SACRIFICED LIVES

KRISTEVA ON WOMEN AND VIOLENCE

MARTHA J. REINEKE

"An important and exciting contribution to the field of feminist theory, social theory, and continental philosophy . . . that will interest not only students of Kristeva, but those who are interested in all forms of social violence, feminist theory, and women's issues as well." —Tamzin Lorraine, Swarthmore College

Why did medieval women mystics starve themselves? What caused the European witch hunts, and why were its victims tortured and killed? Why has the Christian West regularly found maternal figures threatening? To answer these questions, Martha Reineke advances a theory of sacrifice, inspired by Julia Kristeva and René Girard, that attempts to account for violence in Western culture, the human proclivity for bodily mutilation and abuse, and women's special vulnerability to violence.

Reineke understands sacrifice as an effort to counter unrest and disorder in society. She gives special attention to two especially perplexing questions: Why must victims die in order for the sacrificial gesture to be effective? What accounts for the ritual probing, mutilation, and slow death of the victim? With Kristeva, Reineke traces the logic of sacrifice to the infant's struggle to separate from the maternal body and acquire its own place in the world. During times of crisis, humans recall those long-forgotten efforts and ritually reinvoke them, often with lethal consequences. Reading the stories of mystics, witches, and mothers in light of this scenario, Reineke explains how the pattern of violence described here has placed women especially at risk — and why religion has played a pivotal role.

A challenging and controversial book, Sacrificed Lives constructs an important bridge between "esoteric," postmodern theory and "ordinary" human life, as it furthers a vital philosophical debate on the question of violence.

MARTHA J. REINEKE is Associate Professor of Religion and Director of the Graduate Program in Women's Studies at the University of Northern Iowa.

Were you the one I saw at the mall with the T shirt WHO ARE THESE KIDS AND WHY ARE THEY CALLING ME DADDY Youre a dad or mom or a cross juggler or a grandparent or a teacher Youre looking at this book because you love a child or it just popped up I wrote this book because I love children I also wrote Where Children Fly because I wanted to be parentally inspiring Everyone says parenting is so important but many of us just pray we dont go insane trying to potty train or get through the teenage hormones We hardly consider what we do as inspirational So much of what we do in loving children is out of what we were given not what we really want them to be Parenting is a very overwhelming demanding work of the heart We finally feel weve got the knack of changing their diaper when those cute little mood swings begin We manage to get them to school and we find the issues changing whether we are ready or not After all are we really all that grown up ourselves Once in a while we look back to the way we were raised or around to our peers raising children and then up with a silent serious plea the heavens have heard before God help me You think you want a smart cute rich funny kind of child but all those things are well just opinions as a general rule Weve got beauty pagentry SAT rock stars and others to decipher our perspectives Theres really a great deal more to those of us who want children with respectable manners compassion vision and parental pride I see you looking at me saying I cant even get them to pick up well being of the economy Pushing biopolitical theorizing in novel directions through an investigation of the political economy of scarcity and the theology of the market Neoliberal Citizenship reveals how a common thread connects the suspension of search and rescue missions in the Mediterranean the punitive bailout of Greece the widespread adoption of austerity measures the normalization of racism the celebration of resilience and the fact that in Europe and North America during the first wave of the pandemic almost half of all COVID 19 deaths were care home residents This thread is the sacralization of the market that by making life conditional upon its economic and emotional value turns less valuable individuals into sacrificial subjects Neoliberal Citizenship challenges established understandings of citizenship brings to light new regimes of inclusion and exclusion and advances critical insights on the future of neoliberalism in a post COVID 19 world

Living Nonviolently Gabriel Moran,2011-03-31 Are human beings naturally violent Is war the fate of the human race Despite the depressing record of the past the world s future depends upon avoiding war and drastically reducing violence Living Nonviolently Language for Resisting Violence examines carefully the language of violence and war One of the first casualties of violence is language which in turn makes resistance to violence difficult to articulate In the first four chapters Gabriel Moran proposes distinctions for the interconnected ideas of force power aggressiveness violence and war not to invent a new and logical language but to ground the meaning of these terms in our human experience That revitalization of ordinary language depends upon an inclusive language of men and women adults and children human and nonhuman animals The fifth chapter locates the potential for both encouraging violence and resisting violence in the peculiar logic of religion Jesus Sermon on the Mount is commonly invoked by people who say that nonviolence may be an admirable ideal for a few people but it is irrelevant for most people and for all nations in this chapter Moran examines the widely misunderstood sermon in detail to illustrate its potential for resisting violence For a conclusion he discusses practical means of education that are helpful to reaching some understanding of violence and resistance to violence Living Nonviolently is written for scholars in peace studies political philosophy or religious studies and for anyone who wishes to understand the roots of violence and war Atonement Eleonore Stump,2018 The doctrine of the atonement is the distinctive doctrine of Christianity Over the course of many centuries of reflection highly diverse interpretations of the doctrine have been proposed In the context of this history of interpretation Eleonore Stump considers the doctrine afresh with philosophical care Whatever exactly the atonement is it is supposed to include a solution to the problems of the human condition especially its guilt and shame Stump canvasses the major interpretations of the doctrine that attempt to explain this solution and argues that all of them have serious shortcomings In their place she argues for an interpretation that is both novel and yet traditional and that has significant advantages over other interpretations including Anselm s well known account of the doctrine In the process she also discusses love union guilt shame forgiveness retribution punishment shared attention mind reading empathy and various other issues in moral psychology and ethics Sacrifice and the Body John Dunnill,2016-04-08

What is sacrifice For many people today the word has negative overtones suggesting loss or death or violence But in religions ancient and modern the word is linked primarily to joyous feasting which puts people in touch with the deepest realities How has that change of meaning come about What effect does it have on the way we think about Christianity How does it affect the way Christian believers think about themselves and God John Dunnill s study focuses on sacrifice as a physical event uniting worshippers to deity Bringing together insights from social anthropology biblical studies and Trinitarian theology Dunnill links to debates in sociology and cultural studies as well as the study of liturgy Through a positive view of sacrifice Dunnill contributes to contemporary Christian debates on atonement and salvation *The Works ...
