Lotta Schmidt and stories Anthony Trollope, 2017-06-22 As all the world knows the old fortifications of Vienna have been pulled down the fortifications which used to surround the centre or kernel of the city and the vast spaces thus thrown open and forming a broad ring in the middle of the town have not as yet been completely filled up with those new buildings and gardens which are to be there and which when there will join the outside city and the inside city together so as to make them into one homogeneous whole The work however is going on and if the war which has come and passed has not swallowed everything appertaining to Austria into its maw the ugly remnants of destruction will be soon carted away and the old glacis will be made bright with broad pavements and gilded railings and well built lofty mansions and gardens beautiful with shrubs and beautiful with turf also if Austrian patience can make turf to grow beneath an Austrian sky On an evening of September when there was still something left of daylight at eight o'clock two girls were walking together in the Burgplatz or large open space which lies between the city palace of the emperor and the gate which passes thence from the old town out to the new town Here at present stand two bronze equestrian statues one of the Archduke Charles and the other of Prince Eugene And they were standing there also both of them when these two girls were walking round them but that of the prince had not as yet been uncovered for the public There was coming a great gala day in the city Emperors and empresses archdukes and grand dukes with their archduchesses and grand duchesses and princes and ministers were to be there and the new statue of Prince Eugene was to be submitted to the art critics of the world There was very much thought at Vienna of the statue in those days
