Bohl, Gardiner Bump, 1964 This report summarizes the taxonomy and distribution of the sandgrouse family Pteroclididae in Europe Asia and Africa Two representatives the common Indian sandgrouse Pterocles exustus hindustan and the imperial or black bellied sandgrouse Pterocles orientalis are singled out for detailed consideration because trial releases of these into the western United States have been made or are contemplated Topics covered include descriptions habitats climatic requirements food and water general habits effect of predation reproductive capacity and diseases and parasites Also considered are their relation to agriculture and to other game species together with notes on the breeding rearing and trapping of these sandgrouse Seismotectonics of the East Mediterranean-Red Sea region Zakaria Hamimi, Károly Németh, Abdel-Rahman Fowler, Shoji Arai, José A. Peláez, Mostafa Toni, Rashad Sawires, 2025-06-03

This volume is considered as a unique book outlining new advances in seismotectonic research of the East Mediterranean Red Sea Region EMRSR. The dedicated chapters will outline the region in terms of tectonic segmentation kinematics and possible causes of it. It will provide state of art overview along strike variations in geometry and behavior of faulting, characteristics of the active tectonic zones, analysis of earthquake clustering features, crustal deformation constraining crustal velocity fields, relationship between strain rate and seismicity, paleoseismology as well as global and regional seismicity. There will be specific topics within the book dedicated to the probabilistic seismic hazard assessment of the EMRSR including its crustal stress field evolution and its implications for fault mechanics, earthquake source parameters and moment tensors and description of double coupled earthquake focal mechanism. Also earthquake induced deformational structures focusing on afterslip and spontaneous aseismic slip processes will provide a complete picture for the reader about this fascinating active region. Sections documenting the stress field variations and kinematics for diffuse microseismicity will also be developed. Other cutting edge research such as progressive failure spatiotemporal characteristics of seismicity that depends on accurate earthquake locations as well as relationship of global distribution to earthquake source geometry and tectonic origin provides up to date information within the EMRSR realm. The significance of the ambient noise level and site characterization specific to EMRSR and congruence and incongruence of active tectonic zones with normal plate kinematics will be shown in illustrative sections of this new book. The book also will explore the potential relationship of seismotectonics to sustainable development as a key societal aspect of seismotectonic research in an active convergent plate margin region such as the EMRSR.

Collision and Collapse at the Africa-Arabia-Eurasia Subduction Zone \ Douwe J. J. van Hinsbergen, Michael A. Edwards, Rob Govers, 2009. The Mediterranean and northern Arabian regions provide a unique natural laboratory to constrain geodynamics associated with arc-continent and continent-continent collision and subsequent orogenic collapse by analysing regional and temporal distributions of the various elements in the geological archive. This book combines thirteen new contributions that highlight timing and distribution of the Cretaceous to Recent evolution of the Calabrian-Carpathian-Aegean and Anatolian segments of the Africa-Arabia-Eurasia subduction zone. These are subdivided into five papers documenting the timing and kinematics of Cretaceous arc-continent collision and Eocene and Miocene continent-continent collision in Anatolia with westward extrusion of Anatolia as a result. Eight papers provide an overview and new data from stratigraphy, structure, metamorphism and magmatism covering the geological consequences of the largely Neogene collapse that characterizes the segments of interest in response to late stage reorganization of the subduction zone and the roll back and break off of segments of the subducting slab.
