En droit international de l'investissement le prisme de l'expropriation indirecte couvre une large catégorie de mesures telles que les réglementations qui n'impliquent pas de transfert de propriété mais aboutissent une grave interférence avec un investissement La définition des possessions indemnisables constitue une question extrêmement sensible située à la croisée des chemins entre la protection des droits des investisseurs et la préservation des prérogatives de l'Etat Cet ouvrage explore travers l'exemple de la réglementation environnementale le droit applicable cette notion controversée Il montre que l'approche traditionnelle reposant sur une dilution du concept d'expropriation n'est nullement appropriée et il contribue à clarifier l'étendue de la protection de l'investisseur sur le fondement du droit de la responsabilité internationale de l'Etat

In international investment law the prism of indirect expropriation includes a broad range of measures such as regulatory measures which do not involve a transfer of property but result in a serious interference with an investment The definition of compensable taking is a very sensitive issue situated at the crossroads between the protection of investors private rights and the safeguarding of the state's sovereign prerogatives This book explores through the example of environmental regulation the law applicable to this controversial topic It suggests that the traditional approach based on an extension of the concept of expropriation is inappropriate and it contributes to clarifying the scope of the international protection of the investor on the ground of the law of state responsibility Treaties and Other International Acts Series, 1946 Environmental Cooperation, GLOBE Program Tunisia, 2000 Annuaire européen Council of Europe/Conseil de l'Europe, Council of Europe, 1974-12
