Architectural Intelligence Philip F. Yuan, Mike Xie, Neil Leach, Jiawei Yao, Xiang Wang, 2020-09-03 This book presents selected papers from The 1st International Conference on Computational Design and Robotic Fabrication CDRF 2019 Focusing on novel architecture theories tools methods and procedures for digital design and construction in architecture it promotes dialogs between architecture engineer computer science robotics and other relevant disciplines to establish a new way of production in the building industry in the digital age The contents make valuable contributions to academic researchers and engineers in the industry At the same time it offers readers new ideas for the application of digital technology Mass-Customised Cities Tom Verebes, 2015-12-07 What happens when computational design and fabrication technologies ramp up to the urban scale Though these innovative production processes are currently now largely limited to small scale design projects what will happen when they are applied to the vast scale of the 21st century world city Could new technologies enable an important shift away from mass production to increasingly bespoke and custom designed systems The introduction of standardisation and mass production processes in the 20th century saw the industrial city take on a repetitious and homogeneous quality through the duplication of component parts Today non standard bespoke systems hold out the promise of realising a distinctive urbanism characterized by the differentiation of serial production and the variation of simple parts that should lead to a more complex and compelling whole Given the current pace and rate of urbanisation in Asia the mass customization of the city is set to have imminent and far reaching practical consequences for the rest of the developing and developed world Contemporary Urban Design Thoughts in China Jin Duan, Jinhua Liu, 2022-07-08 This book proposes and systematically discusses four trends of thoughts in contemporary Chinese urban design As the first book to systematically introduce contemporary Chinese urban design thoughts this book objectively displays the macroscopic picture of contemporary urban design development of China from the time dimension sorting out seven historical stages and three disputes This book is mainly divided into two parts The first part focuses on the vertical description taking the major events in the seven historical stages as the context combing the macro picture of the development of contemporary urban design in China in the last 100 years and describing the three controversies in this process contention subject and legalization The second part focuses on horizontal observations puts forward and systematically discusses the four trends of thought formed in the development of contemporary urban design in China including Design of Form Synthesis of Design Control of Design and Design of Rule This part discusses their development background theoretical support and key concepts in detail and finally conducts critical thinking The whole book is based on historical events archives and papers published in Chinese academic journals While sorting out summarizing and objectively discussing it also makes a critique of urban design activities and academic thinking in China which will greatly benefit scholars and readers who are interested in urban design history of contemporary China

Constructing a Place of Critical Architecture in China Guanghui Ding, 2016-03-09 For the past 30 years The Chinese journal Time Architecture Shidai Jianzhu has focused on publishing innovative and exploratory work by emerging architects based in private design firms who were committed to new material theoretical and pedagogical practices In doing so this book argues that the journal has engaged in the presentation and production of a particular form of critical architecture described as an intermediate criticality as a response to the particular constraints of the Chinese cultural and political context The journal s publications displayed a dual critique a resistant attitude to the dominant modes of commercial building practice characterised by rapid and large scale urban expansion and an alternative publishing practice focusing on emerging independent architectural practitioners through the active integration of theoretical debates architectural projects and criticisms This dual critique is illustrated through a careful review and analysis of the history and programme of the journal By showing how the work of emerging architects including Yung Ho Chang Wang Shu Liu Jiakun and Urbanus are situated within the context of the journal s special thematic editions on experimental architecture exhibition group design new urban space and professional system the book assesses the contribution the journal has made to the emergence of a critical architecture in China in the context of how it was articulated debated presented and perhaps even produced within the pages of the publication itself The protagonists of critical architecture have endeavoured to construct an alternative mode of form and space with strong aesthetic and socio political implications to the predominant production of architecture under the current Chinese socialist market economy To rebel against certain forms of domination and suppression by capital and power is by no means to completely reject them rather it is to use thos

