Mesmerism And Magic:

Mesmerism and Magic Arthur Edward Waite, 2005-12-01 This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original. Due to its age, it may contain imperfections such as marks, notations, marginalia, and flawed pages. Because we believe this work is culturally important, we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting, preserving, and promoting the world's literature in affordable, high-quality modern editions that are true to the original work. Magic, Science, and Empire in Postcolonial Literature Kathleen Renk, 2012-03-29 This book examines the ways in which contemporary British and British postcolonial writers in the after-empire era draw connections between magic defined here as Renaissance Hermetic philosophy and science. Writers such as Tom Stoppard, Zadie Smith, and Margaret Atwood critique both imperial science or science used in service to empire and what Renk calls imperial science, a distortion of rational science which denies that reality is holistic and claims that nature can and should be conquered. In warning of the dangers of imperial science, these writers restore the connection between magic and science as they examine major shifts in scientific thinking across the centuries. They reflect on the Copernican Revolution and the historic split between magic and science, scrutinize Darwinism, consider the relationship between Victorian science and pseudo-science, analyze twentieth-century Uncertainty theories, reject bio-genetic engineering, call for a new approach to science that reconnects science and art, and ultimately endeavor to bring an end to the imperial age. Overall, these writers forge a new discourse that merges science with the arts and emphasizes a holistic philosophy, a view shared by both Hermetic philosophy and recent scientific theories such as chaos or complexity theory. Along with recent books that focus on the relationship between contemporary literature and science, this work focuses on contemporary British literature's critique of science and the ways in which postcolonial literature addresses the relationship between magic, science, and empire. Macphail's Edinburgh ecclesiastical journal and literary review, 1853 Magic and Mesmerism, 1843 ANIMAL MAGNETISM OR MESMERISM AND ITS PHENOMENA WILLIAM GREGORY, M.D., F.R.S.E., 1909 Mesmerists, Monsters, and Machines Martin Willis, 2006 Using key canonical science-fiction narratives, Mesmerists, Monsters, and Machines examines the intersection of the literary and scientific cultures of the 19th century. Victorian Occultism and the Making of Modern Magic A. Butler, 2011-01-05 The late Victorian period witnessed the remarkable revival of magical practice and belief. Butler examines the individuals, institutions, and literature associated with this revival and demonstrates how Victorian occultism provided an alternative to the tightening camps of science and religion in a social environment that nurtured magical beliefs. The Devil's Alphabet Kurt E. Koch, Formerly entitled Devil's Alphabet, this work provides a review of 47 forms of occult superstition, magic, fortune-telling, and spiritism. No Touching, No Spitting, No Praying Saloni Mathur, Kavita Singh, 2017-07-05 This volume brings together a range of essays that offer a new perspective on the dynamic history of the museum as a cultural institution in South Asia.
