Fiction Beyond Secularism Justin Neuman,2014-07-31 Modernist thinkers once presumed a progressive secularity with the novel replacing religious texts as society's moral epics Yet religion beginning with the Iranian revolution of 1979 through the collapse of communism and culminating in the singular rupture of September 11 2001 has not retreated quietly out of sight In Fiction Beyond Secularism Justin Neuman argues that contemporary novelists who are most commonly identified as antireligious among them Orhan Pamuk Salman Rushdie Ian McEwan Margaret Atwood Nadine Gordimer Haruki Murakami and J M Coetzee have defied assumptions and have instead written some of the most trenchant critiques of secular ideologies as well as the most exciting and rigorous inquiries into the legacies of the religious imagination As a result many readers or nonreaders on either side of the religious divide neglect the insights of works like The Satanic Verses Disgrace and Snow Fiction Beyond Secularism serves as a timely corrective

Nietzsche Was Probably Right: A Postcritical Assessment of the Christian Paradigm and Its Deity Steven Malinak,2014-07-13 For a variety of reasons recent literature that focuses on the rationality of belief in God and the viability of the Christian worldview fails to stimulate critical thinking in the general population of believers Nietzsche Was Probably Right succeeds where many of these other works miss the mark It educates rather than coerces it focuses on issues critically relevant to the vast majority of Christians most importantly it does not preach to the choir but instead offers a balanced objective comprehensive overview of the issues Its tone and inclusive unbiased approach welcomes nonbelievers and believers into this important conversation offering a perspective that will satisfy anyone seeking a critical understanding of the Christian faith and its deity
