significa estudiar las características materiales gráficas y textuales de estos objetos para así reconstruir las técnicas que los produjeron y las necesidades intelectuales y culturales a las que respondieron. Cada libro manuscrito surge de la colaboración de saberes diversos y actores múltiples; este es el punto desde el cual parte el investigador Filippo Ronconi, bizantinista y especialista en cultura escrita, para analizar las transformaciones del libro grecolatino que abarca el periodo que va del siglo V a C al siglo XIII, atravesando tanto la difusión del alfabetismo como el trabajo de los artesanos y copistas de la Edad Media. Papirología, paleografía y filología material se encuentran en este estudio no solo para entender desde distintas perspectivas a un artefacto complejo sino también para revelar su atrapante historia. Geistesleben im 13. Der vorliegende Band will neue Perspektiven zur Erforschung dieses Jahrhunderts aufzeigen. Schwerpunkte des Bandes sind Fragen aus dem Bereich der theoretischen und praktischen Philosophie, der Theologie, der Institutionengeschichte, Problemstellungen aus Literatur, Kunst, Bildung und Erziehung sowie das Aufeinandertreffen der Kulturwelten. The Corinthian Correspondence Frank W. Hughes, Robert Jewett, 2021-10-19 In The Corinthian Correspondence Frank W. Hughes and Robert Jewett argue that there were eight original letters by the Apostle Paul to the church in Corinth. In the first part of the book they use literary and redaction criticism to show the reasons for the partition theory of 1 and 2 Corinthians. Analyzing each of the eight letters and letter fragments using rhetorical criticism, they show how the original Corinthian letters were edited and reshaped into 1 and 2 Corinthians in the New Testament. After reflections on the rhetoric of these letters and the historical meaning of the reshaping of the images of Paul, a final chapter traces the consequences of the reshaping of the Corinthian correspondence and the adoption of the bound book codex instead of the original papyrus scrolls. Several figures help the reader understand the redactional process, and a new translation of the eight reconstructed Corinthian letters is provided. The Art of

Compilation. Midrash Pirqa de-Rabbenu ha-Qadosh in Popular Anthologies from the Cairo Geniza Anna Busa, 2025-10-09 Pirqa de Rabbenu ha-Qadosh is a popular numerical anthology of Jewish maxims and is categorized to date as a medieval midrash. This book examines its earliest hitherto unedited manuscript finds in the Cairo Geniza, 10-13th century, focusing on the fluid compilatory structures exhibited in them. The study investigates its medieval manuscript contexts and suggests a set of methodologies to capture its complexities, including the study of literary compilatory structures, editorial methodology, and a holistic book historical approach. Teaching Text Technologies and Critical Bibliography Among the Disciplines Barbara Fragmented Nature: Medieval Latinate Reasoning on the Natural World and Its Order Mattia Cipriani, Nicola Polloni, 2022-06-09 The Latin Middle Ages were characterised by a vast array of different representations of nature These conceptualisations of the natural world were developed according to the specific requirements of many different disciplines with the consequent result of producing a fragmentation of images of nature Despite this plurality two main tendencies emerged On the one hand the natural world was seen as a reflection of God s perfection teleologically ordered and structurally harmonious On the other it was also considered as a degraded version of the spiritual realm a world of impeccable ideas separate substances and celestial movers This book focuses on this tension between order and randomness and idealisation and reality of nature in the Middle Ages It provides a cutting edge profile of the doctrinal and semantic richness of the medieval idea of nature and also illustrates the structural interconnection among learned and scientific disciplines in the medieval period stressing the fundamental bond linking together science and philosophy on the one hand and philosophy and theology on the other This book will appeal to scholars and students alike interested in Medieval European History Theology Philosophy and Science The Old French William of Tyre Philip D. Handyside, 2015-01-27 William of Tyre s history of the Kingdom of Jerusalem has long been viewed as one of the most useful sources for the Crusades and the Latin East from the beginnings of the First Crusade to William's death shortly before Saladin's conquest of Jerusalem. However, this text was most popular during the medieval period in an Old French translation. In The Old French of William of Tyre, Philip Handyside identifies the differences between the Latin and French texts and analyses the translator's motives for producing the translation and highlights significant changes that may provide a better understanding of the period in question. Handyside also argues for a complex manuscript tradition that developed across the medieval Mediterranean.

"Genizat Germania" - Hebrew and Aramaic Binding Fragments from Germany in Context Andreas Lehnardt, 2010-03-08. Genizat Germania is a project at the Johannes Gutenberg University in Mainz focused on the search for and analysis of Hebrew and Aramaic binding fragments found in the books and files of archives and libraries. In recent years, this systematic search has revealed several hundred new fragments, including some rare Talmudic, Midrashic, and liturgical fragments. The new discoveries, both in Germany and elsewhere in Europe, have broadened the knowledge of Jewish literature in the Middle Ages and Early Modern periods. This volume collects the papers of international scholars which cover recent discoveries in Germany, the European Genizah, or fragments found in Italy, Poland, Great Britain, and Austria, the approaches of similar projects in Austria and the Czech Republic, as well as an extensive bibliography.

Gregory of Nyssa John Behr, 2023. This book presents the first modern critical edition of the work of Gregory of Nyssa, On the Human Image of God, formerly known as On the Making of Man (De hominis opificio), and the first English translation since the nineteenth century. This treatise is one of the most important of Gregory's texts. Paralleling the structure of Plato's Timaeus, Gregory's work begins by offering two analyses of the human being. The first presents the human being as the culmination of the ascent made by nature through the various levels of life and as made of body and soul in the image of God. The second considers why this is not immediately apparent: the need for time to be able to grow individually and collectively to this status as the body of Christ, the image of God, and the role of sexuality within this growth. The third part of the work brings both analyses together to see the same movement in the life span of each person. The extensive introduction provided in this volume examines the philosophical and theological background of Gregory's text, beginning with Anaxagoras, Plato, the Timaeus, Philo, and Origen, and also compares aspects of Gregory's work with that of Irenaeus of Lyons and Maximus the Confessor.

Reimagining Jerusalem's Architectural Identities in the Later Middle Ages Cathleen A. Fleck, 2022-10-10. How can medieval art explain Jerusalem's centrality in the world faiths of Christianity and Islam? This book delves into that topic by examining how Jerusalem was creatively represented and reimagined in several intriguing Christian and Islamic artworks in the later Middle Ages, c. 1187 to 1356. The book considers how European Catholic crusaders, Eastern Christian sects, and diverse Muslim factions displayed Jerusalem's architecture to express their interpretation of the holy city's sanctity and influence. These examples demonstrate how artworks can reflect Jerusalem's importance to these faiths in the past and illuminate our understanding of its status into the modern era.
