Sorcery, Totem, and Jihad in African Philosophy Christopher Wise,2017-03-23 In this significant new work in African Philosophy Christopher Wise explores deconstruction s historical indebtedness to Egypto African civilization and its relevance in Islamicate Africa today He does so by comparing deconstructive and African thought on the spoken utterance nothingness conjuration the oath or vow occult sorcery blood election violence circumcision totemic inscription practices animal metamorphosis and sacrifice the Abrahamic fratricide and jihad Situated against the backdrop of the Ansar Dine s recent jihad in Northern Mali Sorcery Totem and Jihad in African Philosophy examines the root causes of the conflict and offers insight into the Sahel s ancient complex and vibrant civilization This book also demonstrates the relevance of deconstructive thought in the African setting especially the writing of the Franco Algerian philosopher Jacques Derrida

Oral Epics from Africa John William Johnson,Thomas Albert Hale,Thomas A. Hale,Stephen Paterson Belcher,1997-04-22

It seems incredible that heretofore there has not been an introductory anthology of African epics presented in English Western literary culture has long emphasized the heritage of such well known epics as the Iliad the Odyssey and Aeneid But it is only recently that scholars have turned their attention toward capturing the rich oral tradition that is still alive in Africa The twenty five excerpts in this volume have been selected and introduced so as to offer English speaking readers a broad sample of the extensive epic traditions in Africa The general introduction and the background on each epic will enable readers to understand the context of each epic and will also provide leads for further inquiry

The African Diaspora

Patrick Manning,2009-05-19 Patrick Manning refuses to divide the African diaspora into the experiences of separate regions and nations Instead he follows the multiple routes that brought Africans and people of African descent into contact with one another and with Europe Asia and the Americas In weaving these stories together Manning shows how the waters of the Atlantic Ocean the Mediterranean Sea and the Indian Ocean fueled dynamic interactions among black communities and cultures and how these patterns resembled those of a number of connected diasporas concurrently taking shape across the globe Manning begins in 1400 and traces five central themes the connections that enabled Africans to mutually identify and hold together as a global community discourses on race changes in economic circumstance the character of family life and the evolution of popular culture His approach reveals links among seemingly disparate worlds In the mid nineteenth century for example slavery came under attack in North America South America southern Africa West Africa the Ottoman Empire and India with former slaves rising to positions of political prominence Yet at the beginning of the twentieth century the near elimination of slavery brought new forms of discrimination that removed almost all blacks from government for half a century Manning underscores the profound influence that the African diaspora had on world history demonstrating the inextricable link between black migration and the rise of modernity especially in regards to the processes of industrialization and urbanization A remarkably inclusive and far reaching work The African Diaspora proves that the advent of modernity cannot be imaginatively or comprehensively engaged without taking the African peoples and the African continent as a whole into account

Colonialism and Cultural Identity Patrick Colm Hogan, 2000-01-27 Explores diverse cultural identities both theoretically and through concrete specific interpretations of selected major texts from former British colonies

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil s Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish

Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators Africa after Modernism Michael Janis, 2013-05-13 Africa after Modernism traces shifts in perspectives on African culture arts and philosophy from the conflict with European modernist interventions in the climate of colonialist aggression to present identitarian positions in the climate of globalism multiculturalism and mass media By focusing on what may be called deconstructive moments in twentieth century Africanist thought on intellectual landmarks revolutionary ideas crises of consciousness literary and philosophical debates this study looks at African modernity and modernism from critical postcolonial perspectives An effort to sketch contemporary frameworks of global intersubjective relations reflecting African cultures and concerns must resist taking modernism as a term of African periodization or master narrative but as a constellation of discursive and subjective forms that obtains upon the present moment in African literature philosophy and cultural history Africa after Modernism argues for a philosophical consciousness and pan African multiculturalist ethos that operate after the deconstruction of Eurocentrism beyond self other paradigms of exoticism or West Africa political ideologies in dialogue with postcolonial approaches to cultural reciprocity Against the Postcolonial Richard Serrano, 2006-11-24 Against the Postcolonial is at once a study of five writers from lands formerly or currently ruled by France Algeria Cambodia Guiana Madagascar and Mali and an interrogation of the relevance of postcolonial theory criticism and studies to these writers The authors are necessarily placed against the background of postcolonial studies but since they have radically different backgrounds histories and careers Serrano argues against the relevance of a homogenizing critical practice most interested in replicating itself

Sounding the Break Jason Frydman, 2014-04-03 The idea of world literature has served as a crucial though underappreciated interlocutor for African diasporic writers informing their involvement in processes of circulation translation and revision that have been identified as the hallmarks of the contemporary era of world literature Yet in spite of their participation in world systems before and after European hegemony Africa and the African diaspora have been excluded from the networks and archives of world literature In Sounding the Break Jason Frydman attempts to redress this exclusion by drawing on historiography ethnography and archival sources to show how writers such as W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston Alejo Carpentier Derek Walcott Maryse Condé and Toni Morrison have complicated both Eurocentric and Afrocentric categories of literary and cultural production Through their engagement with and revision of the European world literature discourse he contends these writers conjure a deep history of literary traffic whose expressions are always already cosmopolitan embedded in the long histories of cultural and economic exchange between Africa Asia and Europe It is precisely the New World American location of these writers Frydman concludes that makes possible this revisionary perspective on the idea of Old World literature Traces 4 Naoki Sakai, Jon Solomon, 2006-01-01 Translation Biopolitics Colonial Difference the fourth book in the Traces series focuses on the problems of translation and the political dynamics surrounding multiplicity linguistic regional transnational and civilizational today Yambo Ouologuem Christopher

Wise,1999 The first three parts of the book constitute an essential source for study of the reception of Ouologuem It is however the concluding accounts of Wise s own research in the field which make this volume indispensable for future discussion of Ouologuem and open the path for innovative in vivo research into African writing George Lang Research in African Literatures A wealth of well documented information on literary historical philosophical and mundane aspects of Ouologuem s work Robert P Smith Jr World Literature Today Wise provide s today s postcolonial and African scholars with enough intellectual considerations to inspire a host of new essays articles presentations and lectures Glen Bush African Studies Review Wise renders an important service by bringing together a dozen articles and several recent interviews on the work of this Malian West African francophone Recommended for all college and university collections supporting studies of African African American and postcolonial literature Choice From the appearance of Bound to Violence in the late 1960s Yambo Ouologuem has been one of Africa s most controversial writers For some critics the young Malian signaled an entire new direction for African letters a fiercely courageous postindependence literature For others his novel revealed too much bringing to light horrors many preferred to ignore Today Ouologuem is credited with delivering the final death blow to Senghorian negritude thus clearing the way for a more honest literature divested of the longing for a false African past This book gathers the most important essays on Ouologuem from critics on three continents Wise also includes his recent interviews with the reclusive author and a companion essay on Ouologuem s present life among the Tidjaniya Muslims of northern Mali
