Sacred Rituals At Home:

Sacred Ritual, Profane Space Jenn Cianca, 2018-05-23 The first three centuries of Christianity are increasingly seen in modern scholarship as sites of complexity Sacred Ritual Profane Space examines the Christian meeting places of the time and overturns long held notions about the earliest Christians as utopian rather than place bound people By mapping what is known from early Christian texts onto the archaeological data for Roman domestic spaces Jenn Cianca provides a new lens for examining the relationship between early Christianity and sites of worship She proposes that not only were Roman homes sacred sites in their own right but they were also considered sacred by the Christian communities that used them In many cases meeting space would have included the presence of the Roman domestic cult shrines Despite the fact that the domestic cult was polytheistic Cianca asserts that its practices likely continued in places used for worship by Christians She also argues that continued practice of the domestic cult in Roman domestic spaces did not preclude Christians from using houses as churches or from understanding their rituals or their meeting places as sacred Raising a host of questions about identity ritual affiliation and domestic practice Sacred Ritual Profane Space demonstrates how sacred space was constructed through ritual enactment in early Christian communities

Rituals for Home and Parish John J. Raths Schmidt, Gaynell Bordes Cronin, 1996 This simple book helps families appreciate their dignity as home churches by showing them how to create rituals unique to their needs It also helps churches meaningfully connect these home rituals into the larger community Almost 40 ready to use rituals are included covering a wide variety of life events

Revealing the Sacred in Asian and Pacific America Jane Iwamura, Paul Spickard, 2013-10-11 Asian and Pacific Islander Americans constitute the fastest growing racial group in the United States They are also one of the most religiously diverse Through them Asian traditions such as Hinduism Sikhism Confucianism and Buddhism have been introduced into every major city and across a wide swath of Middle America The contributors to this volume provide an essential interdisciplinary resource for the study of Asian and Pacific Islander American religion

The Sacred Home in Renaissance Italy Abigail Brundin, Deborah Howard, Mary Laven, 2018-07-12 The Sacred Home in Renaissance Italy explores the rich devotional life of the Italian household between 1450 and 1600 Rejecting the enduring stereotype of the Renaissance as a secular age this interdisciplinary study reveals the home to have been an important site of spiritual revitalization Books buildings objects spaces images and archival sources are scrutinized to cast new light on the many ways in which religion infused daily life within the household Acts of devotion from routine prayers to extraordinary religious experiences such as miracles and visions frequently took place at home amid the joys and trials of domestic life from childbirth and marriage to sickness and death Breaking free from the usual focus on Venice Florence and Rome The Sacred Home investigates practices of piety across the Italian peninsula with particular attention paid to the city of Naples the Marche and the Venetian mainland It also looks beyond the elite to consider artisanal and lower status households and reveals gender and age as factors that powerfully conditioned religious experience have formed the medieval city since its foundation back in 969 AD. Until early in the 20th century they made up the primary urban divisions of the city and were residential in nature. Contemporary hawari, by contrast, are increasingly dominated by commercial and industrial activity. This medieval urban maze of extremely short, broken, zigzag streets and dead ends are defensible territories, powerful institutions, and important social systems. While the hawari have been studied as an exemplar for urban structure of medieval Islamic urbanism and as individual building typologies, this book is the first to examine in detail the socio-spatial practice of the architecture of home in the city. It investigates how people live, communicate, and relate to each other within their houses or shared spaces of the alleys, and in doing so, to uncover several new socio-spatial dimensions and meanings in this architectural form. In an attempt to re-establish the link between architecture past and present and to understand the changing social needs of communities, this book uncovers the notion of home as central to understanding architecture in such a city with long history as Cairo. It firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo. It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city, highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large. Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system. In order to analyse the complexity and interconnectedness of the components and elements of the hawari as a collective home, it layers its narratives of architectural and social developments as a domestic environment over the past two hundred years and in doing so, explores the in-depth social meaning and performance of spaces both private and public.

