Seed Policy, Legislation and Law Neils P Louwaars, 2002-08-12 Learn what it takes to create and implement a truly successful seed policy This unique book brings together international experts on seed policy and law While other books approach the subject from the perspective of seed industry development and privatization Seed Policy Legislation and Law makes clear that a successful national seed policy must be based on a thorough analysis of connected issues such as biodiversity and rural development In addition to giving you an essential overview of seed regulatory reform this book will also bring you up to date on recent developments in the field such as intellectual property and the biosafety of GMOs Seed Policy Legislation and Law examines quality control issues in developing countries case studies from Turkey Uganda and Bangladesh property rights for plant varieties the regulation of genetically modified seeds in emerging economies agro biodiversity as it relates to seed policy why a farmer seed system is essential in a national seed sector the impact of the transition from central seed sector planning to a free market how international seed associations can impact policy development new technological developments like GURTs and appropriate policy responses

Sustainable Agriculture Reviews Eric Lichtfouse, 2014-10-01 Sustainable agriculture is a rapidly growing field aiming at producing food and energy in a sustainable way for humans and their children It is a discipline that addresses current issues climate change increasing food and fuel prices poor nation starvation rich nation obesity water pollution soil erosion fertility loss pest control and biodiversity depletion This series gathers review articles that analyze current agricultural issues and knowledge then proposes alternative solutions

Agrobiodiversity and the Law Juliana Santilli, 2012-03-15 A wide range of crop genetic resources is vital for future food security Loss of agricultural biodiversity increases the risk of relying on a limited number of staple food crops However many laws such as seed laws plant varieties protection and access and benefit sharing laws have direct impacts on agrobiodiversity and their effects have been severely underestimated by policy makers This is of concern not only to lawyers but also to agronomists biologists and social scientists all of whom need clear guidance as to the relevance of the law to their work This book analyzes the impact of the legal system on agrobiodiversity or agricultural biodiversity the diversity of agricultural species varieties and ecosystems Using an interdisciplinary approach it takes up the emerging concept of agrobiodiversity and its relationship with food security nutrition health environmental sustainability and climate change It assesses the impacts on agrobiodiversity of key legal instruments including seeds laws the International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants plant breeders rights the Convention on Biological Diversity regarding specifically its impact on agrobiodiversity and the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture It also reviews the options for the implementation of these instruments at the national level in several countries It discusses the interfaces between the free software movement the commons movement and seeds as well as the legal instruments to protect cultural heritage and their application to safeguard agrobiodiversity rich systems Finally it analyzes the role of protected areas and the possibility of using geographical indications to enhance the value of agrobiodiversity products and processes Seed Trade in Rural Markets Leslie Lipper,C. Towards an Ecological Intellectual Property David J Jefferson, 2020-06-08 This book focuses on analysing how legal systems set the terms for interactions between human beings and plants The story that the book recounts is one of experimental lawmaking in Ecuador a country where over the past decade governmental officials and civil society advocates have attempted to reconfigure how human individuals and institutions relate to nature by following an eco centric approach to lawmaking In doing so Ecuadorian legislators administrators and judges have taken seriously the ontologies of non human entities including plants through a process that has required the continuous navigation of tensions with certain logics that pervade conventional legal regimes The book endeavours to disrupt these conventional assumptions and approaches to lawmaking by taking seriously alternative strategies to reconstitute interactions between people and plants In doing so the book argues in favour of an ecological turn in laws that govern vegetal life The analysis is based on a close examination of the experiences that lawmakers in Ecuador have had when experimenting with innovative approaches to re form relationships between human and non human beings Concretely these experiments have yielded constitutional legislative and regulatory changes that inform the inquiry of how intellectual property and plant genetic resources laws both in Ecuador and worldwide could become more ecological in nature The argument that the book develops is based on extensive ethnographic fieldwork and empirical research in Ecuador complemented by archival and doctrinal legal analysis The contents of the book will be of interest to an academic audience of legal scholars and postgraduate students in law in addition to scholars and students in the fields of anthropology sociology socio legal studies and science and technology studies

Participatory Plant Breeding: Concept and Applications Atul Bhargava, Shilpi Srivastava, 2019-04-13 Plant breeding has played a significant role in the development of human civilizations Conventional plant breeding has significantly improved crop yield by genetically manipulating agronomically important traits However it has often been criticized for ignoring indigenous germplasm failing to address the needs of the marginal and the poor farmers and emphasizing selection for broad instead of local adaptation Participatory plant breeding PPB is the process by which the producers and other stakeholders are actively involved in a plant breeding programme with opportunities to make decisions throughout The Working Group on Participatory Plant Breeding PPBwg was established in 1996 under the framework of the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research CGIAR Research in PPB can promote informed participation and trust in research among consumers and producers and in recent years PPB has had a significant impact on food production by quickly and cost effectively producing improved crop varieties At the same time there has been significant research in the area PPB offers significant advantages that are particularly relevant to developing countries where large investments in plant breeding have not led to increased production especially in the marginal environments In addition to the economic benefits participatory research has a number of psychological moral and ethical benefits which are the consequence of a progressive empowerment of the farming communities PPB can empower groups such as women or less well off farmers that are traditionally left out of the development process This book explores the potential of PPB in the coming decades The topic is more relevant since international breeding efforts for major crops are aimed at decentralizing local breeding methods to better incorporate the perspective of end users into the varietal development process The first book incorporating the upcoming research on this novel breeding approach it reviews the important tools and applications of PPB in an easy to read succinct format with illustrations to clarify these complex topics It provides readers with a basic idea of participatory plant breeding as well as advances in the field and insights into the future to facilitate the successful integration of farmers into breeding programmes This book is a valuable reference resource for agriculturists agricultural advisers policy makers NGOs post doctoral students and scientists in agriculture horticulture forestry and botany