Modernism in Late-Mao China Ke Song, 2023-04-28 This book investigates the architectural history of China in the Mao era 1949 1976 focusing on the rise of modernism in the last seven years of the Cultural Revolution from 1969 to 1976 It highlights the new architecture of this period exemplified by three clusters of buildings for foreign affairs namely buildings for foreign diplomacy in Beijing buildings for foreign trade in Guangzhou and China's foreign aid projects overseas The emergence of new architecture in the early 1970s is closely associated with China's political and diplomatic shift of the time from a radical emphasis on ideological struggle to a dynamic balance between leftist ideology and pragmatic concerns In this context China's relations with the West quickly improved culminating with American president Richard Nixon's visit to China in 1972 The increasing foreign affairs brought new opportunities to Chinese architects who referenced both Western modernism and Chinese architectural traditions to create a new version of Chinese modernism The book brings dimensions of form politics and knowledge to the analysis of architecture to construct an understanding of architectural design as an aesthetic political and intellectual practice Modernism in Late Mao China will be an enriching and useful reference for students and scholars who are interested in the global architectural history of the twentieth century especially Cold War modernism

Design for Vulnerable Communities Emanuele Giorgi, Tiziano Cattaneo, Alfredo Mauricio Flores Herrera, Virginia del Socorro Aceves Tarango, 2022-05-30 This book aims to provide bases for reasoning on what challenges urban architectural design for vulnerable communities will face in the coming years Several issues such as technological development climate change political crisis and economic uncertainties show as traditional strategies and methodologies are not sufficient to deeply solve the problems of these complex realities These new changes which are studied in different fields of knowledge highlight the fact that the development of effective solutions must be characterized by multidisciplinary approaches and must be based on strategies promoted by different disciplines For this reason this contributed volume collects contributions and considerations from experts in various fields of knowledge working in different parts of the world such as the Americas Europe and Asia The goal is precisely to provide the reader with multidisciplinary knowledge and methodologies in order to better reflect and analyze the challenges that designing for vulnerable communities will face in the next few years These multidisciplinary studies are organized into five sections Sustainability and Vulnerabilities in Time of the Anthropocene Approaches Principles and Paradigms to Contemporary Research and Practice for Vulnerable Communities Designing for Vulnerabilities Applications and Actions Social Engagement in Vulnerable Communities Between Digital and Humanist Visions Vulnerabilities in Context Analysis and Projects in the U S Mexico Border Region Design for Vulnerable Communities will be of interest primarily to researchers and professionals in the field of urban architectural design but it will also be a useful tool to policy makers and members of civil society at large interested in making cities more inclusive

Commerce Business Daily, 1998-05 Design and Thermal Performance Gideon Golany, 1990 The Chinese constitute the third major community in the world to have lived continuously below ground for many millennia With case studies representing different geographical and cultural environments this work shows how Chinese below ground dwellings provide a comfortable ambient environment with low construction costs

Architectural Encounters with Essence and Form in Modern China Peter G. Rowe, Seng Kuan, 2002 A study of traditional and modernist attitudes toward architecture in China from the 1840s to the present Built around snatches of discussion overheard in a Beijing design studio this book explores attitudes toward architecture in China since the opening of the Treaty Ports in the 1840s Central to the discussion are the concepts of ti and yong or essence and form Chinese characters that are used to define the proper arrangement of what should be considered modern and essentially Chinese Ti and yong have gone through various transformations for example from Chinese learning for essential principles and Western learning for practical application to socialist essence and cultural form and an almost complete reversal to modern essence and Chinese form The book opens with a discussion of cultural developments in China in response to the forced opening to the West in the mid nineteenth century efforts to reform the Qing dynasty and the Nationalist and Communist regimes It then considers the return of overseas educated Chinese architects and foreign influences on Chinese architecture four architectural orientations toward tradition and modernity in the 1920s and 1930s and the controversy over the use of big roofs and other sinicizing aspects of Chinese architecture in the 1950s The book then moves to the hard economic conditions of the Great Leap Forward and the Cultural Revolution when architecture was almost abandoned and the beginning of reform and opening up to the outside world in the late 1970s and 1980s Finally it looks at the present socialist market economy and Chinese architecture during the still incomplete process of modernization It closes with a prognosis for the future Globalization and Urban Change Kris Olds, 2001 This book provides a grounded analysis of globalization and urban change in the late 20th century Drawing on multi locale field work Olds examines the role of two elite transnational cultures ethnic Chinese property developers and modernist architects in the planning and development of Pacific Rim mega projects Urban

