 Expanding interdisciplinary investigations into gender and material culture Katherine A McIver here adds a new dimension to Renaissance patronage studies by considering domestic art the decoration of the domestic interior as opposed to patronage of the fine arts painting sculpture and architecture Taking a multidimensional approach McIver looks at women as collectors of precious material goods as organizers of the early modern home and as decorators of its interior By analyzing the inventories of women's possessions McIver considers the wide range of domestic objects that women owned such as painted and inlaid chests painted wall panels tapestries fine fabrics for wall and bed hangings and elaborate jewelry pendant earrings brooches garlands for the hair necklaces and rings as well as personal devotional objects Considering all forms of patronage opportunities open to women she evaluates their role in commissioning and utilizing works of art and architecture as a means of negotiating power in the court setting in the process offering fresh insights into their lives limitations and the possibilities open to them as patrons Using her subjects financial records to track their sources of income and the circumstances under which it was spent McIver thereby also provides insights into issues of Renaissance women's economic rights and responsibilities The primary focus on the lives and patronage patterns of three relatively unknown women Laura Pallavicina Sanvitale Giacomina Pallavicina and Camilla Pallavicina provides a new model for understanding what women bought displayed collected and commissioned By moving beyond the traditional artistic centers of Florence Venice and Rome analyzing instead women's artistic patronage in the feudal courts around Parma and Piacenza during the sixteenth century McIver nuances our understanding of women's position and power both in and out of the home Carefully integrating extensive archival

The Anthropomorphic Lens Walter Melion, Bret Rothstein, Michel Weemans, 2014-11-06 Anthropomorphism the projection of the human form onto the every aspect of the world closely relates to early modern notions of analogy and microcosm What had been construed in Antiquity as a ready metaphor for the order of creation was reworked into a complex system relating the human body to the body of the world Numerous books and images cosmological diagrams illustrated treatises of botany and zoology maps alphabets collections of ornaments architectural essays are entirely constructed on the anthropomorphic analogy Exploring the complexities inherent in such work the interdisciplinary essays in this volume address how the anthropomorphic model is fraught with contradictions and tensions between magical and rational speculative and practical thought Contributors include Pamela Brekka Anne Laure van Bruaene Ralph Dekoninck Agn s Guiderdoni Christopher P Heuer Sarah Kyle Walter S Melion Christina Normore Elizabeth Petcu Bertrand Prevost Bret Rothstein Paul Smith Miya Tokumitsu Michel Weemans and Elke Werner

The Jewish Ghetto and the Visual Imagination of Early Modern Venice Dana E. Katz,2017-08-18 This book explores how the Jewish ghetto engaged the sensory imagination of Venice in complex and contradictory ways to shape urban space and reshape Christian Jewish relations

Salutogenic Urbanism Mohammad Gharipour,Anatole Tchikine,2023-08-31 This book offers a new salutogenic perspective on the development of early modern cities by exploring profound and complex ways in which architecture and landscape design served to promote public health on an urban scale Focusing on fifteenth through nineteenth century Europe it addresses the histories of spaces and institutions that supported salubrious living highlighting the intersections of medical theory government policy and architectural practice in designing improving and monumentalizing the infrastructure of sanitation and healthcare Studies in this book highlight the joint role of design thinking and scientific practice in reforming the facilities for treating and preventing disease the impact of cross cultural exchange on early modern strategies of urban improvement and the creation of new therapeutic environments through state communal and private initiatives concerned with the preservation of physical and mental health from recreational landscapes to spa resorts

Approaches to Drawing in Architectural and Urban Design Fabio Colonnese,Nuno Grancho,Robin Schaeffer,2024-04-04 Architects draw for a variety of purposes they draw to assimilate places and precedents to generate ideas to develop a concept into a consistent project in a team to communicate ideas and solutions to patrons and clients and to guide building contractors during the construction stages as well as to produce further elaborations in order to publish their project in a treatise a journal or their own portfolio Most importantly architects draw to think and to manage complexity in a visual way By taking into account innovative and interdisciplinary uses of architectural drawing in the design process both historical and current the collection of chapters and interviews in this book frames a new critical perspective and a uniquely contextual appreciation of drawing as a way to encourage spatial thinking and practice in architecture and urbanism The authors take the discussion to a new level of philosophical sophistication while also considering drawing in relation to a series of specific engagements with urban development planning and architecture

Fenestration Practice and Theory in Early Modern Europe Hentie Louw,2024-06-05 This book explores the transformation of the window during the Early Modern Period in Europe Following the Italian Renaissance new stylistic norms for modern classical windows had to be invented Building a new classical repertoire drew on existing traditions in fenestration as local builders throughout Europe struggled with the constraints of varying climatic conditions customs and physical resources in pursuit of a broader vision of an international classical revival With the Renaissance the architectural emphasis shifted towards secular design and as the classical revival gained momentum a quest for a cultured lifestyle commensurate with the new architecture increased demand for sophisticated fenestration systems in civil architecture The movement coincided with a period of dramatic climate change the so called Little Ice Age c 1450 c 1850 adding urgency to the campaign for transforming fenestration practice By the late seventeenth century Northern European builders had developed appropriate indigenous classical window forms for their respective societies functional products sophisticated enough to form the basis of new architectural styles northern classical traditions that rivalled and in some respects surpassed those created in Italy Their achievement was embodied in the two flagships of the movement the Franco Italian folding casement the French window and the English mechanical sliding window the sash window Canon of the Five Orders of Architecture Giacomo Barozzi da Vignola, 2013-04-29 One of history's most published architectural treatises this Renaissance volume identifies the five orders Tuscan Doric Ionic Corinthian and Composite and illustrates them in full page elevational detail The Rise of the Image Thomas Frangenberg, 2017-07-05 The Rise of the Image reveals how illustrations have come to play a primary part in books on art and architecture Italian Renaissance art is the main focus for this anthology of essays which analyse key episodes in the history of illustration from the sixteenth to the twentieth century The authors raise new issues about the imagery in books on the visual arts by Leonardo da Vinci Giorgio Vasari Sebastiano Serlio Andrea Palladio Girolamo Teti and Andrea Pozzo The concluding essays evaluate the roles of reproductive media including photography in Victorian and twentieth century art books Throughout images in books are considered as vehicles for ideas rather than as transparent passive visual forms dependent on their accompanying texts Thus The Rise of the Image enriches our understanding of the role of prints in books on art Brill's Companion to the Reception of Vitruvius, 2024-03-18 As a master of his discipline the ancient Roman architect Vitruvius has been read widely for centuries This collection of essays by an international team of experts investigates his influence and reception in ideas artistic forms and building practices from antiquity to modern day The stories of influence told in these pages suggest that it is the unbridgeable gulf between the Vitruvian text and surviving monuments that makes reading the Ten Books so endlessly compelling The contributors to this volume offer their own original readings which are organized into the five sections transmission translation reception practice and Vitruvian topics Occasions of State J.R. Mulryne, Krista De Jonge, R.L.M. Morris, Pieter Martens, 2018-12-07 This sixth volume in the European Festival Studies series stems from a joint conference Venice 2013 between the Society for European Festivals Research and the European Science Foundation's PALATIUM project Drawing on up to date scholarship a Europe wide group of early career and experienced academics provides a unique account of spectacular occasions of state which influenced the political social and cultural lives of contemporary societies International pan European turbulence associated with post Reformation religious conflict supplies the context within which the book explores how the period's rulers and elite families competed for power in a forecast of today's divided world
