Paul Getty Museum Gillian Wilson, Sir Francis Watson, 2000-03-16 The Getty Museum's large and exceptional collection of oriental porcelain embellished with Parisian gilt bronze or silver is comprehensively illustrated in this revised catalogue The European practice of mounting exotic objects such as oriental porcelain dates from the Middle Ages and found its height of expression during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries when Chinese and Japanese porcelains reached the West in considerable quantities To meet the growing taste for such objects in fashionable Parisian society marchands merciers guild members who combined the functions of the modern interior decorator antique dealer and picture dealer devised ingenious settings in silver and gilt bronze for oriental porcelains adapting their exotic character to the French interiors of the period With the publication of this catalogue the beauty and rarity with which buyers of these pieces were so enamored is vividly brought to life Futuring Design Education, Volume 1 Aneesha Sharma, Ravi Poovaiah, 2025-02-12 This book presents select proceedings of the two day conference titled Futuring Design Education FDE 2024 and it examines the transformation of design knowledge the evolving spaces of learning and the ecosystems of teaching and learning The topics covered include the pedagogical model of design education the experiments and technological advances that impact design education The book also discusses the roles and challenges of learning spaces remote learning in digital spaces and synchronous and asynchronous learning tools The book will also look at the social contexts in design pedagogy cultural affiliations and alignments and will allude to any new learning frameworks for design education The book can be a valuable reference for design educators design researchers and professionals interested in design education

Research and Advanced Technology for Digital Libraries Rachel Heery, Liz Lyon, 2005-01-11 We are delighted to present the ECDL 2004 Conference proceedings from the 8th European Conference on Research and Advanced Technology for Digital Libraries at the University of Bath Bath UK This followed an impressive and geographically dispersed series of locations for previous events Pisa 1997 Halkon 1998 Paris 1999 Lisbon 2000 Darmstadt 2001 Rome 2002 and Trondheim

2003 The conference reflected the rapidly evolving landscape of digital libraries both in technology developments and in the focus of approaches to implementation. An emphasis on the requirements of the individual user and of diverse and distributed user communities was apparent. In addition, the conference programme began to address possibly for the first time the associated themes of e-research, e-science and e-learning and their relationship to digital libraries. We observed increasing commonality in both the distributed information architectures and the technical standards that underpin global infrastructure developments. Digital libraries are integral to this information landscape and to the creation of increasingly powerful tools and applications for resource discovery and knowledge extraction. Digital libraries support and facilitate the data and information flows within the scholarly knowledge cycle and provide essential enabling functionality for both learners and researchers. The varied and innovative research activities presented at ECDL 2004 demonstrate the exciting potential of this very fast moving field. The 148 papers, 43 posters, 5 panels, 14 tutorials and 4 workshops submitted this year were once again of the highest quality.