Futures Mark Burry, 2020-07-09 Given the rapid evolution of concepts such as smart cities who are the architects riding the wave of new possibilities for urban design How do contemporary agencies find pathways to understand the challenges and opportunities presented by evolving urban technology and how does architecture engage with the expanding pool of associated disciplines How should schools of architecture and urban design engage with radical digitalised urbanism This issue of AD claims that this is contested territory The two dimensionality of planners urban construct is as limited as engineers predilection to zero in and solve problems Urban Futures contends that society needs a much broader professional brush than has been applied in the past interdisciplinary urban design professionals who can reach across the philosophy and mundanity of urban existence with a creative eye The issue identifies a selection of internally resourceful visionaries who combine sociology geography logistics and systems theory with the practical realities and challenges of mobility sustainable materials food water and energy supply and waste disposal Crucially they seek to ensure better urban futures and a civil and convivial urban experience for all city dwellers Contributors Refik Anadol Philip Belesky Shajay Bhooshan Jane Burry and Marcus White Thomas Daniell Vicente Guallart Shan He Wanyu He Dan Hill Justyna Karakiewicz Tom Kvan Areti Markopoulou Ed Parham Carlo Ratti Ferran Sagarra and Bige Tun er Featured architects Arup Digital Studio Guallart Architects Space10 Space Syntax UNStudio and XKool Technology

The Social Imperative H. Koon Wee, 2021-07-21 This book contains multiple short critiques reflections and manifestos affording each contributing architect and intellectual the time and space to imagine new social paradigms in China Emerging from a tumultuous history of high culture and complex territorial conditions there is nothing straightforward about the social development of China The complexity of the social practices developed by architects and shapers of the built environment can be explained in part by the last three decades of an intensified adoption of the market economy by the Communist Party of China after an equally short three decades of closed door communist control There is no political meltdown like the democratization of the former Communist Bloc but there is a constant managing of discontent and resistance across China At the apex of the many creative and intellectual forces in China architects harbor and give form to many tactics of resistance Unfortunately architects are also the instruments and minds complicit with profit mongering developers and governments pursuing unchecked urbanization degradation of the environment exploitation of the marginalized and the creation of a very inequitable China This book begins with an introduction that defines the forms and tendencies of China's society as it stands today and it positions the work of a small number of architects and intellectuals who are at the forefront of reforming rethinking and even revolutionizing the Chinese society Beneath the veneer of a very successful China that the world readily acknowledges a quiet revolution is taking place within the realms of architecture and the city The social architectural and urban theories documented in this book are organized around the established canons of social actions from mobilizing laboring resisting and mediating to networking controlling rationalizing and aestheticizing This book aims to put the social agenda squarely back in the rapid development of the built environment in China This publication is the culmination of a three year study of social issues in the architecture and cities of China It involved visits to sites undergoing massive change discussions and debates among architects and critics reflections by practitioners about their own work and activists lobbying for social change Supported by the non profit AA Asia the edition of the contents relied heavily on original input and exchanges between architects and theorists committed to China from Asia and beyond Since the 1990s AA Asia remains one of a few unique think tanks committed to the study of architecture and cities in Asia As an advocacy with strong academic roots it seeks to establish the differences across various postcolonial and Asian contexts and recalibrate the role of architecture in a technocratic era dominated by the global economy
