Gold, Silver, and Bronze Jennifer Montagu, 1996 Roman baroque sculpture is usually thought of in terms of large scale statues in marble and bronze tombs or portrait busts Smaller bronze statuettes are overlooked and the extensive production of sculptural silver much of which is now lost but can be studied from drawings is omitted from the histories of art In these lectures Jennifer Montagu enriches our understanding of the sculpture of the period by investigating these works in metal the bronzes that adorn the great tabernacles which are a prominent feature of Roman churches the often gilded silver both secular and ecclesiastical and elaborately embossed display dishes She also looks at the production of medals an essential aspect of metal sculpture that is usually confined to specialist literature The book concentrates on selected pieces by such master sculptors as Bernini and leading metal workers such as Giovanni Giardini Making extensive use of archival documents and drawings Montagu examines the often tortuous relationship between the patrons and the artists and elucidates the relationship between those who provided the drawings or models and the craftsmen who executed the finished sculptures In this way she provides insights into the procedures of the workshops and at the same time opens our eyes to a new and fascinating area of sculpture

Creative Metal Sculpture: a Step-by-step Approach John D. Morris, 1971

The Afterlife of Greek and Roman Sculpture Lea Stirling, Troels Myrup Kristensen, 2016-06-27 For centuries statuary d cor was a main characteristic of any city sanctuary or villa in the Roman world However from the third century CE onward the prevalence of statues across the Roman Empire declined dramatically By the end of the sixth century statues were no longer a defining characteristic of the imperial landscape Further changing religious practices cast pagan sculpture in a threatening light Statuary production ceased and extant statuary was either harvested for use in construction or abandoned in place The Afterlife of Greek and Roman Sculpture is the first volume to approach systematically the antique destruction and reuse of statuary investigating key responses to statuary across most regions of the Roman world The volume opens with a discussion of the complexity of the archaeological record and a preliminary chronology of the fate of statues across both the eastern and western imperial landscape Contributors to the volume address questions of definition identification and interpretation for particular treatments of statuary including metal statuary and the systematic reuse of villa materials They consider factors such as earthquake damage late antique views on civic versus private uses of art urban construction and deeper causes underlying the end of the statuary habit including a new explanation for the decline of imperial portraiture The themes explored resonate with contemporary concerns related to urban decline as evident in post industrial cities and the destruction of cultural heritage such as in the Middle East

Ancient Indonesian Sculpture Marijke Klokke, 2022-07-11 Ancient Indonesian sculpture as yet a relatively unexplored area of research is discussed in this volume from various angles

The nine contributions originate from an international symposium at the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam Robert L Brown formulates a set of rules that account for the way Indian art was transformed when adopted in Southeast Asian regions Sara Schastok shows how the dating of Amaravati style bronzes was influenced by colonial thinking In comparing the northeast Indian and Javanese bronzes figurines Susan L Huntington concludes that although Javanese bronzes owe something to northeast Indian ones each group has its own distinctive characteristics Pauline Lunsingh Scheurleer's contribution stresses the Javanese aspects of Javanese bronzes Nandana Chutiwongs focuses on images of Avalokiteśvara in this manifestation as Great Compassionate Lord A fragment of a bronze ringed rattle leads A de Vries Robb to trace the development of this attribute of mendicant Buddhist monks from India over mainland Southeast Asia to Central and East Java Moving to the great Buddhist monument in Central Java the Borobudur its structure and meaning are given a completely new interpretation by John C Huntington A northeast Indian iconographic model is proposed by J A Schoterman for the famous images of Amoghapāśa Lokeśvara and his retinue in the East Javanese temple Candi Jago Finally Marijke J Klokke offers a new interpretation of the iconography of the East Javanese portrait statues

Polychrome Sculpture Johannes Taubert, 2016-02-15 In the decades since its initial publication in German in 1978 Polychrome Sculpture has come to be widely regarded as a watershed text on the making and meaning of European medieval and Baroque painted wood sculpture An early proponent of interdisciplinary research Johannes Taubert played a pioneering role in combining the rigorous scientific analysis of materials with a fuller understanding of form and function an approach that has led to the development of technical art history as practiced today Many of the essays in this volume apply such scientific techniques as microscopic analysis to an art historical understanding of Romanesque and late Gothic wood sculpture revealing that far from serving a merely decorative function the painted surface of these works was intricately connected to their meaning The paint layers on the sculptures for example which the author spent years documenting through close examination and analysis were intended to impart a heightened sense of reality to the life sized sculptures thereby enhancing the viewer's experience of worship Taubert believed it was crucial for conservators to understand this context before undertaking any treatments No other book offers such a focused subtle and interdisciplinary examination of the subject as Polychrome Sculpture This influential work is now available in English for the first time in a meticulous translation enhanced and updated by new color illustrations annotations to the original text and a new introduction