Culture of The Sacred Space Olimpia Niglio, 2024-12-03. This book highlights the relationship between sacred architecture and tourism, specifically focusing on the role of interior design strategies. It explores how the interior design of sacred spaces can influence the tourist experience and shape their perception of these places. The book touches upon elements such as spatial organization, symbolism, material selection, lighting, and acoustics, all of which contribute to creating a meaningful and immersive environment for visitors. It explores the architectural design, ideological motivations, and the historical context surrounding the palace's construction. The book also addresses the eventual abandonment of the project and its transformation of their uses, reflecting on the complexities of realizing utopian visions in architecture. It examines how the sanctuary's architectural design and spatial arrangement interact with the surrounding landscape, including elements such as topography, vegetation, and water features. Moreover, it focuses on the interior design and explores the symbolism, spatial organization, artistic elements, and spiritual experiences associated with the dome interiors of these structures. The book showcases the historical context, cultural influences, and the evolution of design principles that shaped these remarkable spaces. Also, this book investigates the transition of visionary architectural drawings from the realm of professional architects. Furthermore, it explores how architectural drawings serve as a medium for expressing imaginative and utopian ideas and how this transition occurs in the context of architectural education Home and Identity in Late Life Graham D. Rowles, 2005-09-01 Leading scholars offering international and multidisciplinary viewpoints examine the meaning of home to elders and the ways in which this meaning may be sustained threatened or modified according to changes associated with growing old Organized into four sections The Essence of Home Disruptions of Home Creating and Recreating Home and Community Perspectives on the Meaning of Home this volume explores topics including What makes a house a home What role does the meaning of home play in the process of relocation to another place of residence What is the relationship between a person's home life and cherished possessions such as symbolic jewelry or religious items in late life How does the community neighborhood environment influence the way that older people feel about the places in which they live Contributors include Hans Werner Wahl Robert L Rubinstein Edmund Sherman Carolyn Norris Baker and Rick Scheidt among others As a special feature this volume concludes with critical commentaries from three eminent scholars Amos Rapoport Kim Dovey and Marie Versperi This volume will be of interest to practitioners researchers upper level graduates graduate level students in gerontology environmental psychology social work and nursing It will be valuable to everyone in the helping professions who seek a deeper understanding of the ways in which being at home and attachment to place plays a key role in the life experience and well being of their clients as they grow older House and Home Thomas Barrie, 2017-03-16 House and home are words routinely used to describe where and how one lives This book challenges predominant definitions and argues that domesticity fundamentally satisfies the human need to create and inhabit a defined place in the world Consequently house and home have performed numerous cultural and ontological roles and have been assiduously represented in scripture literature art and philosophy This book presents how the search for home in an unpredictable world led people to create myths about the origins of architecture houses for their gods and house tombs for eternal life Turning to more recent topics it discusses how writers often used simple huts as a means to address the essentials of existence modernist architects envisioned the capacity of house and home to improve society and the suburban house was positioned as a superior setting for culture and family Throughout the book house and home are critically examined to illustrate the perennial role and capacity of architecture to articulate the human condition position it more meaningfully in the world and assist in our collective homecoming

Religion and the New Immigrants Helen Rose Ebaugh, Janet Saltzman Chafetz, 2000-10-18 New immigrants those arriving since the Immigration Reform Act of 1965 have forever altered American culture and have been profoundly altered in turn Although the religious congregations they form are often a nexus of their negotiation between the old and new they have received little scholarly attention Religion and the New Immigrants fills this gap Growing out of the carefully designed Religion Ethnicity and the New Immigration Research project Religion and the New Immigrants combines in depth studies of thirteen congregations in the Houston area with seven thematic essays looking across their diversity The congregations range from Vietnamese Buddhist to Greek Orthodox a Zoroastrian center to a multi ethnic Assembly of God presenting an astounding array of ethnicity and religious practice Common research questions and the common location of the congregations give the volume a unique comparative focus Religion and the New Immigrants is an essential reference for scholars of immigration ethnicity and American religion The Ainu of Japan Barbara Aoki Poisson,2002-01-01 Describes the history modern and traditional cultural practices and economies geographic background and ongoing oppression and struggles of the Ainu of Japan Encyclopedia of Asian American Folklore and Folklife Jonathan H.
