Screening the Male Steven Cohan, Ina Rae Hark, 1993 A series of essays from an impressive group of international scholars re examines the problematic status of masculinity both in Hollywood cinema and feminist film theory Screening the Male Steven Cohan, Ina Rae Hark, 1995 On understanding the male in Hollywood cinema Screening the Male Steven Cohan, 1993 Re examines the problematic status of masculinity both in Hollywood cinema and feminist film theory The text argues that these theories have overlooked the significance of the problems arising from the easily recognized masculine norm equated with activity voyeurism and sadism Masked Men Steve Cohan, 1997-12-22 The fifties marks the moment when a heterosexual homosexual dualism came to dominate U S culture s thinking about masculinity The films of this era record how gender and sexuality did not easily come together in a normative manhood common to American men Instead these films demonstrate the widely held perception of a crises of masculinity Masked Men documents how movies of the fifties represented masculinity as a multiple masquerade Hollywood s star system positioned the male actor as a professional performer and as a body intended to solicit the erotic interest of male and female viewers alike Drawing on publicity poster art fan magazines and the popular press as a means of following the links between fifties stars their films and the social tensions of the period Cohan juxtaposes Hollywood s narratives of masculinity against the personae of leading men like Cary Grant Humphrey Bogart John Wayne Charlton Heston Yul Brynner William Holden Montgomery Clift Marlon Brando and Rock Hudson Masked Men focuses on the gender and sexual masquerades that organized their performances of masculinity on and off screen Extra-Ordinary Men Nicola Rehling, 2010-06-21 Extra Ordinary Men analyzes popular cinematic representations of white heterosexual masculinity as the ordinary form of male identity one that enjoys considerable economic social political and representational strength Nicola Rehling argues that while this normative position affords white heterosexual masculinity ideological and political dominance such ordinariness also engenders the anxiety that it is a depthless vacuous and unstable identity At a time when the neutrality of white heterosexual masculinity has been challenged by identity politics this insightful volume offers lucid accounts of contemporary theoretical debates on masculinity in popular cinema and explores the strategies deployed in popular films to reassert white heterosexual male hegemony through detailed readings of films as diverse as Fight Club Boys Don t Cry and The Matrix Accessible to undergraduates but also of interest to film scholars the book makes a distinctive contribution to our understanding of the ways in which popular film helps construct and maintain many unexamined assumptions about masculinity gender race and sexuality The Handbook of Gender, Sex, and Media Karen Ross, 2013-12-04 The Handbook of Gender Sex and Media offers original insights into the complex set of relations which exist between gender sex sexualities and the media and in doing so showcases new research at the forefront of media and communication practice and theory Brings together a collection of new cutting edge research exploring a number of different facets of the broad relationship between gender and media Moves beyond associating gender with man woman and instead considers the relationship between the construction of gender norms biological sex and the mediation of sex and sexuality Offers genuinely new insights into the complicated and complex set of relations which exist between gender sex sexualities and the media Essay topics range from the continuing sexism of TV advertising to ways in which the internet is facilitating the re invention of our sexual selves

Abject Spaces in American Cinema Frances Pheasant-Kelly,2013-05-21 American cinema abounds with films set in prisons asylums hospitals and other institutions Rather than orderly places of recovery and rehabilitation these institutional settings emerge as abject spaces of control and repression in which adult identity is threatened as a narrative impetus Exploring the abject through issues as diverse as racism mental illness or the preservation of bodies for organ donation thi book analyses a range of films including One Flew Over the Cuckoo s Nest 1975 The Shawshank Redemption 1994 Full Metal Jacket 1987 and Girl Interrupted 1999 through to cult films such as Carrie 1976 and Bubba Ho tep 2002 In these films locations of coherence and order become places where the internal and repressed aspects of the body individual and social threaten to overwhelm the individual Identity is compromised through harsh conditions extreme discipline the exertion of absolute control and above all the restriction of personal space Symbolically infantilised forced to reassess aspects of the adult the only escape is through violence the eponymous Carrie escapes from her cupboard for a massacre the women of Girl Interrupted mutilate and annihilate themselves and Kubrick s Gomer Pyle shoots sadistic patriarch Sergeant Hartman in the head By analysing scenes of horror and disgust within the context of abject space Frances Pheasant Kelly reveals how threats to identity manifest in scenes of torture horror and psychosexual repression and are resolved either through death or through traumatic re entry into the outside world Bringing together contemporary theoretical debates and critical disciplines Abject Spaces in American Cinema offers a coherent and meaningful analysis of institutonal films and shows that the chaos of the abject space cannot be resolved only escaped This readable and engging tour of the abject in the institution of film will be immensely valuable to students of Film Studies Critical Theory and Cultural Studies
