Murmure Marchand:

Violence and the Female Imagination Paula Ruth Gilbert, 2006-03-31 In the past twenty years Quebec women writers including Aline Chamberland Claire D Suzanne Jacob and H l ne Rioux have created female characters who are fascinated with bold sexual actions and language cruelty and violence at times culminating in infanticide and serial killing Paula Ruth Gilbert argues that these Quebec feminist writers are re framing gender Violence and the Female Imagination explores whether these imagined women are striking out at an external other or harming themselves through acts of self destruction and depression Gilbert examines the degree to which women are imitating men in the outward direction of their anger and hostility and suggests that such tough women may be mocking men in their macho exploits of sexuality and violence She illustrates the ways in which Quebec female authors are feminizing violence or re envisioning gender in North American culture Gilbert bridges methodological gaps and integrates history sociology literary theory feminist theory and other disciplinary approaches to provide a framework for the discussion of important ethical and aesthetic questions Quebec National Cinema Bill Marshall, 2001 In Quebec National Cinema Bill Marshall tackles the question of the role cinema plays in Quebec s view of itself as a nation Surveying mostly fictional feature films Marshall demonstrates how Quebec cinema has evolved from the innovative direct cinema of the early 1960s into the diverse canvas of popular comedies glossy co productions and reworked auteur cinema of the postmodern 1990s He explores the faultlines of Quebec identity its problematic and contradictory relationship with France the question of Native peoples the influence of the cosmopolitan and pluralist city of Montreal and the encounters between sexuality gender and nation traced and critiqued in women s and queer cinemas In the first comprehensive theoretically informed work in English on Quebec cinema Marshall views his subject as neither the assertion of some unproblematic national wholeness nor a random collection of disparate voices that drown out or invalidate the question of nation Instead he shows that while the allegory of nation marks Quebec film production it also leads to a tension between textual and contextual forces between homogeneity and heterogeneity and between major and minor modes of being and identity Drawing on a broad framework of theory and particularly indebted to the work of Gilles Deleuze and F lix Guattari Quebec National Cinema makes a valuable contribution to debates in film studies on national cinemas and to the burgeoning interest in French studies in the culture and politics of la francophonie Bill Marshall is professor of Modern French Studies at the University of Glasgow He has written several books and numerous articles on film and Francophone culture Visions of America Since 1492 Deborah L. sections juxtaposing colonial negotiations with native Americans and the modern self perceptions of native born Americans The focus of the early part of the book is the vision of America that was formed through the process of colonization with its attendant impact upon wildlife landscapes and indigenous peoples a vision registered in visual images and written records as well as Western philosophical ethnographical and aesthetic ideals Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy
