More than 14,000 organizations across more than 160 countries trust TOEIC scores to make decisions. This book is designed to give learners and test takers an overview of the types of questions they encounter on the actual TOEIC Speaking and Writing tests. It is also aimed to help learners to guide them through the test experience. In addition to the TOEIC tests, sample questions are included on authentic and real topics to provide test takers with a comprehensive overview of the TOEIC testing experience. This book is provided with sufficient practice in grammar, vocabulary development, as well as practice in TOEIC supported with appropriate recording. The writer would like to appreciate the courtesy of book writers, media, and of course the publisher for without which the book would not stand out on readers' desk.

Interpreting Standardized Test Scores: Strategies for Data-Driven Instructional Decision Making is designed to help K-12 teachers and administrators understand the nature of standardized tests and, in particular, the scores that result from them. This useful manual helps teachers develop the skills necessary to incorporate these test scores into various types of instructional decision making, a process known as data-driven decision making, necessitated by the needs of their students.

Key Features: Helps readers understand, interpret, and use standardized test scores to improve classroom instruction. Several specific examples are given for interpreting test scores and developing a plan to revise instruction based on those results. Offers activities for application and reflection. Follow-up activities and discussion points are provided for experienced and preservice teachers across K-12 grade levels. Presents successful case studies. The author includes interviews with classroom teachers, building administrators, and district-level administrators who have successfully engaged in a process of incorporating test scores into decision making.

Intended Audience: This is an excellent supplementary text for any course that incorporates standardized testing as a topic, including but not limited to courses in Classroom Assessment, Educational Psychology, Content Methods, Reading, Special Education, Curriculum, Literacy, Administration, The Principalship, and The Superintendency.
