Deification in Eastern Orthodox Theology Emil Bartos, 2007-01-01 In recent years Eastern Orthodox thought has had an increasing influence on key aspects of contemporary Western Christian thought particularly as regards the doctrine of the Trinity and mystical spirituality However the foundations and fundamental presuppositions of Eastern Christianity's theological system have remained largely unstudied and thus unknown in the West In this important study Emil Bartos examines the doctrine of deification which provides the conceptual basis for the way Staniloae and other Orthodox theologians understand the major doctrines of the Christian faith The idea that God became man that man might become God sounds almost heretical to many Western ears yet this affirmation is repeated countless times in the writings of the Eastern Fathers Beginning with the apophaticism that lies at the heart of Eastern theology Bartos examines each of the key doctrines of anthropology christology soteriology and ecclesiology as they relate to deification in Staniloae's thought Bartos' study represents not merely a contribution to contemporary dialogue between Eastern and Western theologians but also a much needed introduction to an aspect of Christian thought down the centuries that is largely neglected in the Christian West

Romania Keith Hitchins, 1994 From the mid nineteenth century until the Second World War the energies of Rumanian political and intellectual elites were absorbed by the building of their nation In this comprehensive and scholarly study Keith Hitchins traces these complex processes and explores how Rumania's leaders attempted to transform the ideology of modern nationhood into strong political economic and social institutions and to find ways of preserving independence in an international political and economic order dominated by the great powers As the new Rumania took shape the threads of historical continuity remained strikingly evident in government a strong administrative centralization prevailed despite the maturing of parliamentary institutions and the diversity of political expression the national economy remained beholden to agriculture despite the steady growth of industry and in cultural life traditional values persisted despite the adoption of modern forms In foreign relations the most pressing aim was to unite all Rumanians in a single state and to defend its sovereignty within an uncertain international order In all these endeavours the measure of achievement was the West After the Second World War when the Communist Party came to power this historical continuity was broken The experiment in nation building gave way to a new ideology and Rumania now turned to the Soviet political and economic model

Temporalities of Modernism Carmen Borbély, Erika Mihálycsa, Petronia Petrar, 2023-03-22 Temporalities of Modernism gathers fourteen scholars whose contributions readdress the very tenets of modernism by approaching its multifaceted relationship with time in a series of fresh and original essays The contemporary energies behind the collection are rooted in the turbulence of the modernist age relativity irreversibility duration fragmentation contingency and the looming threat of the apocalyptic future The collection includes geographical areas often neglected by the habitual reduction of modernist studies to English speaking literary high modernism or to the concentration of famous figures in the traditional capital of modernism Paris Thus it offers detailed presentations of Italian pre WWI modernism Czech Dadaism or of Polish Romanian and Hungarian writers and artists The borders also open in terms of genres and mediums as the contributions are not limited to fiction but examine the multi faceted productions of modernist artists poetry theatre painting music cinema photography etc In addition the limits are temporally stretched out as some contributions focus on more recent writers such as Sylvia Plath and their reactivation of modernist discoveries

Re-Configuring Romanian Culture on its Way Towards Modernity Alexandra Chiriac,2022-09-26 As a direct result of an international conference organized in the year 2021 the volume tries to shed light on the way in which the translation activity contributed to the Romanian culture and language drawing from different traditions and cultures it came in contact with directly or indirectly and thus mingling the own Slavonic church tradition with the new and revolutionary ideas of the Western world and using this mix to modernise the society language and the politics in this region Furthermore this eclectic collection of articles highlights the fact that it was neither the exclusive merit of the Transylvanian scholars nor of the Moldavian or Wallachian ones to have contributed decisively to the formation of the national consciousness and to the standardisation of the language but it was rather the collaboration the circulation of people and ideas that furthered the modernity in all three Romanian Principalities Without disregarding the regional specificity of the Romanian Enlightenment the volume focuses on the interconnections of the agents involved in the cultural transfer on the networks they created for the dissemination of knowledge and political thought and on the common effort to render the new ideas and concepts of the foreign cultures in a national language that could be accessible to the Romanians

History of Modern Cremation in Romania Marius Rotar,2013-01-11 Cremation as a means of managing the post mortem body was reintroduced to Europe at the end of the eighteenth century but would not become common practice until the second half of the nineteenth century This was a major development with multifaceted implications which generated heated debate Initially armed with a variety of arguments hygienic economic aesthetic and philosophical arguments citing freedom of conscience and will the advocates of modern cremation who tended to come from the social and cultural elite sought to impose their new model This brought them into conflict with the traditional structures and patterns of burial and thus with the Church which had of course originally ended the practice of cremation The present study is a history of cremation in Romania beginning with the emergence of cremationist ideas in 1867 and taking the reader up to the present day It analyses the following key periods the second half of the nineteenth century and early twentieth century the Interwar period Romania then being the first Orthodox country in the world to possess a crematorium which provoked a vehement reaction against cremation on part of the Orthodox Church the Communist period when no new crematoria were built even though the Communist regime proclaimed itself to be atheist and the post Communist period

Dystopia(n) Matters Fátima Vieira, 2013-07-16 The volume is divided into two parts separated by an Intermezzo The first part Dystopia Matters benefits from the contribution of reputed scholars of the field of Utopian Studies who were asked to make a statement explaining why dystopia is important The Intermezzo completes this part and offers the reader an informed discussion of the concepts of utopia dystopia and anti utopia whilst providing ground for the case studies presented in the second part in the sections devoted to literature film and theatre In one way or another despite the variety of approaches all contributors argue for the idea that if dystopia has invaded most forms of contemporary discourse its sibling utopia has not been eradicated from the scene Furthermore the studies show that the tension between the two concepts is instrumental to our cautious conscious and tentative construction of the future

Dicționar român-german Hariton Tiktin, The Politics of National Character Balázs Trencsényi, 2012-02-22 The book is a comparative analysis of the ideological constructions of national specificity in Romania Bulgaria and Hungary Studying the growing infatuation with national essence it seeks to understand the radicalization of nationalism in East Central Europe in connection with the shift of the notions of historicity and temporality Trencs nyi provides a contextual analysis of the symbolic resources and available ideological references that were used for creating these discourses in the respective countries While focusing on the interwar period when these conceptions became central to the political debate he also reconstructs the long term historical evolution of the discourse of national characterology Through this prism the work offers a contextual reconstruction of the main debates of these elites on national identity from the mid 19th century until 1945 In the light of the three case studies the volume contributes to discussions of the problem of modernism and anti modernism in twentieth century political thought posing the question of the intellectual responsibility of intellectuals in constructing radical ideological frameworks This book offers a broad intellectual panorama discerning the common regional features as well as the considerable divergence between these three cases while also placing them into a wider European intellectual framework of the emergence of radical nationalism
