Los pájaros azules José Manuel González de la Cuesta, 2024-04-01

No hay literatura más excelsa que la poesía porque con ella las palabras alcanzan un nivel superior de arte. Como escritor de poemas me considero un poeta circunstancial sin oficio que ha ido plasmado a lo largo de toda su vida sentimientos que brotaban a borbotones en forma de versos. De esa desnudez del alma surge este libro recopilatorio de poemas escritos durante años en los que el amor, el desamor, la desazón, el agradecimiento, la pasión y el vacío interior han convivido conmigo, convirtiéndose en sujetos con los que he compartido mesa, sueños, llanto, lágrimas, noches de insomnio y emociones que en el momento de vivirlas se manifestaban como un revulsivo interior, a veces paralizante, a veces exultante.

Hispanic and Lusophone women filmmakers Parvati Nair, Julian Gutierrez-Albilla, 2019-01-04

This volume examines the films of Hispanic and Lusophone women filmmakers from the 1930s to the present day. It establishes productive connections between film practices across these geographical areas by identifying common areas of concern on the part of these female filmmakers. Focusing on aesthetic, theoretical and socio-historical analyses, it questions the manifest or latent gender and sexual politics that inform and structure the emerging cinematic productions by women filmmakers in Portugal, Spain, Latin America and the US. With a combination of scholars from the UK, the US, Spain and Latin America, the volume documents and interprets a fascinating corpus of films made by Hispanic and Lusophone women and proposes research strategies and methodologies that can expand our understanding of socio-cultural and psychic constructions of gender and sexual politics. An essential resource to rethink notions of gender identity and subjectivity, it is a unique contribution to Spanish and Latin American Film Studies and Film Studies.

Taking Back the Streets Temma Kaplan,2004-02-16 Toward the end of the twentieth century in places ranging from Latin America and the Caribbean to Europe the United States South Africa Nigeria Iran Japan China and South Asia women and young people took to the streets to fight injustices they believed they could not confront in any other way In the hope of changing the way politics is done they called officials to account for atrocities they had committed and unjust laws they had upheld They attempted to drive authoritarian governments from power by publicizing the activities these officials tried to hide This powerful book takes us into the midst of these movements to give us a close up look at how a new generation bore witness to human rights violations resisted the efforts of regimes to shame and silence young idealists and created a vibrant public life that remains a vital part of ongoing struggles for democracy and justice today Through personal interviews newspaper accounts family letters and research in the archives of human rights groups this book portrays women and young people from Argentina Chile and Spain as emblematic of others around the world in their public appeals for direct democracy An activist herself author Temma Kaplan gives readers a deep and immediate sense of the sacrifices and accomplishments the suffering and the power of these uncommon common people By showing that mobilizations sometimes accompanied by shaming rituals were more than episodic more than ways for societies to protect themselves against government abuses and even state terrorism her book envisions a creative political sphere a fifth estate in which ordinary citizens can reorient the political practices of democracy in our time Diccionario argentino Tobías Garzón, 1910 El mundo militar, 1910
