Interpreting Islam Tamara Sonn, 1996-10-10 In this book Sonn provides the first English translation of The History of Intellectual Movements in Islam 1928 a seminal text of Arab modernism written by the Palestinian intellectual Bandali al Jawzi 1871 1942 In that book Jawzi offered the first Marxist interpretation of the history and development of Islamic thought The continuing importance of his work lies in Jawzi's critical method of reevaluating both European orientalist and classical Muslim accounts of Islamic history Fifty years before Edward Said's landmark Orientalism Jawzi identified the vested imperial interests as the weakness in both methodologies Sonn's translation brings to life this skillful and entertaining critique of Islamic history Her introduction places Jawzi's thought in context with both postmodern intellectuals and Muslim reformers who continue the struggle to apply Islamic principles to contemporary life An End to al-Qaeda Malcolm Nance, 2025-06-25 Osama Bin Laden is unquestionably the leader of the world's most deadly terrorist cult. He has perverted the teachings of Islam to create a fringe religious ideology, Bin Ladenism, where only al-Qaeda speaks for God. In his cult, suicide bombing is the highest form of worship, and the mass murder of Muslims proves one's devotion. Al-Qaeda's 9/11 attack on the United States was just a small part of Bin Laden's long-term strategy to win a civil war for control of Islam. By fighting his terrorists solely with bullets and bombs and ignoring his war on Islam, we have bolstered Bin Laden's recruiting efforts abroad, undermined civil liberties and economic security at home, and tarnished America's reputation internationally. Career intelligence officer Malcolm Nance proposes a quantum shift in how to eliminate al-Qaeda in less than twenty-four months while recreating America's reputation as a force for good around the world. His plan includes exposing al-Qaeda's mission to create a nuclear-armed terror emirate, incite a Muslim civil war, and eventually seize control of Islam. Challenging and breaking the perceived spiritual link between mainstream Islam and al-Qaeda's cultist ideology, attacking al-Qaeda fighters through precision intelligence and special operations missions thereby reducing the deaths of innocent civilians, reframing and restoring America's shattered image in the developing world in order to support the global counterterrorism and counterinsurgency campaign. An End to al-Qaeda is both a revolutionary blueprint for destroying al-Qaeda and a fierce critique of America's poorly executed war on Bin Laden's terrorists.

Making Waves Frederick Lau, Christine R. Yano, 2018-02-28 Musical sounds are some of the most mobile human elements crossing national cultural and regional boundaries at an ever-increasing pace in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Whole musical products travel easily though not necessarily intact via musicians, CDs, and earlier cassettes, satellite broadcasting, digital downloads, and streaming. The introductory chapter by the volume editors develops two framing metaphors: traveling music and making waves. The wave-making metaphor illuminates the ways that traveling music traverses flows of globalization and migration, initiating change and generating energy of their own. Each of the nine contributors further examines music, its songs, makers, instruments, auralities, aesthetics, and images as it crosses oceans, continents, and islands. In the process of landing in new homes, music interacts with older established cultural environments, sometimes in unexpected ways and with surprising results. They see these traveling musics in Hawai'i, Asia, and the Pacific as making waves that is not only riding flows of globalism but instigating ripples of change. What is the nature of those ripples? What constitutes some of the infrastructure for the wave itself? What are some of the effects of music landing on, transported to, or appropriated from distant shores? How does the Hawai'i-Asia-Pacific context itself shape and get shaped by these musical waves? The two poetic and evocative metaphors allow the individual contributors great leeway in charting their own course while simultaneously referring back to the influence of their mentor and colleague Ricardo D. Trimillos, whom they identify as the wave maker. The volume attempts to position music as at once ritual and entertainment, esoteric and exoteric, tradition and creativity within the cultural geographies of Hawai'i, Asia, and the Pacific. In doing so, they situate music at the very core of global human endeavors The Political Ideology of Hamas Michael Irving Jensen, 2008-12-18 Hamas is typically portrayed in the West as nothing more than a terrorist organisation Yet as Michael Irving Jensen discovers it also provides medical clinics kindergartens schools elderly care and football training to the population of the West Bank and Gaza Using a combination of interviews and participant observation Jensen examines how these forms of social engagement relate to the organisation's official ideology which is still characterised by extremism and violence The Political Ideology of Hamas is the first attempt to provide a multidimensional picture of this organisation by looking at how it is perceived by the leadership the rank and file and the ordinary Palestinians who come into contact with it By comparing the rhetoric of the leadership with the social reality Jensen opens up new ways of understanding Islamist movements in general Will I Be Killed Ahamkaari, Don't be Sad 4, 2003-01-01 Terrorist Recruitment, Propaganda and Branding Anna Kruglova, 2022-08-05 This book analyses the marketing techniques that terrorist organisations employ to encourage people to adopt their ideology and become devoted supporters The book's central thesis is that due to the development of digital technologies and social media terrorist groups are employing innovative marketing techniques and advertising strategies to foster an emotional connection with their audiences particularly those in younger demographics By conducting thematic and narrative analyses of Islamic State of Iraq and Syria ISIS propagandist magazines as well as looking at the group's online communities the book demonstrates that terrorist groups behave as commercial brands by establishing an emotional connection with their potential recruits Specifically groups and their potential supporters follow the logic of emotional choice The book emphasizes that while ISIS became the first group that discovered and benefited from the power of marketing it did not have a supernatural power and thus it is possible to find a response to it which is particularly important now The book eventually poses a question about whether terrorism has become the product of marketing in the same way as any mainstream consumer product is and asks what can we do to battle the appeal of marketing savvy terrorist groups This book will be of interest to students of terrorism studies radicalisation and propaganda communication and security studies
